

A&M Rodeo Team Goes To McNeese

Six Rodeo Team members will represent A&M at the McNeese State College National Intercollegiate Rodeo in December.

The members will be A. G. Ollre of Houston, Rodney Butler of Sulphur, La., Curtis Burlin of Bryan, Billy Steele of Streetman, James Dickey of Bay City and Wayne Ward of San Antonio.

These six members were elected for the rodeo by members of the Rodeo Club. To qualify for the team members must be able to perform in the arena and have an acceptable grade point ratio.

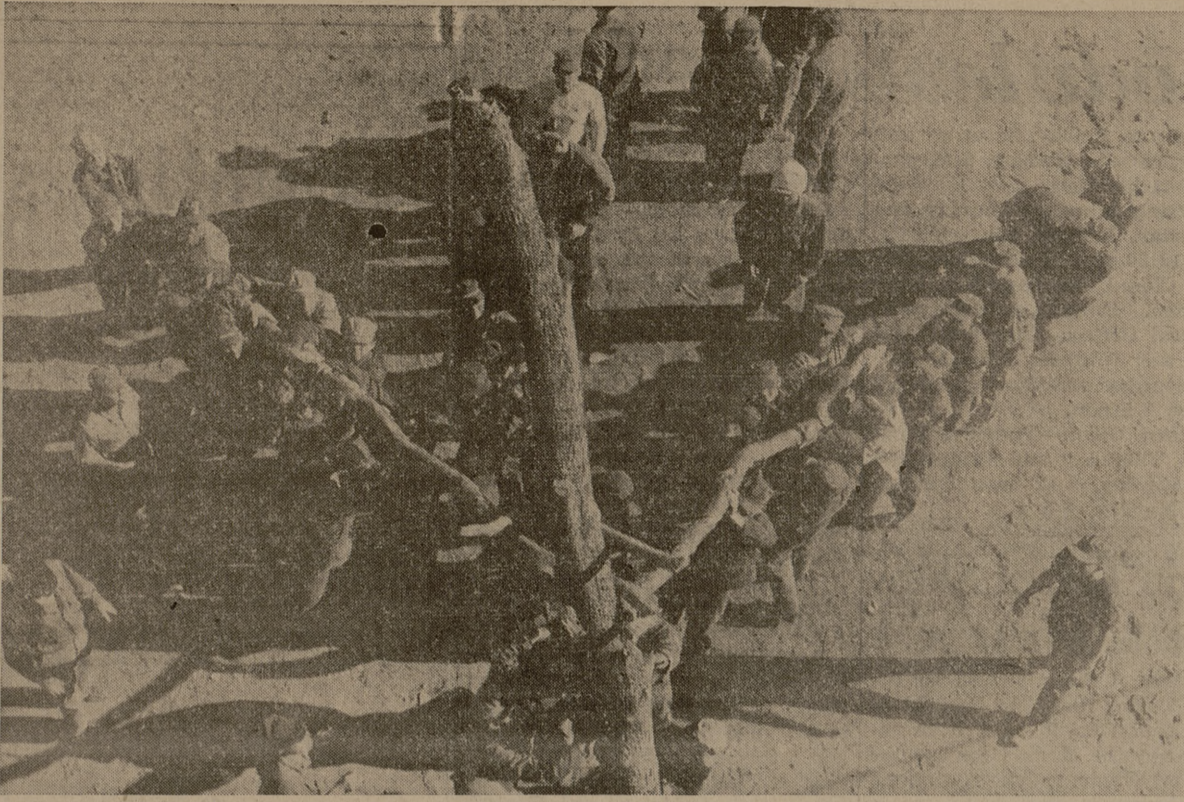

The A&M team won first place in the season's opening NIRA rodeo at Sam Houston State College earlier this fall.

See Joe Faulk '32 for —

- Auto Parts
- Seat Covers
- Crosley-Bendix Appliances

JOE FAULK'S
AUTO & APPLIANCE STORE

214 N. Bryan 2-1669

STICKING IT UP—Shown here are a group of freshmen and sophomores pushing a log onto the stack by means of sticks. Some logs were stacked in this manner, but most of them were moved by means of a winch truck. The bonfire is larger around at the bottom this year than it was last year but it is not quite as tall. It is scheduled to burn tomorrow night.

GREENS

—Immediate Delivery—

We have a new shipment of pants cloth. Ask the men who have bought trousers from us.

