PARIS—Premier Edgar Faure yesterday won a free hand from his own Cabinet to replace the Sultan of Morocco with a three-man regency and start a French-Moroccan reform aimed at peace in the strife-torn protectorate. The ministers, in effect, wrote the Sultan's walking papers. All eyes turned to Rabat to see if and when aging Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa will walk.

The rebels whose revolt shattered his 10-year dictatorship demanded that the fallen dictator-president be intercepted and arrested. Political asylum is highly regarded in Latin America, however, and this increased Peron's chances for escape to neighboring Paraguay.

It will be used for some of the football games even if it isn't completely finished.

Memorial Student Center, I

Visitors Can Stay In MSC

Ed. Note: This is the first of a series of articles on the Memorial Student Center's departments, activities, policies and problems. A vote will be held Sept. 28 and 29 to decide if students want to pay the $2 union fee. These articles are designed to give readers the basic knowledge they will need to decide how they will cast their vote.

The "Living Room of Texas A&M," the Memorial Student Center, is also the bedroom for many visitors to the campus. These visitors include Aggie's girl friends and parents, short course and other conference registrants, and other persons here on the campus for one reason or another.

The policy followed for allocating guest rooms is as follows:

Applications for guest rooms in the Center for football games are accepted during May only for the following football season. Applicants should apply for one room only. Only students and exes can get rooms for this period, with a specific number of rooms assigned to both groups. All rooms are used during one football game weekend.

Tickets may be purchased at the main desk of the MSC until 7 p.m. Wednesday, department heads are requested to pick reservations for their new staff members as soon as possible. Tickets for old staff and faculty members will be $1.50 each.

The September dinner is traditionally a major social event of the year and a large attendance of new and old members is anticipated.

Formal or informal dress may be worn.

Audio Committee To Meet Sept. 17

The Audio Committee of the Memorial Student Center will hold its first meeting of the year in room 2-B of the MSC, September 27 at 7:30 p.m. said James S. Hancock, chairman.

The meeting is open for all returning students who were members last year and for all new students interested in high-fidelity music.

For Exes' reunions.

For social events weekends applications are received only from students and must be made in May for the following school year, September through May. Only graduating seniors should apply for rooms for graduation exercises.

Class reunions are handled by the Former Students Association, the office reserving rooms in the MSC on a "first-come, first-served" basis.

Applications for guest rooms for short courses of College and System departments are determined by the committee handling housing for the particular course. The Center follows instructions of the Housing Committee of the Short Course Steering Committee in housing those attending.

Students Enroll On Scholarships

Each year, the Sears-Roebuck Foundation provides 10 scholarships of $200 each and one for $250 for students attending A&M's School of Agriculture.

Selections are made and scholarships awarded on the basis of need, record in high school and sincerity of desire to study agriculture.

In Hensel Park

Civil Defense At Work

Hensel Park will be the scene of a realistic drama in disaster relief tomorrow evening, when evacuees from a nearby town, victims of a make-believe tornado, will be brought into the evacuation center there for medical care, shelter and food.

The event will be a highlight of the Civil Defense Conference being held at the Memorial Student Center. Every service of Civil Defense will be demonstrated, according to Mrs. Grace Martin, State Coordinator of Women's Activities in Civil Defense and Disaster Relief.

Senate To Meet

The Student Senate will hold its first meeting of the year tomorrow night. Introduction of guests, appointment of committees and other new business will make up the agenda. A seating plan for football games is now being worked out, according to Byron (Scotty) Parham, Senate president.

To determine who gets rooms, a drawing is held in June for football weekends and social events weekends. Those whose names are drawn are notified during the summer. There is a separate drawing for student applicants, and another drawing for former student applicants.

For the football games students and former students whose names are not drawn make up an automatic waiting list for each of the football weekends. Students not receiving rooms for social events weekends form the automatic waiting list for the particular weekend.

The list for rooms on football and social events weekends form the priority waiting list these weekends. Should a cancellation occur, the next numbered applicant is notified and offered the room.

The waiting list policy for short courses is determined by the Housing Committee of the group conducting the program.

(The second of this series will continue tomorrow).

Room Applications For Meetings Due

Applications for meeting rooms for student organizations and clubs will be accepted in the Social and Educational Department of the Memorial Student Center beginning at 8 a.m. Thursday.

All club presidents or their representatives should contact Mrs. Ann Keel, Social Director of the Center, for their meeting room reservations as soon as possible.

Straw Vote Planned On Student Union Fee

Parking Lot, Street Work To Finish Soon

Along with the street east of White Coliseum, a new "official" parking lot is due to be completed soon.

The new lot, accommodating 147 cars will be used primarily to care for cars of visiting dignitaries for the different events here, and to take care of all physical education personnel housed in the coliseum.

