Football Dance, Dinner to Have 'Coach of Year'

Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty of Michigan State, 1955 Coach of the Year and coach of the 1956 Spartan Rose Bowl champions, will be the principle speaker at the annual football and cross-country dinner-dance here Saturday.

C. N. (Newt) Hielscher, former Bryan resident and A&M professor who is now in the insurance business at Shreveport, will be the master of ceremonies for the event, which will begin at 7 p.m.

The Pat Larson Quintette, featuring Lois Larson and the Aggieband Orchestra, will furnish music for the dance which will be held at Sbis Hall.

Tickets are now on sale at the Memorial Student Center and the Athletic Department, Black's and Aggieband pharmacies in College Station and Black's and Canady's pharmacy in Bryan.

Junior AS Classes Pick Filter Names

Part of the classroom instruction being carried on in the Junior Air science sections is the selection of a name for the Viceroy Cigarette Filter.

Starting out by "brainstorming", a whole list of possible names for the filter is compiled. After exhausting the supply of names each member of the class picks out a name he likes and sends it in.

If one of the members win the contest the prize will be sold and proceeds divided among members of the class.

AFROTC Seniors

All Air Force ROTC cadets who plan to graduate in May, June, July, or August 1956 must sign their applications for reserve commissions before Friday.

Applications can be signed in Room 205 of the Military Science Building. Students who have previously completed AFROTC, but do not have degrees must also sign applications.

Life at A&M

An Aggie Wife's Viewpoint

By MRS. M. C. GRENWELGE

Ed. Note: Mrs. Grenwelge is the wife of Max Grenwelge, class of '57, and wrote this story originally as a Letter to the Editor. The thoughts she expresses, and the experiences that we feel must be very similar to those of other Aggie wives, made us decide to give her story better play. She and other wives play a big part in getting their husbands through college, and deserve recognition for their fine job.

I've read every paper that A&M has published and I think that they are wonderful. In this way my husband and I learn what the student body likes and dislikes.

So here is an Aggie wife's viewpoint of life at Texas A&M College:

When we came to this school we were out to "rake a degree under our hat." Little did we know about saving, cutting corners and when to slow down, but I can tell you now. I know when to stop, look—and keep the baby quiet—'cause hubby has to study.

When a couple gets married and comes to college, the best wedding present she could receive would be a cook book—"1,001 Ways to Cook Hamburger." Oh, but it is fun not to plan a meal—as long as you know how many packages of hamburger meat are left. On Sundays we usually have roast, but by then we're so used to hamburger meat that we really like it.

College is wonderful, for it teaches you to save, to cut down on grocery bills; and how to go to a movie and really enjoy it. I remember when we used to go to see a movie just because we had nothing else to do. Now it is a treat to go.

Some Aggies (single) feel that they couldn't make out being married at college. Well, look around, friends, and you'll find about 430 couples in the same boat. I know there are times when I think that "if we could just get a good job, or if we had some money..." Really, though, we don't need anymore than we have now; all of the Aggies' wives will agree. You can suffer it out together; and, just think—someday when that degree is handed to you, you can leave here, knowing how to live on about $160 per month. Just look what you can save.

Ronald Stalling tallied votes to win the reporter position. He was followed by Charles Ser and Harry Russell who received 246 and 115 votes respectively.

Ben Trotter collected 392 votes to win the sergeant-at-arms position with the most number of votes cast for a single position in the election. Albert Ratliff received 345 votes to win the spot on the election commission. His opponent, Samuel Martinez, collected 286 votes.

Agronomy Society Receives Plaque

A plaque has been presented to the Agronomy Society for future recognition of the winners of the annual Luther G. Jones Fellowship Award.

The bronze bust of Dr. Jones, with space beneath for names of winners and future winners, is mounted on mahogany stained oak. Dr. Jones' friends among the faculty and former students contributed funds for the plaque which will be hung in the Agronomy building. The award was set up by Dr. Jones, who taught here for 35 years.

The committee selects a junior to receive $100 at the beginning of his senior year. The award is chosen on a basis of scholastic activities, personality and leadership.

Attendance For Seniors

Attendance for all graduates will be compulsory throughout 1956, according to a memorandum from the Registrar to all departments of the college.

Ag to the letter, a graduate not having an official record will have his diploma retained.

Ag seniors must pay all bills to the College at the time of the 5 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 12, candidate for graduation to check the bulletin board Registrar's Office on Thursday, Jan. 19-20, to see if or not he is academically qualified for graduation.

Twelve Aggies Ousted For Physical Hazing

News of the World

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS
LONDON—Prime Minister Eden yesterday ordered more troops flown to the Middle East in a show of strength aimed at keeping the peace in the disturbed region. The British acted after anti-British and anti-American rioting in Jordan by elements which oppose that Arab kingdom's joining the Baghdad Pact. The War Office announcement called the move "a precautionary measure" to protect British citizens in the area.

