Consolidated Tries To Even Mark Friday

A&M Consolidated's injury ridden football team tries to even its season record against Smiley's Eagles on Tiger Field Friday night. Smiley, of Houston, is the fourth straight Class AA squad that the Tigers have tackled this fall, and comes into the CHS game with a 1-2 record. Consolidated also holds a 1-2 won-lost slate. The Eagles move up to Class AAA next year, and will be in the same district as Bryan's Broncos. Three members of CHS's starting backfield were injured in last Friday night's clash with Navasota. Quarterback Edgar Feldman and fullback Bill Kavanaugh may not be ready for the Smiley game, and right half Bill Hall is definitely out for at least two more weeks. Feldman is the leading Tiger scorer with 12 points. Kavanaugh paces Consolidated's running attack with 145 yards in three games, followed by Bobby Witcher with 73 and Bill Hall's 47 yards.

Now it can be told! Texas university has the biggest thud this side of the Mississippi River, or in the world, according to a story in "The Daily Texan." Sorry, they didn't mean their football team but were referring to their new pride and joy, "Big Bertha."

Now Big Bertha is not a comely Teasip but an eight-by-four-foot bass drum. What we are wondering is just who the heck is big enough to carry such a levathian. We've seen some residents of the Forty Acres carry some pretty good size "loads," but not in the way of bass drums.

Aggies Face Big, Fast Cougar Squad Saturday

Home Opener Promises Explosive Action

A&M loads its guns for Cougar this week in preparation for its home opener against the University of Houston's biggest, fastest and most experienced squad in the nearby school's young history. "As I told our folks, Houston is bigger than us, faster than us, and there's twice as many of 'em," bawled Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant after workout yesterday, "plus the fact that they have a polished quarterback."

Cougar Coach Bill Meek has been experimenting with an even more devastating backfield combination than the one which ran wild over Montana Sept. 17. Meek put his three explosive fullbacks, Curley Johnson, Donnie Caraway, and Owen Mulholland in the first string backfield last week along with star quarterback Jimmy Dickey.

In the 54-12 rout of Montana Meek's trio of fullbacks averaged 9.7 yards per carry. Even if he decides not to use all his fullbacks at once, Meek has a bevy of break-away halfbacks. Halfback Scooter Stegall ran from scrimmage only one time in the season opener, and that was for a 60-yard TD.

"Unless we play as well as we did against LSU, and make less mistakes, we won't be in the game. You mark my word," Bryant warned.

The Aggies, held in close check by the first string Fish team in Tuesday's practice, flexed their offensive muscles yesterday by scoring numerous touchdowns against the first-year men. Jimmy Wright operated the man-under slot for the No. 1 varsity team.

Bucks Loyd Taylor, Jack Pardee, John Crow, Roddy Osborne and George Gillar ripped off sizeable chunks of yardage in yesterday's short scrimmage session. End Dean Meeks, who missed the UCLA and LSU games because of an arm injury, and quarterback Bobby Conrad may see limited action against the Cougars Friday night. Conrad pulled a leg muscle in last week's workouts. Tackle Henry Clark will be out at least two more weeks with an injured knee.