LOUPOT'S

Trade with Lou—he's right with you

Football Telecasts Takes Preparation

A lot of work has to be done to get ready for a national telecast of a football game. Most of the preliminary work for the two telecasts from Kyle Field this year were done weeks before the regional broadcast of the Baylor game here Oct. 22.

Thursday is the big one, NBC-TV's "Game of the Day," the first of its kind from Kyle Field. Football fans in every corner of the nation will get to see the traditional Turkey Day game between the Aggies and the Longhorns from the University of Texas.

Earlier this year technicians of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company installed transmitter equipment atop the stadium press box, and a portable microwave radio relay tower was readied at Iola, about 20 miles away. The project was carried on by Southwestern Bell, in cooperation with the Southwestern States Telephone Company which operates the College Station and Bryan telephone exchanges.

The big job is to supply a temporary link between here and Madisonville, the closest point on the Bell System nationwide television network. To do this, the signal produced by the TV cameras and equipment is delivered to a transmitter atop the press box, with the transmitter directed at Iola. There, a 150-foot portable tower has a receiver to pick up the signal from Kyle Field and a transmitter to send it on to Madisonville.

At Madisonville the signal is picked up on a receiver located on a 50-foot platform and is delivered to the coaxial cable at a "repeater" (or amplifier) station in east Madisonville.

From that city the signal is sent to Chicago via Dallas, Oklahoma City and St. Louis for transmission to all television stations on the NBC-TV network. It goes across the country by coaxial cable or radio relay, or both, and is delivered to the apparatus panels of the various TV stations. It is monitored along the way to make sure the quality stays good, and at some points, the program may be switched so that stations in various cities are fed from a single location.

To insure an uninterrupted telecast of the game, the company is providing two complete and separate but similar paths for the television signal to take.

McCALL'S Humble Service Station

"Where Service Is First"

East Gate 4-8884
Hy 6

Job Book Offered to Srs.

Engineering seniors at A&M can get a free directory on major companies looking for young engineers.

The new book is the "Engineer's Job Directory." In 88 pages, it lists the requirements of 236 major companies. Special selections are devoted to show the opportunities for undergraduates, professors, and instructors looking for summer jobs.

A special Engineering and Scientific Job Index lists the companies seeking engineers for specific classifications. The index provides 65 different fields in concise form.

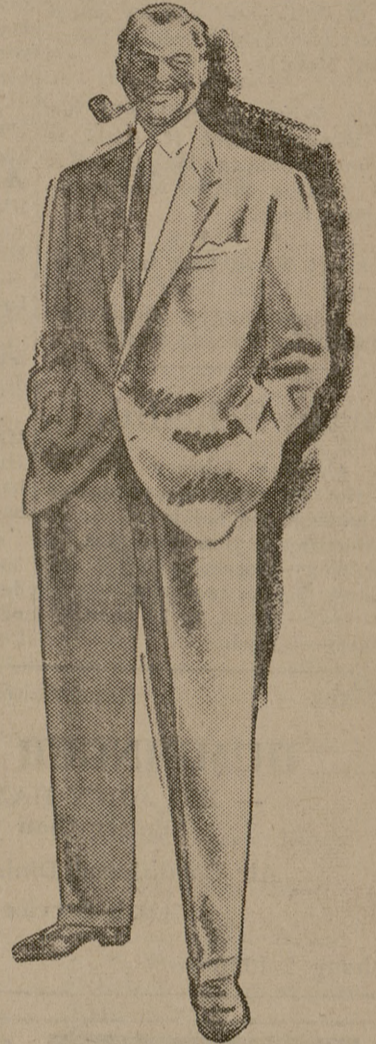

Copies of EJB may be obtained through the Placement Office or by writing directly to the publisher, Decision, Inc., 481 First National Bank Bldg., Cincinnati 2, Ohio.

CHS Holidays

The holiday schedule for the A&M Consolidated Schools has been released by Dr. L. S. Richardson, superintendent. School will close for Thanksgiving after Wednesday afternoon classes and will reopen Monday morning.

