him he could. Anyone can try out for the team who wants to." Diminutive Loyd Taylor, 5-8, 163-pound halfback from Roswell, N.M., scored all seven Aggie points against Arkansas. He raked in a 10-yard pass from the arm of quarterback Jimmy Wright and kicked the all-important extra point, his 10th in 12 attempts.

Jack Pardee, one of A&M's top candidates for all-conference honors outgained Arkansas' "great" Henry Moore, picking-up 63 yards in 14 carries, compared to Moore's 62 in 18. Pardee also outshined Moore on defense.

John Crow, seeing action for the first time in two weeks, plowed-up 44 yards in 9 smashes, and caught a pass good for 23 yards. Crow now is 10th in SWC rushing with 261 yards.

The Cadets scored on a 59-yard march just 5:40 deep in the second half, with Wright tossing to Taylor for the final 10 yards. A&M penetrated Arkansas' 20 on four other occasions, but failed to generate enough momentum to score.

The Razorbacks tied things up in the final four minutes of play on a fourth down plunge from 1-yard out by Walker. His perfect conversion left the score knotted at 7-7.

The statistics were almost as even as the score. A&M had a total of 272 yards, as compared with 295 for Arkansas. Each team completed five out of 11 passes—A&M for 73 yards and the Hogs for 78—and both lost two fumbles.

the "best team play we've had this year." Waller scored first with 3:48 left in the first quarter. Bill Butler swept left end for three yards, climaxing a 7-play 58-yard drive. Don Purvis booted what proved to be a very important extra point.

The Bulldogs made it 14-0 following a fumble recovery on the CHS 27. Pass interference moved the ball to the 1, and Bill Roberts rumbled across from that point. Purvis converted.

The Tigers took the second-half kickoff and ramed 75 yards down field in eight plays for the score. Feldman raked up the six-pointer from the Bulldog 23. Garcia's conversion attempt was blocked.

Late in the final period, Feldman hit Bobby Witcher with an aerial to put the ball on the Waller 3. Kavanaugh blasted for one, followed by a McNeely thrust across the goal. The extra-point attempt was again blocked, and CHS was never able to get its hands on the ball during the short time left in the game.

You're going to have to keep the Corps on a practical basis or destroy it, and you seem to be merrily on your way to the latter.

ENGINEERING GRADUATES

Lockheed representatives will be on campus Thursday, November 3, 1955 to discuss how the company's diversified development program can advance your career.

For interview see your Placement Officer.

Activities at the California Division of Lockheed Aircraft Corporation cover virtually every phase of aeronautical endeavor. A total of 45 major projects is in progress.

The expanding development and production program has already resulted in 13 models of aircraft now on production lines—huge airliners, commercial and military cargo transports, extremely high-speed fighters, jet trainers, radar search planes and patrol bombers.

Development projects are even more diversified, include nuclear applications to aircraft, turbo-prop and jet transports, advanced versions of vertical-rising aircraft and a number of other significant classified projects.

This capacity to develop and produce such a wide range of aircraft is important to career-conscious engineers. It means more scope for your ability, more opportunity for promotion with so many projects constantly in motion, more job security—because your career is not restricted to one type of plane.
