Dulles, Eisenhower Give Hope For Progress Of Big Four

News of the World

By The Associated Press

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Informed sources said yesterday that deposed President Juan D. Peron and his associates cost the Argentine administration more than three billion dollars in the nine years they were in power. They said the losses were incurred in many forms, including illegal exchange and import permits for Peron's favorites, money and other gifts to Peronista and labor organizations and illegal payments from government funds to sports stars and other individuals.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—The Florida Supreme Court ruled yesterday that Negroes could not be admitted to the all-white University of Florida until a determination had been made whether there would be harmful effects.

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret, looking her loveliest amid the nationwide clamor over her romance, dined last night with the Archbishop of Canterbury. The Church of England primate speaks for all Anglican churchmen who frown on her romance with Peter Townsend.

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board has decided to ask the Supreme Court to rule that an employer must open his books to a labor union when claiming he can't afford a wage demand. Lower courts have split on the question.

Foreign Ministers Meet Oct. 27 On East-West

DENVER (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said yesterday that President Eisenhower shares with him a "measured hope" for concrete progress at the Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva on issues dividing East and West. Dulles got Eisenhower's final "counsel and advice" on the conference opening Oct. 27 in a 25-minute meeting with the chief executive at Fitzsimons Army Hospital.

Then, at a news conference at the Denver White House, the secretary said that while he doesn't expect "spectacular results," he does think that he and the British, French and Soviet foreign ministers will make "concrete progress toward unification of Germany within a framework of European security."

He said he also looks for definite progress on increased contacts between East and West and on clearing away some of the misunderstandings that seem to have arisen over the disarmament issue.

In touching thus on all four points of the Geneva agenda, Dulles shied away from using the word "optimism."

"But any results at all," he said, "would mark an advance on most, if not all, of our prior conferences with the Soviet Union."

Dulles leaves for Europe Friday, after briefing congressional leaders of both parties on the Geneva parley in Washington tomorrow.

It was the second Eisenhower-Dulles meeting since the President's Sept. 24 heart attack. The first was a week ago yesterday.

With the doctors continuing to report that Eisenhower is making satisfactory headway without complications, Dulles said that he found "very distinct evidence of more vigor—more vigorous health." He said the President's mind was as vigorous as it could be at their last meeting and "this time there was more evidence of physical robustness."

Every day, the physicians are letting the chief executive sit up a bit more in a chair. He gets in a daily sun bath on a hospital terrace. And by the end of this week or early next the doctors hope to have him taking his first steps.

Letters Received

Students Praised For Good Conduct

Col. Joe E. Davis, commandant, has received two letters commending the A&M Cadet Corps on its conduct while in Fort Worth for the first Corps Trip of the year.

Roy Driver, assistant city manager of Fort Worth, wrote, "You are to be commended for the splendid cooperation and excellent conduct of the student body of Texas A&M upon their visit to Fort Worth for the Texas Christian University-Texas A&M game. No incident of serious nature occurred."

L. R. (Dutch) Meyer, director of athletics at TCU, also sent a letter to Col. Davis commending the Corps and their actions.

"Due to the leadership of cadet officers and the cooperation of all cadets, the conduct of the Corps was excellent and I consider it the most successful I have ever experienced during my tenure at A&M," Col. Davis said.

Cadets took complete control at night spots in Fort Worth Saturday night, according to Lt. Col. Taylor Wilkins, assistant commandant. Students went to the manager and told them if they had any trouble with A&M students to let them know and the matter would be taken care of immediately.

Col. Wilkins said he had several cadets call him and tell him where they were and where they were spending the night so he could reach them if trouble did occur. He said this was the first time any such thing had been done.

So, at this time, The Battalion would like to express its appreciation and congratulations to the Cadet Corps and all A&M students upon the conduct exhibited in Fort Worth during the past weekend. We hope it will be the same in Houston Nov. 12.

