Wildlife Management Head Does No Hunting, Fishing

The "man behind the gun" of the Game Warden school at A&M doesn't do any hunting or fishing himself. Not in the accepted sense, that is. All of his time in field and stream is devoted to the collection of specimens, rare or well-known.

No Bloodmobile Visit Planned

The bloodmobile scheduled to visit the campus March 2 will not be here, Harry Boyer of the Office of Student Affairs announced yesterday.

"The college has participated in the blood program which was set up to provide for defense needs in accordance with an agreement between the Department of Defense and the American Red Cross," Boyer said.

"This contract has been terminated and the Central Texas Regional Blood Center at Waco and A&M have mutually agreed that the bloodmobile visits will be discontinued until the contract between the Department of Defense and the American Red Cross is renegotiated."

The Office of Student Affairs today gave high praise to those students and others who have donated blood, the work of the nurses' aids and the Gray Ladies for their cooperation and also to the Bryan-College Station Rotary club, the College Station Kiwanis and Lions clubs and the College Station Development association and Chamber of Commerce, who contributed financial support for refreshments.
