

Class Meets Monday

Seniors To Discuss Gift

The senior class will meet Monday at 7:15 p.m. in the Memorial Student Center ballroom to discuss the formation of the class committee, final plans for the ring dance, and class gift suggestions.

The class will have about $1,000 to spend for a class gift. The gift committee has presented five proposals for consideration by the class. These proposals are as follows:

Scholarship Fund

This is to be given entirely by the senior class. An annual scholarship of about $300 would be given by the class of '55 to a sophomore. The scholarship fund would be administered by class members and perpetuated by donations from class members.

Underground Watering System
This would be a supplement to the funds authorized by the college for the beautification of main drill field.

Street Markers

This gift could be given entirely by the class of '55. The markers would be maroon and white signs on concrete posts, similar to the street signs in Bryan and College Station.

Korean War Memorial

This would be an appropriate memorial of stone or bronze, depending on the cost, commemorating A&M students who died in the Korean conflict. It would be placed in a location on the campus approved by the college.

Kyle Field Scoreboard

This would be a new scoreboard, to replace the present one. The athletic department would pay for part of it.

WHO SAW IT?—The batter swings and closes his eyes, the catcher closes his eyes, and it looks like even the umpire closed his eyes on this intramural softball play. Of course, the ump could have closed his eyes after he made the call. The batter is James Adams of B infantry.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Here Ed Chandler reviews Long Distance facilities between Atlanta and Lincoln, Georgia. He is working from a layout that shows all Long Distance lines in the state.

"My classmates talked me out of a job"

Ed Chandler had a good job all lined up long before he graduated from Georgia Institute of Technology as an Industrial Engineer. But then he changed his mind . . .

"When I got out of college in '50, I was all set to go with a company I'd worked for during a previous summer.

"But then I got called up by the Army. During the next two years I heard a lot of good things from my Georgia Tech classmates who'd gone to work for the telephone company. As far as I was concerned this was the best recommendation any company could get. "So when I got out of the Army I stopped in to talk with the telephone people. When I saw an outline of their development program, I was sold.

"My first year took me through every phase of handling and estimating costs on telephone equipment from warehouse to installation. I drew up plans for several projects, then went out in the field to see how they were carried out.

"Now I'm helping develop next year's multi-million-dollar construction program for Georgia. I've found it an interesting and rewarding job."

In the engineering department of Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company in Atlanta, Ed Chandler is moving along in his career. Your Placement Officer can give you details about similar opportunities with the other Bell telephone companies like Southern Bell—also with Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation.
