

Mess Hall

Peniston has had many famous guests. Twice he has served President Eisenhower. He also had the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt accompanied by Jim Farley, in the dining hall. Several four- and five-star generals have been guests.

Still he considers his job well done when he hears the call resound through the dining room for more "bullneck." That's any cut of meat in the language of the Texas Aggie.

Amendment

The pay of the legislators from $10 a day for the first 120 days and $5 a day for the rest of the session to $25 a day for the first 120 days only.

The 1936 constitutional amendment election brought the salaries up to the present level. The amendment to be voted on specifies that the legislature cannot lower any of these salaries.

No. 6: Toll Roads

Amendment number six would take the state out of the toll road business.

It would prohibit the state from assuming financial responsibility for the construction, maintenance, or operation of any toll roads in the state.

In other words, the state could not back a toll road, thereby going into debt if the road loses money.

There are two toll roads being built in Texas now—The Texas turnpike, from Houston to Dallas, and the Sam Houston turnpike, from San Antonio to Dallas.

This amendment was proposed on the principle that state tax funds should not be used for anything that is not open to all the people.

(The last five of the amendments will be discussed in tomorrow's Battalion.)
