Aggie-Ex Gets National Loop Rookie of Year

NEW YORK—(AP)—Wally Moon, the kid who filled a man's job for the St. Louis Cardinals, is the National League Rookie of the Year.

The 24-year-old outfielder was put on the spot from the start by the Cards, who two days before the season opened decided the time had come to replace their long-time right fielder, Enos Slaughter. Moon was the lad they picked to take over.

He rose to the occasion from the start, slamming a home run as leadoff man in the opening game. He kept up that kind of performance all season, finishing with 293 hits, scoring 106 runs and batting a respectable .304.

He collected 17 of 24 first-place votes in the balloting by the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America. The other seven votes were distributed among three other yearlings with Ernie Banks, Chicago Cubs' shortstop, the runner-up with four of them.

Two Milwaukee first-year men, pitcher Gene Conley and outfielder Hank Aaron, finished three, four.

Blue-Gray Contest Offers Many Stars

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—(AP)—A fancy collection of college backs and ends whose combined efforts piled up more than five miles of yardage this season will perform here Christmas Day in the Blue-Gray gridiron show.

And unless they fall far below their proven efficiency, the All-Stars from the North and South will put on a passing and running demonstration rivaling anything witnessed before in the 16-year history of the traditionally wide-open game.

The inter-sectional contest will be televised NBC for the first time, and that alone is an inducement for the 48 visiting players to put on the most spectacular performance they know how.

Collectively, the vengeful Yankee backs and flankmen and their customarily victorious Southern rivals accounted for more than 8,800 yards in passing, rushing and pass-receiving this year.

BEAN-POLE SHARPSHOOTER—Don Boldebuck, the University of Houston's 7 foot 1/4 inch center, stands between two of his six-foot buddies, Jack Bell and Lupe Lopez. Boldebuck's 31.3 average for three non-conference games made him a threat to set a new Missouri Valley conference record.
