

HI, SCHOOL

Ann Fleming was crowned homecoming queen at half-time ceremonies last Friday night. She was presented with a bouquet of roses, an autographed football and a silver crown by George Litton and Travis Englebrecht, co-captains of the Tiger team.

The princesses, Ann Beaty and Ann Cleland, were presented corsages as were the four leaders, the twirlers, and the drum major.

Pictures made for the annual arrived and were distributed yesterday in home room meeting. The usual comments ensued, but did not hamper the invariable trading.

The student council has begun work to relieve conditions in the school cafeteria. At present the lunch periods are not staggered enough to eliminate a long waiting line.

A committee composed of Eugenia Rush, George Litton, Jerry Oden and Betsy Burchard has been delegated to discuss the situation with Superintendent Richardson and offer suggestions.

Members of Consolidated's FHA Chapter will attend a district IV meeting in Caldwell Saturday. District officers and area and state nominees will be elected. The Consolidated chapter will be in charge of registration.

Despite unfavorable weather which caused the cancellation of several attractions and cut down on the crowd, the Band Boosters netted around $400 on their carnival Saturday.

The official band picture for the community birthday calendar was taken yesterday. The picture, together with the listings, were sent in this morning so that the calendars will be available early.

The brick bases for two outside water fountains have been laid. They are located near the exit of the auditorium and should be quite popular after spring assemblies.

The new ping pong tables have proved quite popular with students and faculty alike. Even Dr. Richardson and high school secretary Dona Logan have been caught giving the paddles a workout.

Copies of the high school student handbook are being mailed out to parents. The purpose of this move is to better acquaint them with the policies and schedules of the school. The handbook was revised by the student council last year and will undergo another revision this year.
