THE BATTALION

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1954

Off To A Good Start

The civilian students are well on their way to establishing a student program of their own here, if yesterday's election is an indication.

A high percentage of non-regs turned out to vote for dormitory representatives, which was the first step toward forming the Civilian Council.

The council will be elected from the representatives chosen yesterday.

Of course, it was easy for the civilian students to vote—ballots were handed out in the dormitories, instead of having a central voting place, as in general student elections.

A lot of credit for the success of the election goes to the housemasters and the personnel of the student affairs office, who did the mechanical work.

But still, the students themselves showed an interest in the election, which means that they are interested in bettering their life here.

They aren't through yet; there is a lot of hard work ahead before the civilian student life program is on its feet. The civilian student council has to be set up and operating, and here again the students will have to show their interest.

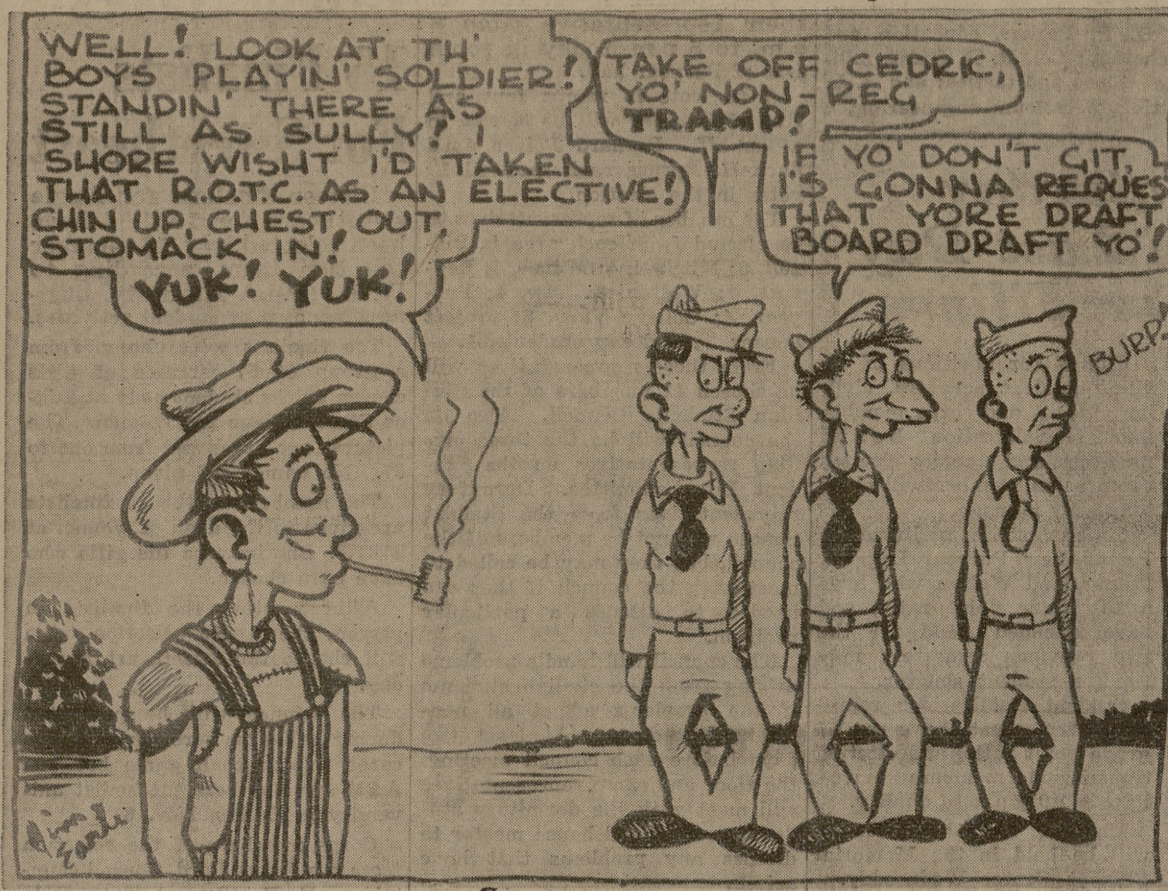

But they're off to a good start.

In Memorium

The Battalion would like to add its condolences on the death of E. W. Harrison, board of directors member. He worked for A&M for many years, often without credit. Many improvements here are the result of his efforts, and the school is a better place because he served it well.

Talented Frosh Win Opener

Scores in Each Quarter Show Squad Has Depth

Scoring in every quarter, A&M's Fish footballers, all six teams of them, showed that better days are on the way as they smashed to a 31-6 win last night over University of Houston's freshmen.

About 5,000 fans came to Kyle field to see the results of one of the most intensive recruiting jobs in A&M's athletic history and those that braved the heavy rain that fell off and on weren't disappointed.