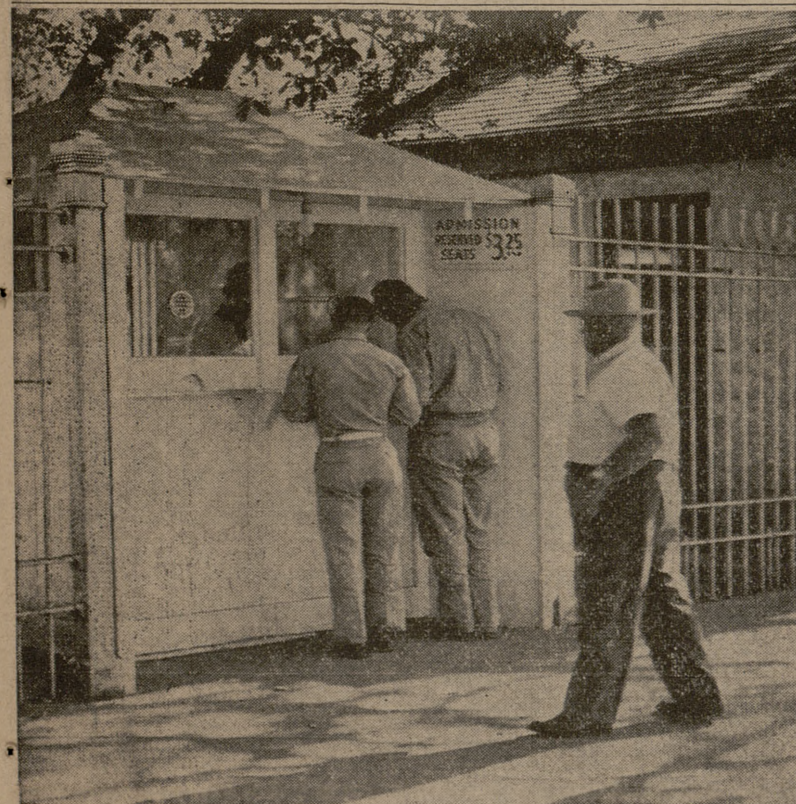

Talent Show Trials Will Begin Nov. 8

Those interested in auditioning for the show may do so by signing up in the Program Consultants Office in the MSC as soon as possible.

Mike Griffin is in charge of the show this year.

SMALL LINE—The line around the ticket sales booth for A&M football tickets has begun to decrease as the week draws to a close. According to Pat Dial, business manager of the athletic department, ticket sales are enjoying their biggest season since 1951. There have been about 37,000 tickets sold for the Baylor game Saturday.

Don't Forget: 5 P.M. Today Is Deadline for 2nd Installment

Ticket Sales Up; Highest Since '51

Ticket sales are enjoying their biggest season since 1951 said Pat Dial, athletic department business manager.

The Baylor game is not a sell-out as yet, but so far, about 37,000 tickets have been sold, he said.

In reply to how many tickets are left for the remaining five games, Dial said that the SMU game is, by far the one that has the most tickets left for sale. There are around 10,000 tickets left for that game but almost all of them are located in the end zones.

Only 250 tickets for the Arkansas game at Fayetteville were available this year and these went on sale this morning at 8 a. m.

Mama Bear and Baylor Bear?

Mystery Unsolved

Mama Bear Loses Baby

By JIM NEIGHBORS
Battalion Staff Writer

Once upon a time, there were three bears—a Mama Bear, a Papa Bear and a Little Baylor—oops, the Baylor Bear is missing.

That's what the Waco Chamber of Commerce is yelling—someone stole the Baylor cub. And, if it's not returned soon, the C of C is going to be in hot water because they are responsible for the thing.

Now it just so happens that Battalion Photographer James Schubert snapped a picture of a mama bear and her little cub somewhere—he wouldn't tell us where though.

Things were beginning to look mighty suspicious around here, with a picture of a bear cub and its mama, but B. A. (Scotty) Parham, Student Senate president, says there "isn't any bear here and, furthermore, A&M doesn't want the thing on its hands."

It seems that everyone is getting into the picture one way or another. Bennie Zinn, head of Student Affairs, said he talked to a Baylor official, but that he didn't have any additional information about the missing cub.

Lt. Col. Taylor Wilkins, assistant commandant, said he hoped the thing was brought to light before the football game Saturday. Of course, this does not mean that it is being kept down in A&M's steam tunnels.

Cafe Rue Pinalle To Be Open Friday

Rue Pinalle, Aggie version of a french night club, will be held Friday night, from 8-12 p.m. in the ping pong area of the Memorial Student Center.

Floorshow will be 20 beautiful girls and eight men from the University of Texas. The show starts with an opening chorus line and then features a juggling act, dance team, girl vocalist, and a closing chorus line. Jim Hancock is master of ceremonies.

