

Cadets Play SMU in Dallas, Fish Meet Tyler Here Tonight

A&M takes on its toughest basketball assignment of the year tonight when it meets high scoring SMU in Dallas in its third Southwest conference game of the season.

Fans here still can see basketball, however, the Fish playing Tyler junior college at 7:30 p.m. in White coliseum. There will be no admission charge.

After their hard-fought 62-59 win over Arkansas here Saturday night in an upset, a 10-man Aggie squad left by train this morning. Following a short workout yesterday, coach John Floyd said he probably will start the same five that opened the Arkansas game.

That will put Roger Harvey and Lee Smith at guards, Bill Brophy and John Fortenberry at forwards, and George (Spider) Mehaffey at center.

SMU, highest scoring team in the conference and figured to battle the TCU for the SWC title, will probably have 6-8 Jim Krebs at center, Art Barnes and Ronnie Morris at guards, and Joel Krog and Larry Showalter at forwards.

In tonight's home game, the Fish will open with Bryan Sutherland and J. C. Smith at guards, Willard Hutto and Fritzie Connley at forwards and Ted Dockery at center. Top players for Tyler are 6-4½ Russell Boone, Milton Williams and 6-6 Bert Fountain.

The Cadets lack the all-around scoring ability of the Methodists and do not have an experienced "big" man to cope with Krebs. Floyd probably will put 6-4 Mehaffey on Krebs and Harvey on Barnes, a fine outside shooter.

Saturday night, Harvey did an outstanding defensive job on Jerold Barnett, holding him to one field goal before fouling out. Only a sophomore, Harvey already is one of the best defensive men in the conference.

Fortenberry, in addition to scoring 19 points, defended excellently, holding Buddy Smith to 13. Mehaffey, guarding Walt Butler, held him to one field goal, made 6 of 12 shots himself and gathered 10 rebounds.

The Cadets led 33-23 at the half and held 12 point leads five times in the second half. Terry Day and Buddy Smith then sparked a rally, and Butler's layup tied it 59-59 with 1:54 to play. Twenty seconds later, Brophy sank a free throw after a foul by Butler.

Arkansas passed the ball for about 60 seconds, trying for a cinch basket, then Mehaffey intercepted a pass to Butler in the pivot with 30 seconds left. Smith sank two free throws with 18 seconds to go as the Razorbacks tried desperately to get the ball.

Smooth-passing, sharp-shooting Somerville ended A&M Consolidated's two-year reign, thumping Tomball 69-47 for the title of the ninth annual Kiwanis-A&M Consolidated basketball tourney last weekend.

The Tigers, tourney champs in 1953-54, easily downed Fairfield 64-47 for the consolation championship.

Fairfield's Joe Lane provided the biggest individual show of the tourney, however, flooding in 51 points in his team's 75-51 win over Navasota in the loser's semifinals.

Somerville advanced to the finals by defeating Navasota 61-55 in the first round Friday and Hempstead 73-38. Tomball earned a berth by beating Consolidated 32-29 and Sealy 51-40.

Consolidated, after its opening loss, defeated Allen academy high school 72-23, running up a 42-8 lead at the half.

After leading only 29-25 at half-time in the title game, Somerville pulled steadily ahead in the third quarter. With 5:30 left, Pyle tied it at 31-31 for Tomball, then Somerville spurred to a 45-37 lead at the end of the period.