Coach Paul Bryant used 64 players to Houston's 32, and Aggie supporters will be saying "wait 'til next year" with excellent reason after last night's display of power and speed.

Five different players scored the five A&M touchdowns — fullback Ken Hall on a 62 yard burst over right tackle, halfback Donald Grant on a 1-yard center smash, halfback John Crowe on a beautiful 60 yard return of an intercepted pass, halfback Ed Dudley on a 23 yard end run and end Dean Meeks, who recovered a blocked punt in the Houston end zone.

Dudley Leading Rusher

Dudley was the game's leading rusher, with 72 yards in 12 tries. Hall traveled 62 yards in 3 carries, and Crowe went 53 in 4. The Fish ripped through Kitten defense for 230 yards on the ground and intercepted 5 of the 12 passes Houston threw. Houston got 83 yards on the ground and 41 yards on two completed passes.

First downs were 10 to 8 in favor of the Fish.

Dudley and center Bobby Holder, who both played outstanding games, must have made assistant coach Tom Tipps feel good. Tipps coached them last year at Pampa.

A&M's starting backfield of Jimmy Wright at quarterback, Crowe and Dudley at halfbacks and Hall at fullback must have brought smiles to the faces of Bryant and his assistants. The starting line of ends Bobby Marks and Roger Hobson, tackles Jim Stanley and A. L. Simmons, guards Norman Noble and Paul Lillard, and center Gary Martin can take their share of credit, too.

Master At Split-T

Wright looked like a master of the split-T running attack last night. His ballhandling and dunning on optional plays were beautiful, and his timing and execution on the straight ahead slants at the tackles by Crowe, Hall and Dudley looked perfect.

Last but not least for the Fish was guard Howell Trimble of Hanceville, Ala., who has only one hand. He played a linebacker on defense and right guard on offense. Bobby Conrad, second team quarterback, showed fine prowess on keepers and was a great punter.

Hall's opening touchdown came

2 minutes, 45 seconds into the game. He took the ball from Wright, shot into the secondary over right tackle and outran everybody to the goal. Dudley kicked the extra point, the only successful one of the game.

Houston scored late in the quarter, Sammy Blount passing 11 yards to half Tommy Hall ending a 61 yard drive. A&M drove 60 yards in 11 tries in the second period, Dudley starting it with a 26 yard punt return. He got 22 on the first play, then Crowe smashed for 11. Conrad got 9 to the 1, and Grant scored.

Crowe intercepted Blount's pass on the Fish 40, got blocks from

Civil Engineering Wives Club Meets

Mrs. J. B. Baty, 600 Jersey, was hostess for the first meeting for the school year of the Civil Engineering Wives Club Wednesday night.

Mrs. Baty and Mrs. L. A. DuBose are sponsors of the club.

Officers for the year were elected. They are Mrs. Tommy Gingles, president; Mrs. Ray Meyer, secretary; Mrs. John Mackin, vice-president; Mrs. Shirley Hedrick, treasurer; Mrs. David Edwards, reporter; and Mrs. Kenneth Cain, parliamentarian.

Nineteen members and one guest, Mrs. S. R. Wright, were served cookies and punch by the hostess.

The club formed plans to meet the first and third Wednesday of each month at the Memorial Student Center.

Alpha Zeta Sets Monday Meeting

Alpha Zeta will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Memorial Student Center.

The honorary agricultural society will outline their plans for the year. F. E. (Sonny) Tutt, A&M chapter chancellor, will give a report on the biennial convale.

The Arts and Sciences council will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the senate chamber.

The council will hear the financial report, discuss the honors day program for next spring and fix the date for election of council officers.

Town Hall Schedule Set For Year

The Town Hall schedule for the year has been definitely set, with the first program next Tuesday.

Some of the dates on the All-College calendar are incorrect, since the calendar had to be prepared in advance, said Bill Johnson, Town Hall manager.

Here is the revised schedule:

Sauter-Finegan Orchestra, Oct. 5; The Teltschiks, Oct. 26; Marge and Gower Champion and the Voices of Walter Schuman, Dec. 14;

The Houston Symphony, Jan. 6; Fred Waring's Orchestra and Chorus, Feb. 9; The Serenaders, Feb. 28; and The Caine Mutiny Court Martial, March 24.

FFA Votes To Have Auxiliary Group

For the first time in the history of the A&M collegiate chapter of the Future Farmers of America, there will be an FFA Wives club here.

Members of the chapter voted to form an auxiliary unit at the first meeting of the current semester Tuesday. They also voted to create a Greenhand chapter for freshmen.

A senior agricultural education student will be sent to the National Student Teachers conference in Kansas City, Mo. The student will be selected by the agricultural education department.

Charles Edwards, senior from Troy, is president of the chapter.
