

Silver-Lined Justice

Behind every cloud, even an overstuffed bag of wind, is a silver lining.

A federal judge ruled yesterday that the now deflated Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) acted outside the jurisdiction of his committee two years ago in a one-man probe of subversion in defense plants.

The case was concerned with a charge of contempt of Congress by a former research assistant at Harvard University. The judge's ruling resulted in acquittal.

Which only goes to show, let us sincerely hope, that justice, given enough time, will win over demagoguery.

This brings us to the point we had in mind. How long does justice need to triumph in the reactionary Southern stronghold of hatred and fear?

If the Supreme Court of our country is to be our interpreter of justice, allowing for imperfections of human nature and reason, how long will this justice take before it realizes that a narrow-minded band of outlaws (for they are in revolt against the Constitution) are not going to go along.

These Southern States, led as of old by South Carolina, are in revolt—not only against the supreme law of our land as interpreted by our highest court, but also against any principles of humanity and equality among men.

But, inevitably, there is the silver lining behind the black clouds of hatred.

Nine Aggies
Finish Work
At Conference

Nine students from A&M have returned from the Ecumenical Student Conference on the Christian World Mission, held Dec. 27 through Jan. 1 on the University of Ohio campus. Also attending were Bob Monk, Director of the Wesley Foundation, and J. Gordon Gay, general secretary of the YMCA.

The conference was attended by 3,500 student delegates from 400 colleges and universities in North America.

Rev. Monk said the conference was considered to be the most important of its kind in the history of the Student Christian Movement. The reason for this, he said, was the large number of international students who attended as full delegates. The conference included 1,275 students from 80 countries around the world.

Included in discussions were the issues of the new relationship of missionaries to the younger churches around the world, the problems of colonialism, racism, underdeveloped areas, new conflicts between Christianity and the non-Christian religion, and the relationship of the Christian faith to areas of rapid social change.

Students attending from A&M were Max Casalta, Konrad Losen, Steward Coffman, Robert Coffman, Steve Love, Harry Scott, Joe Blair, Bill Riveire and Kilho Park.

Three From A&M
Attend Meeting

Three members of the Department of Agricultural Economics & Sociology at A&M recently attended a meeting of the "Low-Income and Part-Time Farms" subcommittee of the Southwest Land Tenure Research Committee at Texarkana.

They were J. H. Southern, committee chairman, and C. A. Moore and A. C. Magee.

Representatives from Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi and a member of the Production Economics Research Branch, Agricultural Research Service, Washington, also attended.

The group discussed various problems associated with research concerning rural development.

Health Report

Fifty cases of diarrhea were reported by the Bryan-Brazos County Health Unit during the week ending Dec. 31 in College Station and Bryan. Influenza was second with 26 cases reported and strept throat third with 13 cases.
