Draft Rules Made Tighter For Graduates

New selective service regulations recommend that draft boards tighten up on deferments for students accepted for admission to graduate schools in 1955.

A graduate student accepted for admission to a class commencing on or after Jan. 1, 1955, can be deferred if he:

- Was in the upper one-fourth scholastically in his last full-time undergraduate academic year, or
- Has attained a score of at least 80 on the selective service college qualification test.

At present a graduate student must be in the upper one-half of his class or have made a score of at least 75 on the test.

The new regulations recommend that graduate students who begin their work both before and after Jan. 1, 1955 be allowed to complete their work as long as they are meeting degree requirements.

System To Exhibit Research at Fair

Sunday, Oct. 17, will be A&M System day at the State Fair in Dallas.

The A&M System has teamed up with the fair officials to present huge color exhibits showing contributions of research by the system to all areas of the state. The exhibits demonstrate how research has made possible the development of Texas agriculture into a two billion dollar industry.

A 14-foot colored map located just inside the entrance to the agriculture building shows the location of soil types in Texas and a profile of each. Information on every extension district in the state is included in the exhibit, which is called "Research for Texas Agriculture." Prairie View A&M and the Texas 4-H clubs also have exhibits.

In the general exhibit, 90-foot panoramas and farm equipment portray progress made in cotton, the state's principal crop, and in grain sorghum, the top grain crop.

Also included in the displays are mechanization methods and strain improvements in crops, development of better livestock breeds, progeny testing in beef, brush control developments and techniques, and poultry improvement practices.

Monk Vance of A&M's Agricultural Information office is now in Dallas with the exhibit.

Walker Elected Club President

Bruce Walker was elected president of the Hill County club at a meeting recently in Milner hall.

Other officers are Charles Cyfert, vice-president; Charles Edwards, secretary; Thomas Shotwell, treasurer, and Warren Grant, reporter.

Lions Club Hears Wally Moon Monday

Wally Moon, All-Southwest conference A&M baseball star recently named National League Rookie of the Year, spoke Monday to the College Station Lions club in the Memorial Student Center.

Moon discussed his first year in big league baseball and then held a 30-minute question and answer session with the club.

Also during the meeting, Dr. Mack Prescott of the biochemistry department was elected tail twister for the coming year, and Dr. Bill Boney of the School of Veterinary Medicine was elected assistant tail twister. The club voted to operate the dunking machine at the Band Boosters carnival Oct. 23, and to sell Christmas trees in December.

Dr. Carlton Lee of Bryan, secretary of division 263 of Lions International, initiated six new members into the club. They were

'Who Tossed the Ball?' - - - Question on Game Unanswered

TCU Game Ticket Sales End Friday

Student date tickets for the A&M-Texas Christian university football game here Saturday afternoon are now on sale at the athletic department.

The tickets will remain on sale until 5 p.m. Friday. Students buying date tickets must present their athletic ticket and their identification card.

Students and student date tickets for the Baylor university game in Waco Oct. 23 will go on sale at 8 a.m. Thursday and remain on sale through Wednesday, Oct. 20.

Stories Conflict On Ag-UH Game

By JERRY WIZIG
Battalion Sports Editor

"Who tossed the ball into the end zone?" is still the $64 question today after the oh-so-close 10-7 loss to University of Houston Saturday night.

After the 42,000 fans who filed into Rice stadium caught their breath, they started arguing about what really happened in that last minute. Today you can get any version you want, depending on which team you support.

Aggie coaches said Monday their movies of the game don't show the controversial ball-tossing episode. Head Coach Paul Bryant, with a no-matter-what-happened-we-still-lost attitude, flatly refused to discuss the incident. He is primarily concerned with getting his team "up" for their

MSC Council Votes For Article Changes

The Memorial Student Center Council last night voted to adopt the proposed changes in the constitution which were made necessary by the new organization of the college.

Changes involved were mostly concerned with changing of the wording in articles which referred to the MSC Board, which has been replaced by the MSC Council, now directly responsible to the academic council.

In the brief meeting, Jules Vieaux reported the film society took in some $50 more than the council budget provided and that the surplus would be used in booking additional films.

Wayne Stark, MSC director and council secretary, said that about 60 tickets had been sold for the Great Issues series but he hoped for an eventual total sale of 300 non-student tickets.

The recommendation by Doug Krueger that the bridge committee be continued as a committee of the games group was questioned by

Arts and Sciences Meets Tuesday

The regular fall meeting of the School of Arts and Sciences will be Tuesday, Oct. 19, at 4 p.m. in the Biological Sciences building.