Tickets are 75 cents per person and are on sale in the bowling alley.

The Capers Combo will provide music for the show.

Profits from this and other MSC sponsored dances are used to cover losses incurred by other MSC dances; any profits at the end of the year are put in the Center's Revolving Fund which is budgeted among Center activities which take in money.

Air Force Ball Planned for Nov. 4

"Outpost in Morocco" will be the theme of the Air Force Ball to be held in Sbsia Mess Hall, 8:30 p. m., Nov. 4.

A band has not been chosen for the dance yet, but several are being considered, according to Dexter Lackland, chairman of the ball committee.

The Air Force sweetheart will be presented at the dance. Nine finalists will be chosen, one from each Air Force group and the band.

Members of the ball committee are Glenn Rice, first wing commander; Harold Sellers, second wing commander; John Jenkins, deputy corps commander; John Nelms, publicity; Bill Swann, music; Dave Faucett, invitations; Jerry Cobb, tickets; Doug Von Gonten, decorations; Jack Brady, programs; and Donvic Cain, sweetheart selection.

Economics Club Hears Mudie Talk

The Economics Club held its first dinner seminar at the Memorial Student Center Tuesday night, featuring an after-dinner talk by John H. Mudie on "The Problem of Satisfying Latin American Demands for Economic Consideration." Mudie came to A&M from the University of Texas last February and is now completing work for a Ph. D.

The next meeting of the club will be held Nov. 1.

Kiwanians To Sell Lunches At Game

The College Station Kiwanis Club will sponsor the sale of box lunches for home football games again this year, according to Bob Cherry, president of the Club.

For the Baylor game this weekend, 16 Kiwanians will be stationed at the entrances to the campus from 10:45 a.m. until game time at 2 p.m. to sell lunches.

The box lunch, which costs one dollar, will contain fried chicken, bread and butter, pickles, olives, potato chips, cookies and an apple. Proceeds from the sale will go to the Crippled Children's Fund, and other Kiwanis Club charities.

Four Classes Hold Reunions Saturday

The classes of '25, '30, '35 and '45 will have class reunions this weekend.

All classes begin registration Saturday at 8 a.m. The class of '25 begins registration at 2 p.m. Friday on the first floor of the Memorial Student Center. Saturday arrivals register at 8 a.m. in the first floor lounge of the MSC.

The way all of this got started was at a pep rally held at Baylor Tuesday night. It seems that someone saw "four men" who were not Baylor students there at about the time the fuzzy little rascal disappeared. How Baylorites knew these four men were not Baylor students still remains a mystery.

Last year, the Baylor cub was stolen—by Baylor students—just before the A&M-Baylor game in Waco. Now, this year, the same thing happened and it could have been done by the same bunch of villains that did it last year.

Some four carloads of BU students were caught "sneaking" on the campus early yesterday morning. Bryan police stopped three cars on the outskirts of town and told them to turn around and head back to Waco. Campus Security officers caught the other car as it was leaving A&M.

Altogether, there were 23 of the mean little rascals in on the plot to do something or other to the A&M campus. Maybe it was retaliation for the alleged crime of stealing "Pancho," their little Baylor "Bar." Maybe Davy got him.

To go back to the Baylor "boys" being down here, about 5 a.m. yesterday morning, three one-quart cans were found on Kyle Field. They had contained gasoline but no visible damage has been as yet found on the field, according to William Fitts, Kyle Field grounds keeper.

It seems that the way everyone found out about the cub being gone was through an anonymous telephone call to the Waco News-Tribune. The Tribune received a call from a "suspicious sounding voice" which claimed Baylor officials and students didn't even know the bear was missing.

In closing, does anyone know how to keep a claw scratch from becoming infected?

Student Directory Now Available

Student directories are now available at the Office of Student Publications, second floor, Goodwin Hall, and at the MSC main desk.

For 75 cents, an alphabetical list of 6,834 student names, class, course of study, address, phone and home address are available. Faculty and staff listings, 1,871 strong, are included with office, position, campus phone, home address and phone.

There are 3,786 students in the Corps and 3,048 civilian students. Married students number 1,216. Of this 1,216, 526 students live in college operated housing and 690 live off the campus in College Station, Bryan or elsewhere.
