News of the World

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—Russia's V. M. Molotov walked out of the U. N. Assembly yesterday as Nationalist China's Foreign Minister George Yeh denounced Moscow's peace drive and Red "tyranny" over the Chinese mainland. Yeh said the Communists in their six years of domination of the Chinese mainland have "spawned a gigantic system of repression and terrorism, the like of which has never been known in Chinese history."

SAN FRANCISCO—A childless housewife who "just had to have a baby" remorsefully surrendered Robert Marcus to a priest in Stockton early yesterday nine days after the newborn boy was kidnapped in San Francisco. Recovery of the healthy baby, now 11 days old, ended a nation-wide hunt. Dr. Sanford Marcus, 34, and his wife, Hanna, 29, sped in a police car the 82 miles to Stockton from San Francisco in 75 minutes for a joyful reunion with their son.

WASHINGTON—Administration leaders yesterday praised "business as usual" in running the government in the aftermath of President Eisenhower's heart attack. Presidential assistant Sherman Adams, Vice President Nixon and others by word and action laid stress on what appeared to be a policy of operating as normally as possible during Eisenhower's absence.

MEXICO CITY—An estimated 200 persons were killed by Hurricane Janet as it swept across the Yucatan peninsula Tuesday and Wednesday. The estimate came from a presidential spokesman who said the toll of injured might run to several thousand and described the blow as a major disaster.

At Town Hall

Fiesta Mexicana To Be Here Tuesday

Fiesta Mexicana, Town Hall's first production of the year, will be presented in White Coliseum Tuesday night at 8 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

The ingredients of this spectacle of stars are dance, music, color and a light heart. When a Mexican wants a new costume, he looks at the rainbow, according to legend.

That's exactly what this show will be like, the rainbow, according to C. G. (Spike) White, of the Student Activities Office.

Nothing anywhere known to man compares with the originality and color of Mexican native wardrobes. They are a part of every ceremony, celebration and festival.

Dance costumes, drawn from 2,000 years of textile art and three civilizations, are of the most skillful needlework.

When the Aztecs went to war or sacrificed a human captive, they danced, and some of these rituals are part of the coming Town Hall show. More than 300 dances are still national institutions, aside from thousands more that have given Mexico the worldwide reputation of having more dances than any other nation.

The famed Jarabe Tapatio, known to most Americans as the "hat dance," will be done during the performance. It is now the national dance of Mexico. Other dances to be produced include the Bamba, where dancers tie and untie a knot with their feet without losing a step; and the Pluma, where the men wear circular head dresses made of feathers from quetzal birds.

Water Safety Course Planned

A Red Cross water safety instructor's course will be offered to A&M students this semester.

"For a long time the boys have been after me to have such a course," Adamson stated, "but not enough show up when we do offer one."

Those interested and feel they are qualified are asked to meet in P. L. Downs Natatorium at 7:30 Monday, Oct. 3, for an organizational meeting. Applicants must be Senior Red Cross lifesavers, able to demonstrate the various strokes and to swim one quarter mile continuously using the crawl stroke.

Directors To Eat

The Board of Directors of the Texas A&M College System, meeting here Saturday, will be honored with a dinner Friday night at The Oaks in Bryan. The dinner, for which the Board will be guests of directors of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce, will begin at 7:30. Ed Burkhardt of the Bryan group is in charge of arrangements.

UP A TREE—Reveille not only has the Senior Class up in the air, but she has this University of Houston Tiger up a tree. Maybe she isn't a one-man dog but a "cat tamer," as indicated by this joint football sign of Squadron 24 and "A" Athletics which won first in this weeks' football sign contest.

Sylvia Williams To Sing at Rue Pinalle Tomorrow

Ike May Return To Duty On Part-Time Schedule

Gala Weekend Scheduled At Student Center

In celebration of the first home game, the Student Center has planned a gala weekend for this weekend.

Rue Pinalle launches the celebration Friday night with a dance in the recreational room of the Center. Music will be provided by the Capers Combo featuring Sylvia Williams as vocalist.

