

12th Man Bowl

Teams Don Pads, Get Contact Work

By BARRY HART
Assistant Sports Editor

Leather popped and the action got rough as both the Maroon and the White teams, opponents in Thursday's 12th Man Bowl game, put on the pads Monday.

With their squads cut to 33 men, the head coaches, Larry Winkler of the Maroon squad and Ronald Robbins of the White, concentrated their efforts on contact work with only two practice sessions left before game time.

Hampered by the loss of two first line men, halfback Tom Norton and guard Charlie Kugler, who missed the workout with cases of the flu, the Whites showed a lot of spirit and hustle in their practice.

Robbins and his assistants, Henry Clark, Dee Powell, Bobby Lockett, and Donald Robbins, put their charges through a grueling one-on-one contact session with three offensive linemen facing three defensive men and the backs trying to run through the line.

"Oren Helvey, Bob Singer, Frank Webber and Louis Frank are looking good," said Robbins. "Singer will probably start at quarterback Thursday."

Helvey is a stocky 200-pound fullback while Webber plays end and Frank is a tough 233-pound tackle who may have to go both ways. Frank was very impressive in Monday's workout, both on offense and defense.

Over in the Maroon camp the session was devoted to a savage contact period and wound up with a half-hour full-speed scrimmage.

The offensive team was composed of Ed Grey and Ken Briggs at ends, Ken Upton and A. V. Gonzalez at tackles, Bob Peters and Roy Millen at guards and John Ziegler in the line. Two full backfields alternated on every play with Gene Harding and Glen Rand at quarterback, Channing Williams and Ted Muenster at left halfback, Henry Tom and Phil Newport at right halfback and Charlie Smith and Didi Thompson at fullback. They ran from the White unbalanced-T against the defensive unit for 15 minutes and then ran their own plays for the remainder of the scrimmage.

"It was the best workout we've had so far," said Coach Winkler. "They were really butting heads out there for a change—we were 200 per cent better than Saturday's workout."

Tickets, which are 50 cents each, will be on sale at the gate. Profits from the game are used to support the 12th Man Bowl Scholarship and the Student Aid Fund.

The half-time show will feature the Wharton Junior College girls' drill team.

SERVING AS a panel member and a roving observer will be the head of the Department of Social Sciences, U. S. Military Academy, Col. George A. Lincoln. Col. Lincoln was graduated from the Academy in 1929 and holds a BA and MA from Oxford. He was on the War Department general staff, 1943-47; Wartime International conferences, War Department member Joint and Combined Staff planners, 1944-47; deputy to Under-secretary of Army, 1948-49; Defense Department representative for drafting Mutual Security Program, 1951; defense adviser to U. S. Representative, Temporary Council Committee of NATO; member of U. S. delegations to Rome and Lisbon NATO conferences, 1951-52. He is also the author of several books on foreign policy.

Dr. John Claunch, chairman, History Department at SMU, will serve as a round-table advisor for SCONA which opens tomorrow. He holds the Bachelor's Master's and Doctorate degrees, the first from Stephen F. Austin College and the others from the University of Texas. Dr. Claunch was a one-time member of the Texas Legislature, and also education officer for the Air Force Training Command, W.W. II.

Letters

Editor, Battalion:

Not that it makes any difference, but your front page story of "D" Infantry's Christmas Party for twenty-nine underprivileged children has a false statement that I feel should be corrected.

Ken Kuykendall and his executive officer did not originate the idea of having a Christmas Party for underprivileged children. Last Christmas, squadron 6 gave a Christmas Party for the second and third grades of Lincoln School. We had a Santa Claus, distributed gifts and had singing and refreshments for the little colored children. A fine time was had by all, and the party was repeated Monday night. There were approximately sixty children and their parents.

Squadron 6 does not claim the distinction of being the first cadet unit to give a party of this type. Although we don't know for sure, surely, somewhere in the past "Ole Army" used this way to express the true Christmas Spirit.

AS FERME I FAIL TO SEE THE NECESSITY OF TRAVELIN' FAR AFIELD IN SEARCH OF OPPORTUNITY.

YOU MEAN YOU CAN GET THE CHANCE TO FLOP AT HOME AS WELL AS ABROAD?

IT'S ALL ACCORDIN' TO HOW YOU LOOK AT IT... TAKE COUSIN EARS... HE TOOK A JOB AS A HEARING AIDE... SORT OF A VICE PRESIDENT TO A HARD OF HEARING GENERAL.

ONE DAY THE GENERAL CALLS IN EARS AN' SAYS "SERGEANT, I'M WORRIED" AN' COUSIN EARS SHOUTS "HOW CAN YOU BE F I NEVER TELL YOU ANYTHING THAT I WORRY YOU EVEN IF I HEAR IT."

"THAT'S WHAT WORRIES ME," CRIED THE GENERAL, "HOW CAN I TELL IF THE ENEMY'S ON MY TRAIL?" "EASY," SCREAMED EARS. "YOU'LL SEE ME RINNIN' AHEAD OF YOU WITHOUT WAITIN' FOR INSTRUCTIONS." "STRANGELY, WE NEVER HEARD OF HIM AGAIN."
