

Three Ag Cagers Rate Among SWC Leaders

Despite A&M's losing record the Aggie cagers boast more players among the top 10 scorers in the Southwest conference than any other team so far this season.

Bill Brophy, John Fortenberry and George Mehaffey have scored 685 points between them. This is more than half of the total Cadet scoring.

Brophy ranks fifth in SWC point making over the full season with 262 points. Fortenberry has bucketed 222, Mehaffey has 201.

The loss of guard Roger Harvey for the rest of the season poses another problem for Coach John Floyd as he brings his charges into the home stretch of the conference race. Ted Harrod and Lee Smith are contenders for Harvey's vacated position.

Harvey was the best defensive man on the squad, according to Floyd, and was fourth in scoring on the Aggie five with 108 points.

"Harrod played exceptionally well in the first TCU game," said Floyd, "and for that reason we did not miss Harvey too much then."

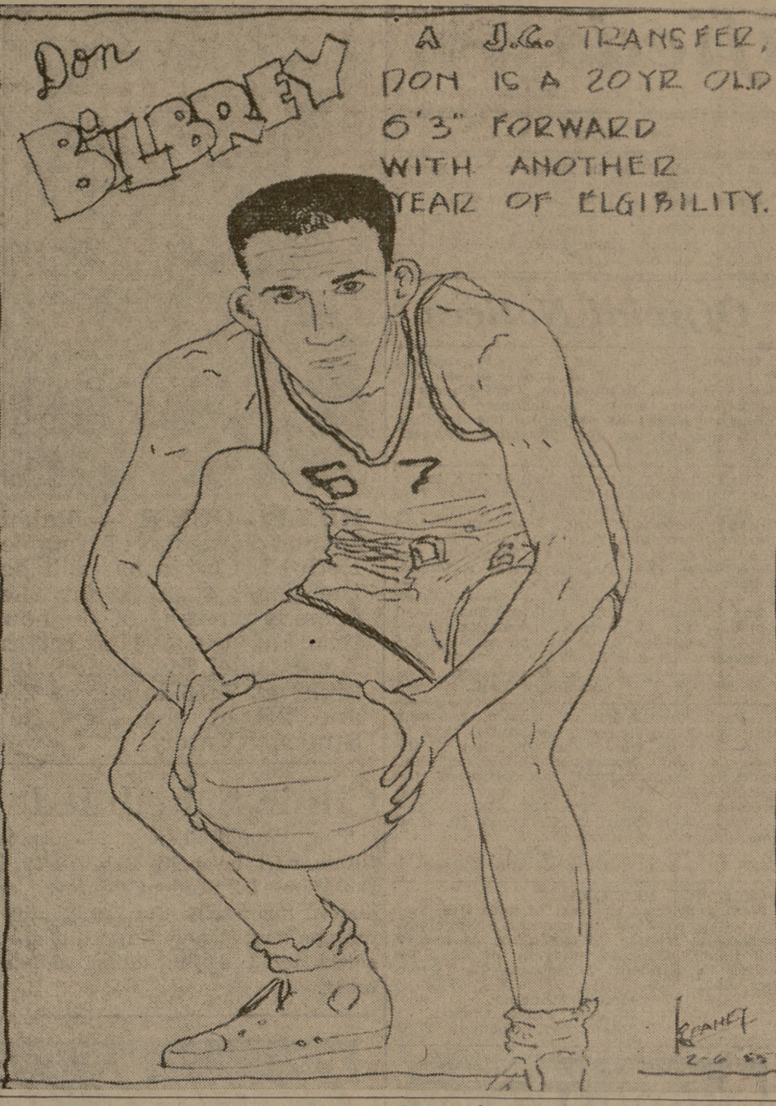

A&M will take a rest from conference warfare tomorrow night when it takes on Oklahoma City university at Oklahoma City.

Freshmen coach John DeWitt sent the Fish through a long offensive drill yesterday in preparation for their meeting with the University of Texas frosh here Saturday.

DeWitt singled out Willard Hutto, J. C. Smith, Gary Ewert, Bryan Sutherland and Carter Williams as having shown great improvement over the season.

Here is a rundown on Aggie scoring over the regular season.

Who's going to finish last poses as much of a question as who's going to the Cotton Bowl when you start trying to guess the finish of the 1955 Southwest conference football race.

Every team in the league figures to be stronger, and you could pick any of the seven to win the title and put up a good argument for your selection.

Baylor, SMU, TCU, Texas and Rice are now holding spring drills, with A&M due to start about next week. Arkansas, the 1954 champ which now has a big job ahead in switching to the split-T of new coach Jack Mitchell, will begin around March 1.

The other six teams also have their problems, naturally, but SWC teams should be stronger overall than last year. A&M and Rice lose more than anybody through graduation.

13 Lettermen Back

A&M will have 12 lettermen back from the '54 squad along with another who didn't play last year. He's tackle Jack Powell, a '53 letterman who was ineligible and is rated a good bet for a starting berth.

Returning lettermen by positions are: Center—Lloyd Hale and Herb Wolf; guard—Dennis Goehring (the Aggies lose four lettermen here, Ray Barrett, Norb Ohlendorf, Sid Theriot and Marvin Tate.

Tackles—Darrell Brown, Dee Powell and Jack Powell; ends—Gene Stallings; quarterback, Elwood Kettler; halfbacks, Billy Huddleston, Bobby Keith, Jack Pardee and Don Watson; fullback, Bob Easley.

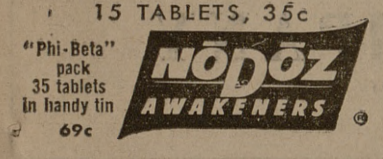

Obviously Paul Bryant's main problem is depth, but that's nothing new for the head man of the Thin Thirty. The annual Maroon-White intra-squad game is set for the night of March 5, Sports Day.

The Cincinnati Redlegs have held their spring training camp at Tampa, Fla., since 1931 and have returned annually with the exception of the war years (1943-44-45) when they drilled at Bloomington, Ind.

Tigers Spurt To Down Katy In Key Game

Slim Norman Floeck drove in for a layup early in the third quarter and A&M Consolidated rallied to down Katy 60-55 here last night in a vital district 25-A basketball game.

Floek's goal broke a 36-36 tie with the hustling losers and the Tigers went on to build up a 50-41 lead 20 seconds deep in the final quarter.

The win was Consolidated's 11th in the last 12 games and set the stage for the showdown tilt with Cypress-Fairbanks there Friday night. Before last night, the two were tied for the district lead with 7-1 records.

Katy led 16-12 at the first quarter mark and 32-28 at the half. CHS, led by Floeck and Manuel Garcia, had a 20-9 scoring edge in the third quarter and sank 22 of 45 free throws in the game.

Floek scored 25 points for high honors, followed by Garcia with 20. Frank Garcia had 18 for Katy. Katy won the B game, 35-29.

ENGINEERING GRADUATES

Lockheed representatives will be on campus Thursday, February 10, 1955 to discuss how the company's diversified development program can advance your career.

Thirteen commercial and military models of aircraft are in production at Lockheed.

Development projects are even more diversified, include jet and turbo-prop transports, advanced versions of vertical rising aircraft, fighters and bombers far exceeding present-day planes in performance, radar search planes, nuclear applications to aircraft and a number of significant classified activities.

This capacity to develop and produce such a wide range of aircraft is important to career conscious engineers. It means more scope for your ability, more opportunity for promotion with so many projects in motion. It means more security—because your career is not restricted to one type of plane.
