TTI Head Named; Work To Increase

The expansion of work of the Texas Transportation Institute on a number of projects concerning Texas transportation will follow the recent naming of Fred J. Benson as executive officer of the TTI. Benson, professor of civil engineering and acting director of the annual Highway Short Course held at A&M, will be supervising officer for all projects undertaken by the Institute. Underway are a number of programs of study and evaluation of methods of improving various forms of Texas transportation—including highways, waterways, railroads, pipelines and air-lines.

The TTI, with headquarters at A&M, is the only agency of its kind in the southwest. It is engaged in research on various forms of transportation of persons and goods, and on the economy of the state's transportation industries. The Institute will also provide a program of advanced degree training for men interested in the transport industries.

Covering a wide area, the organization's program involves work ranging from what to do about the more than 3,500,000 cars now choking the state's 230,000 miles of roads and highways to how to better handle the 165,000,000 tons of freight annually entering Texas

Communications Course To Open

A 40-hour course in industrial communications and techniques will open here Monday. The course, which is sponsored by the Texas Engineering Extension Service with L. K. Jonas in charge, will close Thursday.

Topics to be discussed include the growing need for better communications, the mechanics of communications, and others pertinent to the field.

The purpose of the course is to help supervisors at all levels understand the functions of plant communications and how to communicate effectively.

ports and waterways. Adding to the problems are the state's 22,000 miles of railroads, 90,000 miles of gas and oil pipelines, and 100,000 miles of daily airline flights.

In cooperation with the state Highway Department, for which the A&M College System is a research agency, the Institute is engaged in a series of studies to find better ways of stabilizing soils beneath roads and highways. Better asphaltic mixes, pre-fabricated bridge building elements, and new materials for road surfacing are already being developed.

Serving as a clearing house for many phases of this work formerly scattered in several areas, the Institute will cooperate with other agencies of the state, of the A&M System, and with private industry in use of personnel and funds for study of transportation problems.

Research Unit Recruiting

A special invitation has been extended to all interested persons who would like to learn more about the Army Reserve.

Maj. O. D. Butler, commander of the 343 Field Artillery Battalion of the 90th "Texas Own" Division, has asked that anyone wishing to join or find out more about the unit attend the regular training assemblies held each Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. The group meets at the U. S. Army Reserve Training Center located two blocks south of Kyle Field on old Highway 6.

The unit has many vacancies for enlisted men, both veterans and recruits. Additional information can be gotten by mailing a postcard to Headquarters, 343 Field Artillery Battalion, P.O. Box 119, College Station.

The next total eclipse of the sun which will be visible in the United States will take place Oct. 2, 1959. The red color of the planet Mars contrasts strongly with the white color of the planet Venus.

Cut the top off a green pepper and remove seeds and membranes; fill the pepper with a cheese spread; you'll need three ounces of the spread for a small pepper. Chill until cheese is very firm, slice crosswise and serve on salad greens with dressing.

KNOW HIM ?

Juvenile delinquency was just a term until they sent the boy down the street to what they politely termed a "training school." Then it became real, because this boy wasn't just a statistic but a kid who had played with your kids. Why, only last Sunday you had gone fishing with his father.

So now . . . you wondered why. The boy came from a good home—or did he? There was money enough, luxury enough, but it's true that his parents sometimes left him pretty much to his own devices. There were his mother's clubs and his father's business, and they led an active social life.

You asked yourself why . . . and in your heart you knew the answer. It lay in those gaps that had been left in his upbringing—great chinks, that should have been filled with faith, spiritual guidance, and solid enduring values. Thinking about it, you made up your mind to start taking your own kids to church on Sundays without fail—no matter how good the weather was for fishing.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
