

Aggies Take On Hogs There

A&M will be looking for a repeat performance tomorrow night Razorbacks at Fayetteville.

The Aggies dumped Arkansas earlier this season, 62-59, here, their only SWC victory.

KORA will not broadcast the game.

Arkansas, 5-4 over the conference season, is currently resting in third place in SWC standings.

"The boys looked good today," said Coach John Floyd, after sending his team through a 30-minute scrimmage against Arkansas' offensive and defensive plays.

Floyd will start the same five that opened against Texas Tuesday night.

George Mehaffey will be at center, Bill Brophy and John Henry, forwards, and Ted Harrod and John Fortenberry, guards.

A&M goes into the contest with a 1-9 SWC record.

Kid Gavilan needed 7 years, 11 months and 88 fights to win the welterweight fight title.

SCIENCE MADE SIMPLE: NO. 2

Though this column is intended solely as a vehicle for well-tempered drollery, the makers of Philip Morris have agreed to let me use this space from time to time for a short lesson in science. They are the most decent and obliging of men, the makers of Philip Morris, as one would guess from sampling their product. Only from bounteous hearts could come such a pleasurable cigarette—so felicitously blended, so gratifying to the taste, so soothing to the psyche. And, as though bringing you the most agreeable cigarette on the market were not enough, the makers of Philip Morris have enclosed their wares in the Snap-Open Pack, an ingeniously contrived wrapping that yields up its treasure without loss of time or cuticle. And, finally, this paragon of cigarettes, wrapped in the paragon of packages, can be had in king-size or regular, as your taste dictates. Who can resist such a winning combination? Not I.

A few weeks ago in this column we had a brief lesson in chemistry. Today we take up another attractive science—medicine. Medicine was invented in 1066 by a Greek named Hippocrates. He soon attracted around him a group of devoted disciples whom he called "doctors". The reason he called them "doctors" was that they sat around a dock all day. Some fished, some just dozed in the noonday sun. In truth, there was little else for them to do, because disease was not invented until 1492.

After that doctors became very busy, but, it must be reported, their knowledge of medicine was lamentably meagre. They knew only one treatment—a change of climate. For example, a French doctor would send all his patients to Switzerland; a Swiss doctor, on the other hand, would send all his patients to France. By 1789 the entire population of France was living in Switzerland, and vice versa. This later became known as the Black Tom Explosion.

Not until 1924 did medicine, as we know it, come into being. In that year in the little Bavarian village of Pago-Pago an elderly physician named Winko Sigafos discovered the hot water bottle. He was, of course, burned as a witch, but his son Lydia, disguised as a linotype, smuggled the hot water bottle out of the country. He called on Florence Nightingale in London but was told by her housekeeper, with some asperity, that Miss Nightingale had died in 1910. Lydia muttered something and, disguised as a feather boa, made his way to America, where he invented the blood stream.

Medicine, as it is taught at your very own college, can be divided roughly into two classifications. There is internal medicine, which is the treatment of internes, and external medicine, which is the treatment of externes.

Diseases also fall into two broad categories—chronic and acute. Chronic disease, is of course, inflammation of the chron, which can be mighty painful, believe you me! Last summer my cousin Haskell was stricken with a chron attack while out picking up tinfoil, and it was months before the wretched boy could straighten up. In fact, even after he was cured, Haskell continued to walk around bent over double. This went on for some weeks before Dr. Caligari, the lovable old country practitioner who treats Haskell, discovered that Haskell had his pants buttoned to his vest.

Two years ago Haskell had Addison's disease. (Addison, curiously enough, had Haskell's.) Poor Haskell catches everything that comes along. Lovable old Dr. Caligari once said to him, "Son, I guess you are what they call a natural born catcher." "The joke is on you, Doc," replied Haskell. "I am a third baseman." He thereupon fell into such a fit of giggling that the doctor had to put him under sedation, where he is to this day.

But I digress. We were discussing medicine. I have now told you all I can; the rest is up to you. Go over to your medical school and poke around. Bring popcorn and watch an operation. Fiddle with the X-ray machines. Contribute to the bone bank . . . And, remember, medicine can be fun!

The makers of PHILIP MORRIS, who bring you this column, have nursed their flavorful tobaccos to bring you the most pleasurable smoke obtainable.

Soccer Offered Here Now in PE

For the first time, soccer is on A&M's required physical education list.

P. M. Andrews, who teaches the course, said the 27 students are very enthusiastic about it. "In the long run, I think this program will help the Aggie soccer team," he said.

Primary reason for offering the course, said Herman Segrest, head of the required P.E. office, is to accommodate foreign students who played soccer in their secondary schools.

Badminton Group

Any faculty member of College Station residents interested in forming a group to play badminton should contact Barney Welch, intramural athletics director.

Welch said that if enough are interested, the group could reserve DeWare field house one night a week.

Ag Soccer Team Plays Bryan Here

The Aggie soccer team meets Bryan air force base here at 3 p.m. Saturday in its second International Soccer League game of the season.

There will be no admission charge. Game site is the new soccer field southeast of White coliseum.

Last Sunday, the Aggies defeated University of Houston, 4-2, in their league opener. Juan Lettuss put A&M in front on a 30-yard boot, then the Cougars scored twice.

Eion McDowell tied the game for A&M, then Lettuss scored again for a 3-2 lead. Jorge Hidalgo kicked the final goal of the game, played in freezing weather and rain.

Ag Cage Crowds Show Increase

Attendance at A&M home basketball games this year has risen about 15 per cent over last year's, estimated Pat Dial, business manager of athletics.

He credited the increase to the attraction of the new White coliseum and the better won-lost record of the basketball team.

Dial said that at present there is no exact count made of basketball crowds, but that he plans to do this in the future.

It's highway robbery!

For sheer fun out on the road, Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!
Up to this year, maybe there were reasons for wanting one of the higher-priced cars. If you demanded something really special in the way of driving fun, you simply had to pay a premium to get it.
Not any more! The Motoramic Chevrolet has changed all that. Who could wish for more excitement than the new 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" delivers? (For those who do, 180-h.p. is optional at extra cost in all V8 models.) Chevrolet also offers the two highest powered sixes in its field.
Come in and see how the Motoramic Chevrolet is stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!