WASHINGTON—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor said yesterday the Army will put "all we've got" into the effort to perfect a missile with 1,500-mile range. The chief of staff also told a news conference that the Army "expects to spend more and more of its money" in the field of missiles. This field includes not only the program for the 1,500-mile, intermediate range rocket, but shorter range rockets and anti-aircraft weapons.

WASHINGTON—Eisenhower administration leaders agreed yesterday to push for quick congressional action on the farm problem. They talked also of the need to get started on a big highway construction effort. Democrats, who control Congress have also shown a desire to get going with farm legislation. Chairman Ellender (D-La.) called his Senate Agriculture Committee to meet with Secretary Benson Thursday morning and with representatives of farm organizations Thursday afternoon. The House Agriculture Committee went to work in a preliminary meeting yesterday.

Town Hall Stresses Culture

The next Town Hall presentation will have an emphasis on culture, with a two-program appearance scheduled Monday for the San Antonio Symphony orchestra.

A children's matinee will be presented at 2 Monday afternoon in Guion Hall. All children in grades two through five at Consolidated Elementary school will be taken to the program as a part of their school day activities.

School, however, will not be let out but will continue as always. Students in grades above the fifth will be charged 50 cents per person for the show.

The regular Town Hall appearance will be at 8 Monday night in White Coliseum.

Admission to Town Hall that night is by Town Hall season ticket or by single-admission tickets, now on sale at the Office of Student Activities. Tickets are $1 for student general admission and $1.50 for non-students. Reserved seat tickets are $1.50 for students and $2.50 for non-students.

The San Antonio Symphony Orchestra, now in its 16th year, is under the musical directorship of

McNeely Attends Research Council

Dr. John G. McNeely of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology at A&M recently attended a meeting in Las Cruces, N.M., of the Western Agricultural Economics Research Council.

BULLETIN

Dr. T. D. Brooks, 73, of College Station, who had been with A&M College from 1932-1953, died in a hospital at Bryan early this morning. He had been in ill health for some time.

Twenty-Four Receive Official Reprimands

Twelve A&M students have been suspended, effective at the end of the current semester, and 24 more given an official reprimand for violating college regulations on physical hazing. All of the 36 students involved in the incident were members of Squadron 10.

The 12 students were reduced to the rank of private, suspended as of Dec. 15, 1955, removed from Squadron 10 and Dormitory 6 was placed off limits to them. The suspension was suspended, pending good behavior, to allow the students to finish this semester's work. They will not be allowed to return in the 1956 spring semester. The students ranked from corporal to first sergeant.

Square Dance To Benefit Dimes March

The Bryan-College Station March of Dimes campaign will start its drive in this area Saturday night, with a square dance in DeWare Field House, according to Mrs. Richard Downward, publicity chairman for the event.

"Doors of the field house will open at 7:30 p.m.," Mrs. Downward said, "and Manning Smith will start the grand march at 8. There will be plenty of room for those who only come to watch."

Several special groups will give exhibitions at the dance, including two squares of dancers from San Antonio, pupils from Smith's classes, some Aggies and a group of pre-school children.

During the intermission, J. T. Kent, chairman of the 1956 drive will tell how dimes and dollars collected will be put to use, and opportunity will be given those present to contribute.

The Bryan Young Married Couples Club, the Bryan Recreation club, B.A.F.B. club, and the Do-Si-Do's are cooperating in holding the dance.

The violation occurred on Dec. 15, when students got together for some "Christmas spirit licks" with a broom before leaving for the holidays two days later. Twenty freshmen involved in the incident were given an official reprimand by the commandant, having in the eyes of the Military Panel been given no choice in the matter. Seven sophomores also received an official reprimand.

