The Proper Spirit

Without doubt, every student at A&M appreciated the school administration's gesture in turning out classes at 11 yesterday morning so that every one could attend the ball game.

The spirit the holiday was given in should not be forgotten by students, however. The baseball team had just won the conference championship, and the administration, sensing the need of students to really "let their hair down," wisely made an entirely agreeable decision.

But, this holiday provides no prerogative for students to take just any circumstance as an excuse for a holiday.

The semester is almost over, and now is the time for all to settle down and work. How students will behave now that the holiday is over probably will influence any future administrative action under similar circumstances.

Sixteen Students Join Police School Here

Sixteen students representing 10 city police departments of Texas are attending the eleventh class of the Texas Municipal Police school conducted by the Engineering Extension service May 2-27.

The student roster is as follows: Cullen M. Adams, assistant chief, and Lafayette Wofford, sergeant, both of Tyler; William E. Crews, Herman Lee Handley, and Tommy Lowrance, detectives, all of Corpus Christi; S. A. Decker, sergeant, Harlingen; R. L. Lyons, identification office and T. L. MacBride, captain, both of Port Arthur; J. C.

Mathison, patrolman, Wichita Falls; Arthur F. Patterson, sergeant and Lee R. Whitten, lieutenant, both of Amarillo; C. L. Rogers, captain and A. N. Standard jr., patrolman, both of Big Spring; Robert Vance, patrolman, Bryan; J. R. Williams, patrolman, Plainview and Joe Wolf, patrolman, Weslaco.

Three Students Named to Academy

Three A&M students will be in the first class of the new Air Force academy, opening July 11 at Lowry air force base, Denver.

They are John Winfield Ulmer, John Luten Loggins, and Sherwood A. Richers.

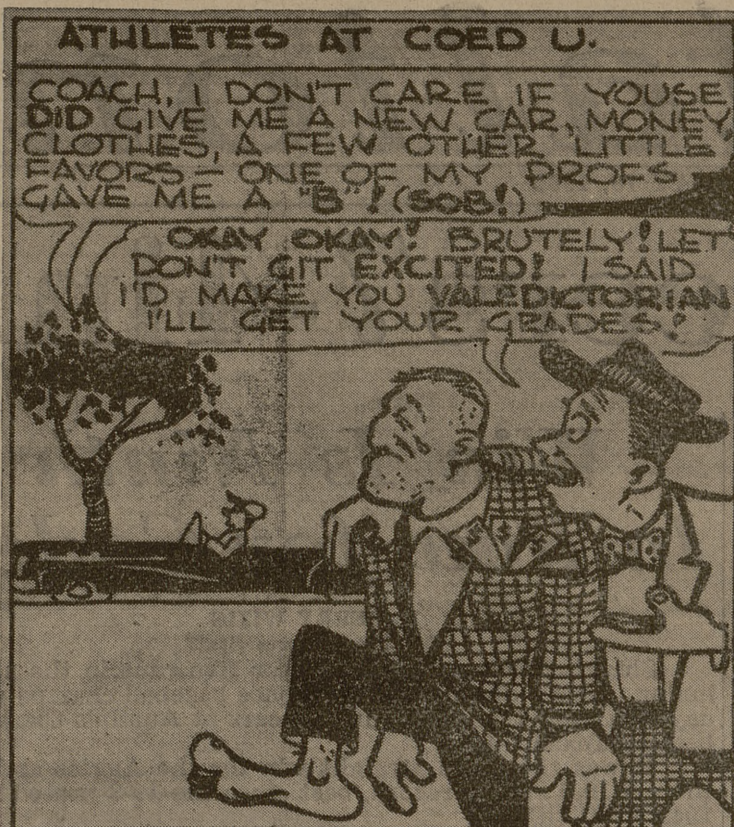

They were among the 301 cadets selected from more than 6,000 from all over the nation for the first class of the academy.