Most of the base material has been finished on both the street and the parking lot and the storm sewers have been laid for the street.

The street will be concrete almost to Anchor Hall complete with curb and gutters. The parking lot also will have curbs and gutters but will have an asphalt rock surface.

Even though it won't be finished, the lot will be used for parking accommodations for some of the fall events unless rainy weather makes this impossible.

Student Chaplains Plan New Program

A&M's seven student chaplains will travel to Ft. Parker State Park this weekend and meet with J. Gordon Gay, secretary of the YMCA, to plan a spiritual life program for this year.

The chaplains, largest group in A&M's history, are Steward Coffman, civilian; Joe Blair and Charles Payne, civilians; Harry Scott, Corps Chaplain; Bill Thomas, first regiment; Sam Layden, second regiment; and Bill Gilbert, air force. These students will, with help from denominational leaders, lead the spiritual activities on the A&M campus.

Maj. Owen C. Martin, chaplain from Fort Hood, will be a special guest at the meeting. He is attached to the Fourth Armored Division in Combat Command A at the army base.

Ticket Sales Low For LSU Game

Only 500 student tickets had been sold up to noon Tuesday for the A&M-LSU game to be played in Dallas, Saturday, said Pat Dial, athletic business manager, yesterday.

Wednesday, 5:00 p.m., is the deadline for buying these tickets.

Prices for tickets are $3.25 for date and general admission tickets and $1.00 for student tickets. To buy a student ticket you must present an ID card and Student Activity card along with the necessary buck.

Booth by MSC P. O. Thursday, Friday

A straw vote, to feel out student reaction toward the $2 per semester Student Center fee, will be held tomorrow and Friday by the post office in the MSC. Official balloting will be Sept. 28 and 29.

Bud Whitney, MSC Council president, pointed out that the council would obtain information as to the main areas of discontent in the Center's operation from a student viewpoint. The results will not be released, he said.

Approval of the fee will enable the MSC to continue its services unimpaired, said J. Wayne Stark, director. He said the alternative in the absence of the fee would be a cutting of personnel which would in turn lead to lessening of services to students.

Cougars Vie Against '12th Man'

For some football teams the usual workout against an eleven man squad isn't enough. They have to get into shape to withstand the awe inspiring vocal strength of the A&M "12th Man."

Earsplitting, stadium-filling yells of the khaki clad cadets have been known to blot out signals of their opponents and shake them to a low ebb gridiron maneuverability.

But University of Houston Coach Bill Meek isn't taking any chances, at least as far as the "12th Man" is concerned. The Cougar eleven started workouts this week to a Hit Parade of Aggie yells.

To get the Cougars ready for the game to be played here Oct. 1 Meek is playing a tape recording of the Corp's continual yells over a public address amplifier every day for the rest of this week and next in the University of Houston practice field.

Korean Vets Must Register for Bill

Only 700 of the 1,000 Korean veterans who were here last fall and spring have registered for this year's GI Bill, Bennie A. Zinn, Veterans' Advisor, said yesterday.

All veterans who have not registered must do so immediately at Room 102 Goodwin hall, Zinn added.

The September checks for those students under the GI Bill will not arrive until Oct. 31 rather than Oct. 20 as scheduled. All future payments will be received the 20 of each month.

What's Cooking

Newman Club will meet at 7:15 tonight at the St. Mary's Student Center. Tommy Toudoze will preside at this first meeting.

Air-conditioning, check-cashing, furniture maintenance, housekeeping of meeting rooms and corridors, and floral decorations are other activities which would have to be curtailed, he said.

If a majority approve the assessing of the fee, it will be compulsory from this semester on. The union fee vote was authorized by the state Legislature during its last session, the law providing that the Board of Directors call such an election, canvass the returns and declare the results.

The original purposes of the MSC, as stated in its Constitution included the providing of facilities for meetings, short courses, and conferences of the citizens of Texas, so as to make the Center a functional unit in the cultural and educational life of Texas. Other purposes were providing extracurricular educational program for the students and staff; the providing of more adequate opportunity for friendly association among the students and staff; and foster social and cultural phases of student life.

If approved the fee will be budgeted partly for expenses in the free areas, such as meeting rooms, lobby and hallways, and partly for other student activities centering in the MSC.

ANNUAL PREDICTION—You can always tell that football season has come 'round again just by taking a stroll through the two corps' areas. Freshmen have been busy painting and nailing and the traditional football signs are up. Shown is the sign for the coming game with Louisiana State University in Dallas this weekend which was made at Texas A&M by Texas Aggie freshmen of A Cavalry. All military units have completed signs similar to this one for the coming game. According to the signs A&M is the winner, needless to say.
