Best Foot Forward

Texas A&M will put its best foot forward this weekend, with several thousand students serving as ambassadors to Dallas.

Aggies will be in Dallas for three days, and everyone will know they're there—you can't miss Aggies.

And the people of Dallas and north Texas will judge A&M by the Aggies they see this weekend, even if they see only one or two.

A&M has a good mark on its record because of the conduct of several cadets after the A&M-Oklahoma A&M football game in Dallas.

Although threatened on the SMU campus, the cadets behaved "like perfect gentlemen", according to the SMU students who saw the incident.

This is the kind of conduct that makes A&M proud of its students, and the state of Texas proud of its school.

No More, Please

Silver Taps is one of A&M's most beautiful traditions, but three of them in two months is too many.

Once again the Aggies will be leaving the campus en masse, this time driving 180 miles through probable bad weather.

Unless the drivers take extra care, next week will bring another Silver Taps.

Lightfoot Elected Club President

Larry Lightfoot was elected president of the Wise county club.

Other officers are Charles Cocanougher, vice president; Tom Syler, secretary-treasurer; George Wise, reporter; and Bonnie Cocanougher, social chairman.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 tomorrow night at 4000 College main, apartment 16.

plays and also ran through their own offense.

Today Head Coach Paul Bryant probably will send the squad through a light workout stressing punt coverage, extra points and offense.

Barring last minute changes, A&M probably will open Saturday's game with Bennie Sinclair and Gene Stallings at ends, Larry Winkler and Bill Schroeder at tackles, Ray Barrett and Norb Ohlendorf at guards, Lloyd Hale at center, Kettler at quarterback, Joe Schero and Don Watson at halfbacks and Don Koehlik at fullback.

Barrett and Sinclair played 60 minutes against Arkansas, and Kettler didn't go out until the last series of downs in the final minute.

Officers Elected For Foundation

Raleigh Hortenstine, Dallas industrialist, was re-elected for a third term as president at the 10th annual meeting of the A&M Research Foundation.

Other officers re-elected are Gibb Gilchrist, research engineer of the A&M system, vice president; C. A. Roeber, business manager of A&M, secretary-treasurer; and A. M. Kahan of College Station, executive director. Carrell M. Gaines of San Antonio remains attorney for the non-profit corporation.

H. B. Zachary, San Antonio contractor, was introduced as a new trustee. New councilors are Howard Tellepsen, Houston contractor; John C. Burns, Fort Worth broker and rancher; K. A. Anderson of Palestine, president of East Texas Chamber of Commerce; and B. S. Estes, cotton and oil man of Pecos.

Kahan reported to the assembly on the Foundation's operations during the past year, amounting to more than $850,000. This included completion of 19 projects, initiation of 22 new projects and current activity on 58 works.

November Cruise Set for Jakkula

The A. A. Jakkula, A&M Research foundation oceanographic research vessel, will be used in November to make a detailed study of the ocean floor in the Galveston-Port Arthur area.

Core samples will be taken during the cruise for examination of the geologic structure of the submarine sediments of the area, according to the oceanography department.

The survey will be divided into the following five-day cruises: Nov. 2-7; Nov. 10-15; Nov. 18-23.

Flax County Club Elects Mueller

Allen Mueller was elected president of the Flax county club at a meeting last week.

Other officers elected were Wayne Dirks, vice president; Sam Curtis, secretary; Russ Goodale, social secretary; Bill Campbell, treasurer; Leon Curtis, reporter; Elroy Villa, parliamentarian; and Marvin Kolinek, sergeant at arms. The club will meet the first Thursday of every month.
