A Second Chance

Tomorrow is election day at A&M once more, and two classes have a chance to redeem themselves.

All is forgiven; the Student Senate had filings reopened for the classes of '56 and '57, and this time the report of the election commission is favorable.

No indication of a primary on the part of either army or air force was found.

Good men are candidates for positions to be elected, and it should make no difference whether the shoulder patch is air force or army.

The main idea is to pick the best men—and vote for them.

Quite a lot of tension should be relieved by tomorrow's voting, not only between the army classes of '56 and '57 and the air force students of these classes, but also in the class of '58.

It has been a long wait for them, since they had their runoff election delayed.

And there is another important group to be elected—the election commission. This was their election in the first place.

Junior, sophomore, freshman—army, air force or civilian—tomorrow's election is the time to settle all differences. Elect the right man, and then back the man who wins.

But vote.

Poultry Science Club Nets $800 From Show

Annual Texas Chick, Poultry and Egg show auction, held Saturday, netted about $800.

The auction was a part of the show held last week.

REMINGTON'S NEW 22 SHORTS ROCKETS

Not for years has a .22 cartridge caused so much excitement and interest as the New Remington ROCKETS. They have extra speed, you will know it when you hear the sharp crack, as the special composition bullet leaves the muzzle at 1600 ft. per second.

Proceeds from the sale go to the Poultry Science club to be used in its activities, which includes helping finance the senior and junior judging team trips, the annual send-off banquet for the senior judging team, the spring chicken fry and a $200 scholarship to A&M for one of the top entries in the 4H-FFA division of the show.

W. J. Boriskie, of College Station, and W. R. Sherrill, of Bryan, were made honorary life-time members of the club.

Kazmeier-Sherrill Hatchery won the senior division grand champion chick trophy; Mayfield Poultry Farm, reserve champion eggs ribbon; Golden Rule Poultry Farm, three superior and one excellent ribbon for eggs; and Eugene Opersteny, one superior ribbon for eggs.

Wallace Hickson, of Bryan, showed the top entry of eggs in the 4H-FFA division.

Malcolm Brewer, Donald Kocman, Henry Blazek, Richard Ferguson, Kent Potts, Guinn Thompson, Joe Birdwell, Edward Melesky and D. Nichols received superior ribbons for their egg entries.

Guinn Thompson, Joe Birdwell, Edward Melesky, Kent Potts, Malcolm Brewer, Joe Hickson, Daniel Lopez, Wallace Hickson, Richard Ferguson and James Wallin won superior ribbons for chicks.

Henry Blazek, Charles Nichols, Suke Ceminio, Don Kocman, Phil Montalbana, Jimmy Wilder, John Munoz and Billy Kendrick received excellent ribbons for chicks.