A faculty panel will discuss the liberal arts in the college curriculum, building the School of Arts and Sciences as a degree-granting school and improving coordination among the departments.

The panel will be composed of T. W. Leland, Dr. F. E. Jensen, Dr. C. C. Doak, and Dr. A. F. Chalk. Dr. Stewart Morgan will be chairman.

The program was prepared by the advisory committee, with D. D. Burchard as chairman.

Southwest conference lid-lifter with TCU Saturday afternoon at Kyle field.

A&M quarterback Elwood Kettler, now the SWC leader in total offense, said Monday it was a Cougar lineman who threw the ball into the end zone. Kettler was backed by a reliable source who said he was on the 5-yard line on the sideline and saw the Cougar toss the football into the air.

Another version Monday had a Houston player doing the heave-ho, but termed it accidental, saying the player thought Kettler's dive from the one yard line had run out the clock. However, if the Cougar tossed the ball intentionally, the clock should have been stopped.

NCAA rules say, "The referee may order the game clock started or STOPPED whenever, in his opinion, either team is trying to conserve or CONSUME playing time by tactics OBVIOUSLY unfair."

Monday afternoon a sports editor called and said he had seen the University of Houston game movies and that they showed an A&M player throwing the ball away.

That last quarterback sneak of Kettler's also aroused a lot of protest from Aggie fans, who contend that Kettler jammed his way over the goal, then was pushed back by the Houston line. Kettler himself said he couldn't tell whether he was over or not. "There was an awful big stack of players there," he said.

After it was retrieved, the ball was put down about six inches from the goal with about seven seconds to play. Just as the gun sounded, Kettler got the ball and was tackled by a Houston player. Bryant rushed into the middle of a crowd of Aggie and Houston players and fans who poured on to the field

Rue Pinalle Will Feature Dancing Girls

Rue Pinalle, the Memorial Student Center's French-style nightclub, will start its season Friday night with a dance and a floor show featuring 12 dancing girls.

The girls, all from Mrs. Mildred France's School of Personalized Singing in Houston, will make this the biggest floor show in Pinalle's three-year history, said Jerry Schnepf, co-manager of the show.

On the floor show will be a can-can line, solo dances, and an apache dance.

Ernie Martelino and his combo will play for dancing, beginning at 8:30 p.m. and ending in time for the midnight yell practice.

The games area of the MSC near the bowling alleys, will be transformed into the night club for the evening. Soft drinks will be served.

An added feature this year will be two cigarette girls, Sorita Colson and Avon Burkhalter, Schnepf said.

Schnepf and Edmund Saad are co-managers of Rue Pinalle.

Non-Farm Increase

Non-farm employment in the College Station-Bryan area increased during Sept. to 12,125 according to the Bryan office of the Texas Employment commission. Retailers and service establishments led the way in adding workers during the month.

Local Kids Get Discount For Circus

College Station and Bryan kids will get a chance to attend the Shrine circus in Houston at a reduced rate.

A special train will take children from this area to the circus Nov. 5 for $2.25, which includes the train ticket and the admission to the circus.

The Brazos Valley Shrine club is making the arrangements for the trip. This club includes College Station, Bryan, Hearne and Navasota.

They want to know as soon as possible how many from here will be going so they can complete the arrangements. Children can tell their school teachers, and the school teachers will pass the information to the club.

The train will leave here about 11 a.m. and return about 7:30 p.m. Parents are invited to make the trip too, at an all-inclusive price of $4.25.

Teachers and Shriners from this area will also go along as chaperons. Local superintendents have given permission for the students to be absent from school that day.

Shriners working on the trip are Edward Madely, Dr. H. R. Harrison, J. Cameron Webb, Maj. H. O. (Hub) Johnson, B. F. Liles, G. W. Schlesselman, G. B. (Whity) Vance, Don R. Dale, and Ran Boswell.

Recital Series Begins Wednesday

The Memorial Student Center Recital series will present its first performance Wednesday.

The University of Houston trio—piano, violin, and cello—will play. The performance will be in the MSC ballroom at 8 p.m.

All students who have paid the student activity fee have a season ticket to the series. It is a part of the Great Issues ticket.

Individual performance tickets and season tickets will be available at the MSC main desk this week. Individual tickets can also be purchased at the door.

Weather Today

Continued cloudy with possibility of thunderstorms and rain showers tomorrow. High yesterday was 92, low was 70.

LIKE THIS—Sallie Puddy, center, demonstrates the finer points of twirling to Carol Butler, left, and Mildred Dew. The three girls are majorettes at A&M Consolidated high school and will perform Friday night when the Tigers meet Katy here.