Why you get a more practical suit in a

NEW YORKER® WORSTED

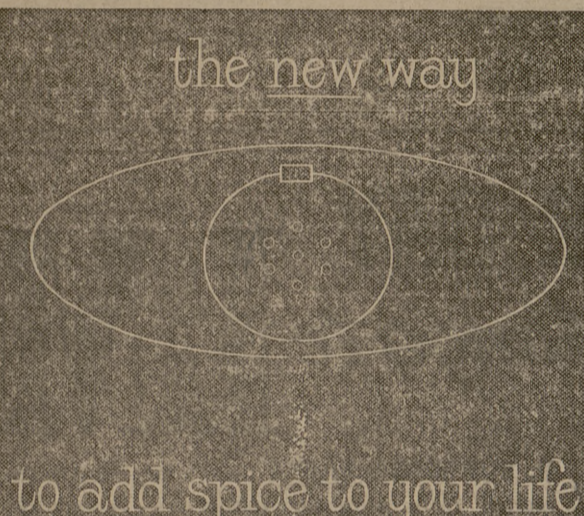

- 1 The fabrics are the choice pieces selected from the offerings of America's greatest woolen mills.
- 2 The patterns and colors have been selected with taste and care and each is classic in itself.
- 3 Those skilled Rochester tailors of Michaels-Stern have done an outstanding job of needing these fabrics into really handsome suits.
- 4 And the price is, by comparison with other suits, so attractive that you must see these soon.

Tailored in Rochester by MICHAELS-STERN

$65.00

Conway & Co.

103 N. Main Bryan

to add spice to your life!

Old Spice FOR MEN
BODY TALCUM 100 PLUS TAX
SHULTON NEW YORK TORONTO

Letters

(Continued from Page 2)

ask you old Army!

Do we say and continue to say, that we have the greatest school in the world, and yet let this incompetence rule in the most important place on the campus—the hospital?

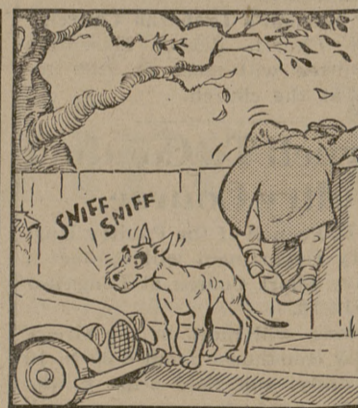

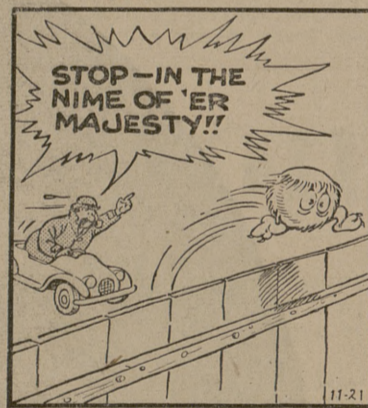

Those vital fifteen minutes could mean that boy's life . . . and then we would express our regrets and keep telling each other that something should be done to improve our "hospital."

The life of that sophomore is in the hands of good doctors and God Almighty now, and all we can do for him is to pray for his recovery. But will this malicious incompetence continue until another accident like this occurs and we are heart-sick again with the grief of one of our fellow Aggies being injured or dying because of inefficient care? Is this . . . "True to each other as Aggies can be?"

Let's put that fighting Texas Aggie Spirit behind a drive to remove or improve that so-called "Horse-pital."

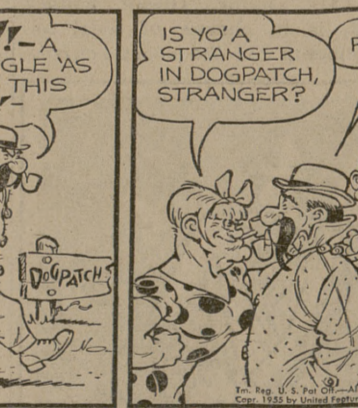

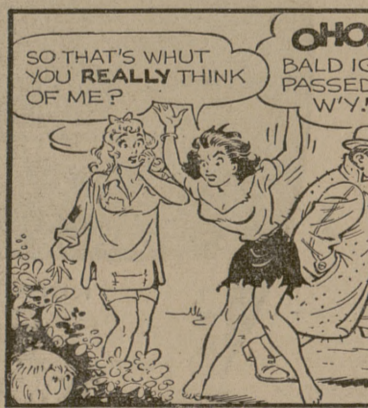

J. P. Greenwalt, '58

LFL ABNER

By Al Capp

LFL ABNER

By Al Capp

A MUM Corsage

To Fit Every Pocketbook For The Thanksgiving Game

AGGIELAND FLOWER SHOP

NEXT TO CAMPUS THEATRE

NORTH GATE