Keeping the traditional French atmosphere complete with French waiters, Rue Pinalle will feature a special floor show.

Carolyn Williams will serve as vocalist for the floor show which features a "bop" band composed of Huber Vykukal, Richard Smith, Larry Johnson, Dick Newland and Darrell Williams.

The Friday night dance starts at 8:30 p.m. and lasts until 12 p.m. Admission is 75 cents per person.

Climax of the weekend will be reached Saturday night after the game when the entire second floor of the Center will be devoted to dancing.

Three bands are featured Saturday night with three different types of music being offered. The Capers combo will offer the latin rhythm and the Prairie View Collegians will give out with the old favorite Dixieland Jazz. For those who like straight fox trot step, the Aggieband combo will furnish popular music. Sylvia Williams will serve as vocalist.

Theme for the Saturday night affair will be "Midnight in New Orleans." The theme will be carried throughout the second floor.

No definite time has been set for the closing of the dance but it starts immediately after the game. Admission is $1.25, couple or single.

Condition Satisfactory Without Complications

DENVER—(AP)—Mounting hopes that President Eisenhower may return to the helm of government within a month were strengthened yesterday. The oxygen tent was removed from his hospital room.

There was no thought of his assuming the burdens of a full White House schedule that soon. But, barring complications, administrative associates seem agreed he will be able to make any necessary decisions from the calm of his farmhouse at Gettysburg, Pa. The President will be 65 on Oct. 14.

An 11:20 a.m. MST medical bulletin revealed:

1. The President slept this morning outside the oxygen tent for the first time since he suffered a heart attack early Saturday.

2. His condition "continues to be satisfactory without complications."

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty also disclosed that a tape recording machine was brought into the President's room at his request and that he listened briefly to soft chamber music.

Presidential advisers abandoned for the time being any further consideration of how Eisenhower could delegate authority to others as another day passed without complications.

The optimistic view that the President soon will be able to start resuming his duties, apparently shared by officials in Washington as well as here, was tempered by the knowledge that a setback could change the picture.

As Dr. Paul Dudley White put it last night, the President "is not out of the woods yet, but he's coming along nicely."

The eminent Boston heart specialist, who receives twice daily reports from physicians at the bedside by long-distance telephone, said Eisenhower's progress is following the routine pattern. "It's neither faster nor slower than normal," he said.

Some Outfits Violate Hazing Regulations

Rumors of freshmen personal service for upperclassmen are now being investigated, according to Col. Joe E. Davis, commandant.

Several rumors state that freshmen have been cleaning upperclassmen's rooms, shining brass and boots and doing other miscellaneous things.

"Some outfits have lost more freshmen than they should," Col. Davis said. "But we have not made any statements of disbanding any of them because they have lost some of their men."

During the officer orientation before school, Col. Davis said a unit would be dissolved if it lost too many of their members. We cannot have such small outfits because such units don't function properly, he said.

Dr. Robert B. Kamm, dean of Student Personnel Services, said he had received several reports from freshmen about sophomores, with two cases where freshmen had to stand at a brace against the wall for two hours.

Several company commanders are now in the process of writing reports on the cases involved. One of these reports is on a freshman who did 40 push-ups and then collapsed. Hospital authorities said they knew "nothing" about such an incident.

Union Fee Election Closes at 5 Today

The election to decide whether a compulsory union fee for the operation, maintenance and support of the Memorial Student Union will close out at 5 p.m. today. Balloting opened yesterday at the voting booth located by the Post Office area in the Center.

The fee election was authorized by the State Legislature at its last session. The maximum that can be charged is $2 per regular semester and $1 per summer semester.

The results will be canvassed and declared by the A&M Board of Directors which is meeting here this weekend.

pany of 30 artists, selected from the nation's best at auditions recently held in Mexico City.

The production comes straight from the hearts of the people and their everyday lives. Elements of the company are dance groups bringing the dances of regions from which they come, a trio singing romantic popular songs, a tenor and soprano, a Mariachi band and a number of musicians playing Mexican instruments.

