

Ag Pass Defense, Best in U.S., Gets Long Drilling for Bears

The nation's best pass defense meets the best passer in the Southwest conference Saturday, so the Aggies had another long drill on aerial defense yesterday.

A&M's pass defense, first in the country, has given up just 154 yards on 16 of 47 completions, an average of 30.8 yards a game.

Baylor's Billy Hooper is way out in front of the conference's passers with a record of 23 completions in 42 tries for 393 yards. His nearest rival, Duane Nutt of SMU, trails by nearly 100 yards but has played in only three games. A 20-minute scrimmage between the first team and a freshman eleven at the end of practice highlighted Tuesday's drill, last heavy session of the week for the Cadets.

Today the varsity is due to concentrate on smoothing offensive plays and its kicking game.

Defense against running plays also got a thorough going-over yesterday. A team of second and third stringers scrimmaged a Fish team, and Coach Paul Bryant appeared more pleased with the showing of the reserves than with any other phase of the session.

Bryant said, "I thought the last bunch moved pretty well. The first bunch couldn't score against the freshmen, and the Baylor freshmen beat ours 38-14, so they must be about 38 points better than our varsity."

How did the defense that will be up against the SWC's leading offense look? "I doubt if our defense looked as good as it did Monday," said Bryant. "So many times they (the freshmen) broke clear."

Asked if the Cadets show any sign of a letdown for Baylor after the loss to TCU, Bryant said, "There isn't a senior on this squad that has played on a team that's beaten Baylor. (A&M last defeated the Bears in 1949.) If they don't look like they want to give everything they have Saturday, then I don't want them in my starting lineup."

In their five games, the Bears, led by Hooper, have averaged 345.8 yards per game, tops in the conference. Baylor, however, has won only three of its games, largely because opponents have averaged 277.2 yards a game.

Hooper has had only one pass intercepted this year. He completed 9 of 18 for 244 yards and three touchdowns last week against Washington, scored one himself and was named to the United Press Backfield of the Week.

Bill Mount Wins Two Events In Swim Meet, Sets Record

Billy Mount of Milner hall set a new record in the 300-foot freestyle finals for upperclassmen in intramural swimming last night with a time of 58.6 seconds. Mount also won the 200-foot backstroke event.

In other upperclassmen events, Kirkpatrick had the best time in the 100-foot backstroke, D Infantry won the 400-foot relay, and Law hall won the 300-foot medley relay.

In upperclassmen diving finals, Broker, Law hall, won first place, followed by Lewis, Squadron 6;

Jones, Squadron 5; Moran, Squadron 11; Hudson, Squadron 17 and Mitchell, A Ordnance.

Middleton, Squadron 2, had the best time in the finals of the 300 foot freestyle event for freshmen, Barlow, Squadron 16, the best time for the 200-foot breaststroke, Frese, B Engineers, the best time in the 100-foot backstroke. In the 400-foot relay, Squadron 6 had the best time, and in the 300-foot medley relay, Squadron 17 had the best time.

In the freshmen diving finals,

Gard, B Infantry, took first place, followed by Godfrey, A Chemical; Smith, C AAA; Beasley, Squadron 5; Simons, Squadron 9; and Forrester, Squadron 25.

Final team results in the upperclassmen division were: Law hall, first place, followed in order by B Infantry, Squadron 7, Milner hall, and Squadron 17.

Final team results in the freshmen division were: Squadron 17, first place, followed by Squadrons 16 and 6, both tied for second, Squadron 2 and B Engineers.

B Infantry romped to a 44-12 victory over Squadron 5 in upperclassmen basketball, while Squadron 11 won over Squadron 8, 11-10; A Chemical over Squadron 13, 33-27; A Infantry over Squadron 12, 17-11; and A Quartermaster over Squadron 10, 29-2.