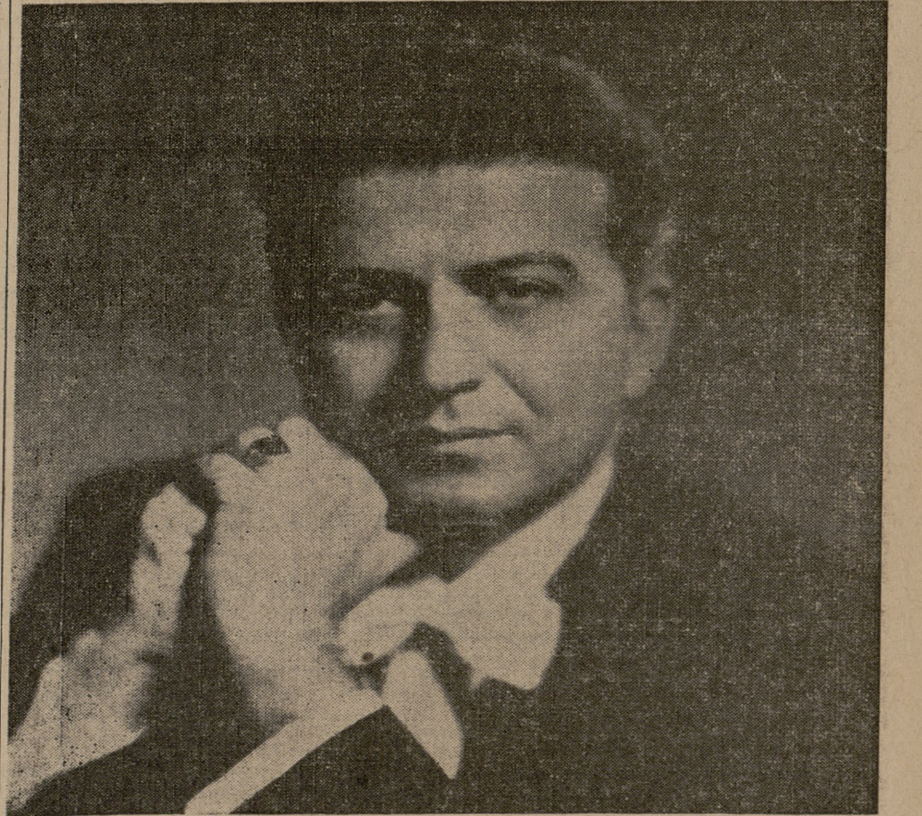

All of the students involved faced Military Panel yesterday. Col. Joe E. Davis, commandant, concurred with the Panel's recommendations after discussing it with the students.

"I am extremely disappointed that these men would do such a thing to the Corps of Cadets," Col. Davis said.

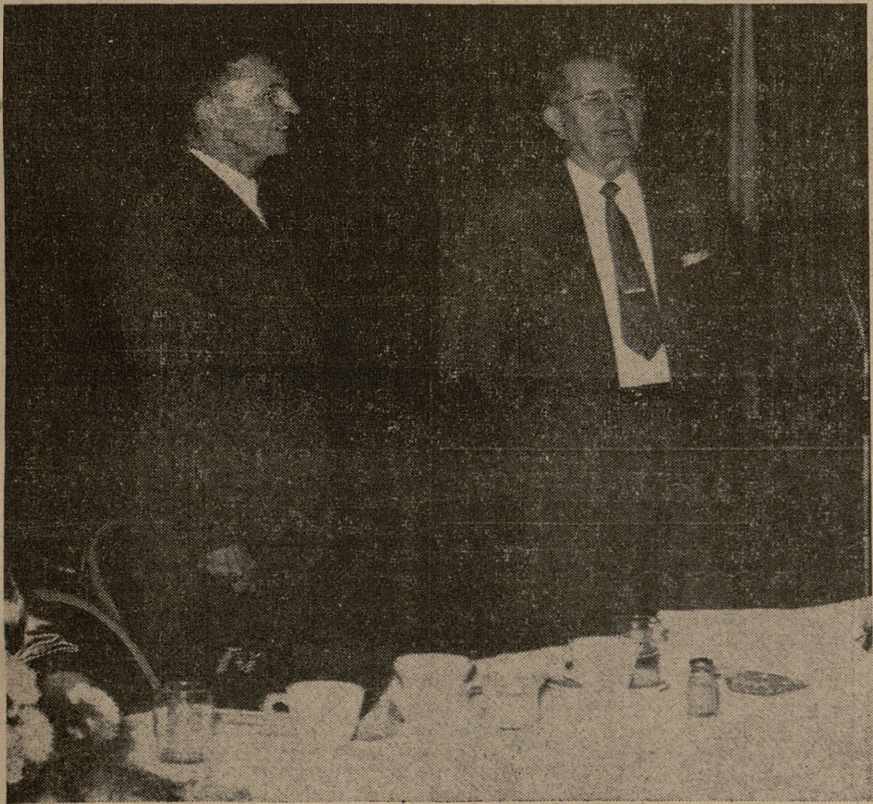

Of the 12 students suspended, seven were juniors. Twelve sophomores in the unit had a broom used on them and five swung it—the other seven had "no desire" to swing the broom. No seniors were involved or knew anything about the matter, Col. Davis said.

Squadron 10 was investigated earlier in the year after reports that personal service existed in the unit. The new squadron commandant is Richard Gentry, senior physics major from Dallas.

This is the first such incident discovered during the current school year.
