The Student Publications Board, August 2, 1955, ruled that all campus organizations which have dues, charge admissions or have an appropriate other source of income will be charged for space in future AggieLand yearbooks. The new ruling specifically affects R.O.T.C. units, civilian dorms and intercollegiate sports in that those organizations will be charged for space beginning in the 1956 AggieLand. On the same date, the Board ruled that the space rates would be reduced for all organizations from $55 to $50 per page and from $35 to $30 per half page. The action was taken to broaden the basis of charging for purposes of consistency and equality. The net additional income expected will be used to offset higher printing costs and the loss of the Football Program concession from the Student Publications Program.

Jackson Attends Guidance Meeting

J. R. Jackson, assistant professor of agricultural education at A&M College, recently returned from a workshop conference in guidance held at Michigan State University August 1-19.

The conference was under the direction of Dr. Bob Darling, who is state director of guidance and counseling for Delaware.

Jackson also visited several sessions of an economics workshop being held at Michigan State. This workshop was concerned with the educational problem caused by the rapid progress being made in the field of automation.

Jackson received credit in the guidance workshop which will be used to fulfil his graduate course of study.

Manufacturers To Discuss Cotton's Rivals

How is cotton meeting the competition of other fibers at the textile mill?

The executive vice-president of the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute will give a detailed answer to this question at the ninth annual Beltwide Cotton Mechanization Conference here September 7-9.

Robert C. Jackson, Washington, will discuss cotton's competitive situation with particular reference to its quality. He is expected to outline some of the problems encountered in spinning and weaving cotton and show how these are related to the way it is harvested, handled and processed prior to arrival at the mill door.

He is scheduled to address the afternoon session of the conference on Wednesday, September 7. Representatives of these groups will discuss cotton's future competitive strength as it is related to the programs of the farm equipment industry and to USDA-land grant college research and education.

More than 500 persons are expected to attend the meeting which is sponsored by the National Cotton Council in cooperation with the Texas A&M College System, Farm Equipment Institute, land grant colleges, and the United States Department of Agriculture.

Gen. Paul to Speak To Industrialists

Lt. Gen Willard S. Paul, USA rtd., will discuss industrial dispersion at the Fifth Annual Industrial Development Conference, to be held at A&M Sept. 1-2. Paul is assistant to the director for plans and readiness, Office of Defense Mobilization, Washington.

He will be among a number of top-flight authorities in the field of industrial development who will take an active part in the conference.

The attendants will be welcomed to the college by Dr. David H. Morgan, president. Jack Springer, manager, Bryan Chamber of Commerce, will chair the opening session.

D.E. Carlson of the Industrial Engineering Department is conference director.

Aggie Wives Hold Final Meeting

Kathy Rowin, Doris Harris and Minnette Carpenter were first, second and third place winners respectively at last week's meeting of the Aggie Wives Bridge Club, which was the last for the summer.

Doris Harris won the traveling slam and traveling deuce. The traveling jack prize was taken by Lucille Pryor. Joy Jones won the door prize.

Doris Harris and Joan Whisenhunt were hostesses for the meeting.

The next meeting will be held on September 22. Hostesses will be Lucille Pryor and Minnette Carpenter for the regulars, and Peggy Weaver and Mary Virginia Lyles for the intermediates.
