

Undefeated Kittens To Play Madisonville There Tonight

By MAURICE OLIAN
CHS Sports Correspondent

The undefeated A&M Consolidated Kittens try to wrap up the District 25-A junior high championship tonight at 7:30 against Madisonville's rugged eleven at Madisonville.

Only a 19-19 stalemate with powerful Huntsville mars the otherwise spotless Kitten record. They go into tonight's clash with a 5-0-1 won-lost slate.

The Kittens romped and stomped over Madisonville in their last meeting at College Station, 35-7, and are favored again tonight.

Consolidated edged Navasota last week 20-13 in the final minutes of play. The Kittens hold other decisions over Navasota, 33-0, Hearne, 26-0, and Huntsville, 13-6, so far this season.

Quarterback Buddy Holiek directs the Kitten T-formation, Tommy Bramble and Dee Smith hold down the halfback positions, and Condy Pugh starts at fullback.

On defense the CHS lineup shows three changes. Harold Alford goes in for Casey and Fred Wright takes over Sayer's position. Jimmy Wright, who has been a starter at fullback, is injured this week. A&M Consolidated's high school squad moves into Sealy tomorrow night, and will be looking for its first District 25-A win of the season.

Sealy pulled out its offensive guns last week to trample Tom-ball's Cougars 53-27. The lopsided victory was Sealy's second against on losses in conference action, and upped its season record to an impressive 6-2 mark. Sealy is the defending district champion.

Jack McNeely, who played fullback for the first time last Friday night against Waller, turned in probably the best running performance by a Tiger back this year. He pounded the Bulldog line for 95 yards in 19 trips to emerge as the game's leading ground gainer.

Vaughan, Hataway Aid Squadron 3 Victory

By JOE DAN BOYD
Intramural Sports Writer

The accurate arm of quarterback Dick Vaughan combined with glue fingered James Hataway to lead Squadron 3 over Squadron 23, 6-0, in freshman intramurals Tuesday.

Bagging one of Vaughan's many short aeries, Hataway eluded the entire Sqd. 23 defense to race over the goal line untouched and wrap up the ball game in a neat one touchdown package.

The conversion try by Richard Hussey was no good, and neither team could manage another tally.

Squadron 23 looked like a new team in the second half of play, as Hubert Vykukal intercepted a stray Vaughan pass to set-up a short aerial drive of their own.

The drive ended on the Sqd. 3 1-yard line, and was sparked by such offensive aces as Perry Pierce and Donald Shannon. John Hodge's attempt to pass for a game-tying touchdown was broken up by Hussey.

Sqd. 3's big moment in the last half saw a great exhibition of running by Hataway, who was conveyed down field by the fine blocking of Kyle Parnell and Richard Marr.

In other games Wednesday, Sqd. 20 crushed A-Athletics, 20-9; Sqd. 22 edged Sqd. 2, 7-0; Sqd. 1 downed Sqd. 21 on penetrations and Sqd. 24 walloped Sqd. 4, 26-6.

The band will use the winning name on its program held in the Fountain Room.

The contest will end Friday. Winners will be announced in the near future.
