Aggies Have Opportunity To Prove Their Sincerity

A&M students again this week will have the chance to show they are working for the best year in the school's history when they visit Houston for the football game.

Each man will be charged with the responsibility of conducting himself in a way that will bring credit upon himself and his school.

Two weeks ago, Aggies who were on the Southern Methodist university campus drew praise from officials of both colleges for the way they avoided fights. This weekend could bring incidents unless the students who go to Houston remember they are representatives of A&M.

Five students from the University of Houston visited A&M last night as a welcoming committee to bolster relations between the two schools.

It is now up to the Aggies to prove their sincerity in making A&M greater by conducting themselves as gentlemen while they are in Houston.

Alarming Statistics

Col. H. R. Brayton, director of the Fireman's Training school, announced some alarming statistics recently.

He said that the College Station area had 16 volunteer firemen and two fire trucks to protect about $46 million worth of property and more than 8,000 persons.

The local fire department has a good record, but Brayton also said that no fire department, no matter how good it is, can adequately protect its community.

That seems to throw the main burden of fire prevention right back at the people.

As a little Arkansas school girl said in a fire prevention essay, "The three main causes of fire are men, women, and children."

The next time you use fire, in any form, think about what a fire will cost you, and be careful.

section be on a first-come, first-served basis, rather than by classification.

It was decided to ask the newly-formed Civilian Student Council to decide how the civilian students would be seated within their section.

Care of Reveille

In other business, the senate decided to form a committee to investigate who would take care of Reveille, A&M's mascot.

Quoting a letter from Bennie Zinn, head of the student affairs department, Ramsey said that the band had not been feeding the dog, and that some definite arrangement had to be made for her care. The senate also certified the Aggie Sweetheart, Miss Judy Nuhn of TSCW, as the official A&M representative for all functions for which A&M is invited to send a representative.

The group said that if Miss Nuhn was unable to attend the runners-up in the sweetheart selection would be asked to represent the school.

The question of expense money for the Sweetheart was referred to the senate budget committee.

Another committee was formed to work with the senior class in investigating the problem of lights left on during the Silver Taps memorial ceremonies.

The agenda item on "crowding of Memorial Student Center facilities by short course visitors" was dropped after a short discussion.

B. F. (Buddy) Vance jr. was selected as the senate's representative on the MSC Council.

Five student visitors from the University of Houston spoke to the senate at the end of the meeting, welcoming the Aggies to Houston for the game this week.

handed to a large extent by upperclassmen under the guidance of selected air force officers.

Intercollegiate athletics, intramural athletics and other programs will provide opportunity for competition and the development of leadership and sportsmanship.

Graduates are granted a baccalaureate degree by the academy.

The Site

On June 24, 1954, Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott announced the selection of a site eight miles north of Colorado Springs, Colo., as the permanent location of the academy. He also announced the selection of Denver, Colo., as the temporary site of the academy until the permanent site can be used.

The permanent site is 15,100 acres of ranchland in El Paso county, eight miles north of Colorado Springs, and just east of Pike National Forest. The site is 60 miles south of Denver. Climate in the area is semi-arid with cool summers and moderate winters.

Congress has authorized $126,000,000 for land acquisition, planning, design, and construction of the academy.

During their four years at the academy, cadets will be paid $81.12 a month plus six cents a mile travel allowance going to and from school at vacation and holiday time.
