

Cadet Officers, Non-Coms Announced

MAN'S BEST FRIEND—No. It's Reveille II, the Aggie mascot, and the canine who once brought forth a startling quotation from a Battalion photographer. The quote: "Look out for the d... n dog; it bites." Anyway, it's been vacationing in Borger during the summer and has now returned.

Reveille's Back at A&M

It's official now. School definitely will be starting. It has to, for Reveille has returned.

She smelled something awful when she first made her appearance back at A&M last week—but she looked fatter. Seems as though the summer vacation she spent with Clarence Kerns, senior from Borger, was good for her. She smells better now; she had a bath. Kerns' kindness in keeping the Aggie Mascot solved a problem which has bothered last year's Student Senate. Rev's regular roommate, Sam Netterville from Beaumont, had to attend summer ROTC camp, so Rev had no home. The whole school owes Kerns a favor. He took Rev away for the summer.

Larry Brian Kennedy of Houston has been appointed corps commander for the corps this year. He is a senior business administration major.

Appointments and assignments to the corps staff approved by President David H. Morgan include John Whitmore Jenkins from Amarillo, deputy corps commander with the rank of colonel; Byron Andrew Parham, College Station, adjutant, Lt. Col.; William D.
