

GUARD DEE POWELL—Outstanding in the UCLA game, Dee will start for the Aggies against LSU at Dallas Saturday.

Aggies Work Hard On Weaknesses

Coach Paul Bryant's well conditioned squad took on more work than usual for Monday practice sessions yesterday, concentrating on correcting the weaknesses that hurt the Aggies in the 0-21 loss to UCLA.

"We worked on our weaknesses today," said Bryant in his office after two hours of labor on the practice field. "We needed the work badly. In particular we worked on our pass offense and defense, and the quarterback's option play."

The Aggies came out of the Bruin game in surprisingly fine shape. Jack Pardee, starting fullback from Christoval, showed up with minor lime burns from the yard-line stripes. There were no serious injuries.

In fact, the Cadets didn't even have to call time out during the game because of an injured player.

"Incidentally, after studying the game movies, Dee Powell, a guard, and Tackle Jack Powell were outstanding against UCLA," said Bryant. "Dee Powell will definitely start against LSU."

Dee, no relation to Jack, moves into the left guard position in front of sophomore Jim Stanley. Both Powells are juniors.

UCLA's Henry (Red) Sanders, Coach of the Year in 1954, praised the spirit of the sophomore-laden Aggies after the game in the spacious dressing room that housed the victorious Bruins.

Facing a barrage of questions from enthusiastic reporters, Sanders said, "They're one of the best prepared teams we've ever met."

"The Aggies were plenty tough," said UCLA's newly discovered star, Ronnie Knox, as he leaned tiredly against the tile wall beside his dressing stall. "I thought the Aggie linemen were awfully quick. They were pretty solid all-around."

Penalties put an early damper on the Aggies' offensive efforts against UCLA, as the Cadet eleven was set back 60 yards on rule violations in the first quarter. A&M's total offense in the first quarter amounted to only 45 yards.

Here is a brief summary of the important plays in the UCLA game.

FIRST QUARTER—The Aggies got an early scoring chance as the Bruin left halfback, Doug Bradley, fumbled the opening kickoff on his own 22. End Gene Stallings recovered for the Aggies. Bobby Conrad plowed through right guard for 2 yards, but the Cadets were penalized 15 yards for illegal use of the hands. A third down aerial by Donnie Grant was intercepted by the Bruin's Steve Palmer on the 22 to end the threat.

UCLA worked its way down to the Aggie 4 where a 15-yard penalty set the Bruins back, and probably cost them a touchdown.

SECOND QUARTER—Knox passed to John Hermann for 25 yards and a touchdown 2:06 deep in the second stanza. Five minutes later UCLA, driving from its own 30, and featuring a 22-yard romp by halfback Sam Brown, reached the Aggie's 9-yard stripe in six plays. Knox passed to half-

LOS ANGELES—Saturday afternoon, while eating a quiet dinner in 20th Century Fox's spacious lunch room in Hollywood, the Aggie football team became almost as aroused as the night before against UCLA's Bruins.

What could tear 40 hungry football players away from a half-eaten meal? The answer is simple—Sheree North!

The petite Miss North, attired in the pale blue uniform of an Air Force WAF she portrays in her new movie still in production, slipped quietly down at a table across the mural-covered room from the Cadet team.

Her moments alone were short, however, as the entire team moved to her table for autographs, and a few words with the "Blonde Bombshell."

Ags To Invade Texas Cities This Fall

Sophomore end Bobby Marks from New Orleans was one of the last to move away from Miss North's table. Clutching a still moist signature, Marks beamed, "Ya know, I think she fell for me."

The Aggies were taken on a tour of the studio grounds as a guest of William Bendix, who starred in the court martial scene from "The Caine Mutiny" here last March.

Band Awes Crowd

The Fightin' Texas Aggie Band, long hailed by Southwest conference fans as the finest in the land, received one of the most stirring tributes in its history during the halftime activities at the A&M-UCLA game.

Most of the 65,000 fans in the mammoth Los Angeles Coliseum were on their feet applauding at one time or another during the Band's inspired performance.

The press box comments ran from "How do they do it?" to "The greatest band I've ever seen."

The Cincinnati Redlegs are raving about rookie southpaw hurler Charlie Rabe at their Columbia, S.C. farm club. In his first 197 innings he had fanned 175 batters, compiled a 2.41 earned run mark and had won 17 games.

Fish Baseballers To Have Meeting

All freshmen interested in trying out for the Aggie Fish baseball squad should meet at the Southside of DeWare Field House Wednesday at 5 p.m., according to Coach Beau Bell. Bring pencils and paper.