Tickets for the production were included in the student activities fee or may be purchased at the door or at the office of Student Activities in Goodwin Hall. Price of the tickets is $2 general admission and $2.50 reserve seat admission.

AH Department Has Newcomers

The Animal Husbandry Department has one new staff member and five new graduate assistants this year.

W. T. Berry Jr., the new staff member, replaces Dr. W. M. Warren who resigned to join the staff at Alabama Polytechnic Institute. Berry will coach the senior livestock judging team and serve as coordinator for the beginning course in animal husbandry.

A graduate of A&M, class of '42, he holds both the MS and BS degrees in animal husbandry. He is married and the father of three children.

New graduate assistants in the department are Duane Kraemer, BS in animal husbandry, University of Wisconsin; Charles Deyoe, BS in animal husbandry, Kansas State College; James S. Williams, BS in animal husbandry, Washington State College; John Guenther, BS in animal husbandry, Louisiana State University; and Bobby Joe Ragsdale, BS in animal husbandry, Texas A&M.

Chess Committee

The first meeting of the Student Center Chess Committee will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the game room of the MSC, according to Charles Skillman, chairman of the committee. Purpose of the meeting is to organize a chess club, to hold tournaments and to give instruction.

Weather Today

PARTLY CLOUDY

Partly cloudy with no rain is the forecast for today. The temperature at 10:30 a.m. was 88 degrees. Yesterday's high was 93 degrees with a low of 71 degrees.

'Military Civilians' Move To Dorm 16

Civilian students who plan to return to Corps status started moving into the first floor of dormitory 16 yesterday.

Approximately 45 students had moved in by 10 p.m. There is expected to be more than 60 men in the unit, which will be in the 3 Battalion, 2 Regiment. They will wear "E" Infantry brass insignia.

The unit will drill on the main drill field today at 4 p.m. All members should be in uniform. Uniform regulations will be mandatory Monday. Meal tickets must be turned in when the new unit starts marching into Sbis with the rest of the Corps.

Men returning to uniform seemed happy with their new home and enthusiastic about taking part in Corps activities. They will compete as any other military unit in all competitive drills and other Corps functions including the Gen. Moore Trophy.

"It would certainly be great if we won the Moore Trophy, the Intramural Flag, or something like that," said Wayne Davis, one of the juniors in the new unit. "We should do pretty good on all the pass-bys, parades and stuff like that. Every man in it has had experience marching, and is pretty Corps happy or he wouldn't be over here in the first place. Besides we won't have any freshmen," he said.

"I certainly wish we hadn't missed marching in the pass-by last night," commented Eddie Nettles, another of 'E' Infantry's juniors. "We would have won thumbs down, and besides I hate to miss out on any of the parades that way. I haven't been out of the Corps long enough to talk about, two weeks, but I'm certainly glad to be back in."

Louisiana Hayride Here Monday

Louisiana moves to Texas A&M Monday night when the Student Activities Department presents "Louisiana Hayride," well-known hillbilly music program.

The show will be presented at 7:30 in White Coliseum. This is not a Town Hall program. Advance tickets which may be purchased at the Student Activities Office in Goodwin Hall are 75 cents for adults, including students, and 35 cents for children under 12. Tickets at the door will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

The Hayride stars Elvis Presley, with his band "Scotty and Bill." Also in the show is Johnny Horton, recording artist; Jimmy and Johnny, featuring imitations of the nation's top artists; J. E. and Maxine Brown; Betty Amos; Dalton and Lulu Jo, religious song singers; and a comedy, Willie "Bird Brain."

Master of Ceremonies for the program is Horace Logan, producer of the Louisiana Hayride.

Doors for the program will open at 6:30 p.m.

YES OR NO?—Students actively participated in the union fee election yesterday in the Memorial Student Center by the Post Office. Although no reports on the outcome of the election are available, indications are that a heavier vote than is usual for an A&M election has turned out to decide on the compulsory fee. The election ends at 5 p.m. today.