Seventeen of the 301 were from Texas, according to the Associated Press.

Student Dismissed For Dorm Violation

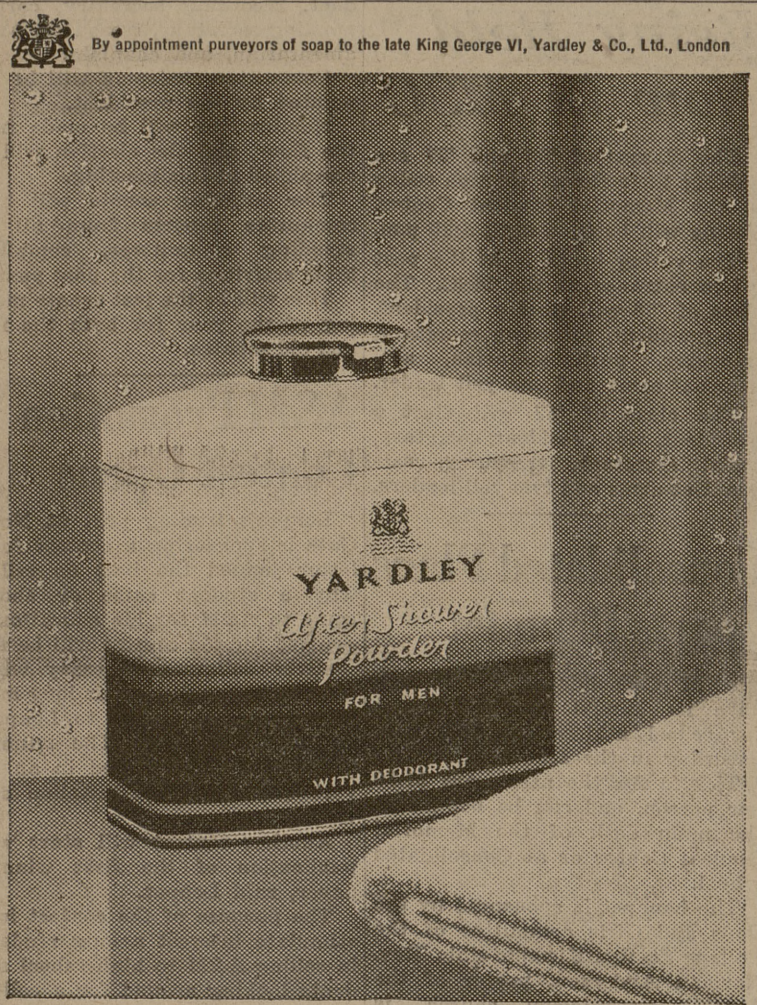

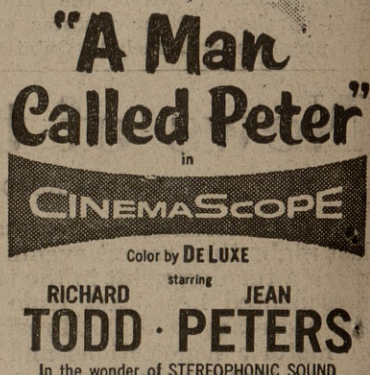

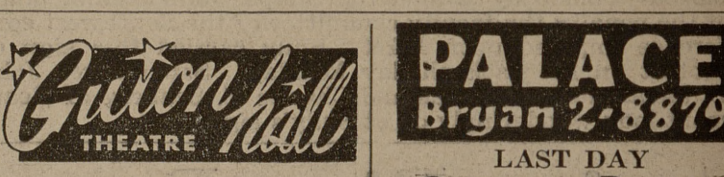

Jerry K. Schwartz, sophomore pre-med major from Columbus, O., has been dismissed from the college "for concealing a woman in the dormitory" last week, military officials said.

The girl was brought into dormitory 9 during call to quarters and was not caught until after the studying period ended, when she was being sneaked from the dorm.
