

Aggies Battle Bearkats Here Tomorrow Night

Coach Ken Loeffler's hoopsters take a welcome breather from the frantic Southwest Conference title chase here tomorrow night against Sam Houston's Bearkats.

Standing fourth in conference play at present, the Aggies have copped two games while losing three. A&M has a 4-10 mark in season games.

George Mehaffey, 6-4 sniper from Houston, continues to set the pace for Cadet scorers with 186 points and a 14.3 average in 13 games. Mehaffey has registered 88 points in conference action to rank third behind Texas' great Raymond Downs.

Ken Hutto, scrappy 6-0 sophomore, jumped to a second place tie in scoring on the Aggie five this week with 153 points. Bill Brophy has dunked 153 points also, but has appeared in two more games than Hutto.

Boxers Defend Title In Waco Tournament

Twenty-three boxers carry A&M's colors into the opening matches of the 14th Waco Golden Gloves Tourney tonight in search of their second straight Open Division championship. The four-day tournament will last through Saturday in the Waco Arena.

The Aggies won five out of seven championships in 1955 to capture the Open team trophy. Only James Earle A&M lightweight who was named the top Open fighter for two straight years, is missing from the ranks of the returning Aggie champions. Earle graduated last spring.

Replacing Earle will be Paul Adams freshman from Beaumont, who has a long and impressive ring record.

Leading the A&M repeating title holders is Bill Goode winner of last year's Novice middle-weight crown, who will be shooting for the Open title.

The rivalry between A&M and Sam Houston dates back to 1913, the Aggies' first season on the basketball court. A&M crushed the Bearkats, 72-9, in their initial meeting, and in the 63 game series the Cadets have managed to win 47.

The Bearkats are winless in Lone Star Conference games, having lost four straight. Powerful Sul Ross managed to defeat Sam Houston by an average of only seven points in their two recent meetings at Alpine.

Polio Vaccine CAN'T HELP HER...

only YOU can

Your March of Dimes funds are providing the care she needs. For she is one of the tens of thousands of polio victims "born too soon"—before the epic polio vaccine. Today, March of Dimes funds which developed and tested the vaccine are financing research to improve it. But there still are polio victims who need help. And there will be tens of thousands more stricken before the nation has its blanket of protection. March of Dimes plus the hearts and hands of polio fighters everywhere must continue to provide our main bulwark against polio.

Polio isn't licked yet

CHS Rips Tomball 47-26

By MAURICE OLIAN
CHS Correspondent

Scoring quickly and pulling away to a commanding first-half lead, A&M Consolidated's Tigers buried the Tomball Cougars, 47-26, to remain undefeated in District 25-A last night in Tiger Gym.

The amazing Tigers hit 17 points before the bewildered Cougars could score, and led 17-0 three and a half minutes deep in the second period. CHS pulled away to its largest margin of the evening at intermission, 26-3.

Again paced by their two all-district performers, Norman Floeck and Manuel Garcia, who meshed 39 of the Tiger points, Consolidated led all the way and hit 33 per cent of their field goal attempts, dunking 15 of 45. Floeck pushed through 24 points, 10 of them coming from free throw tries, and his scoring partner, Garcia, netted 15.

The Tigers built up a cautious 9-0 first quarter lead then turned on the steam for 17 points before halftime. Tomball started hitting after the intermission and brought the score to 33-20, Consolidated's smallest margin, just before the end of the third period, but Floeck's long set shot made it 35-20 at the end of that quarter.

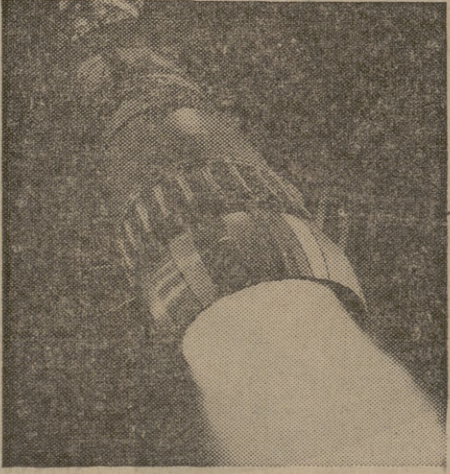

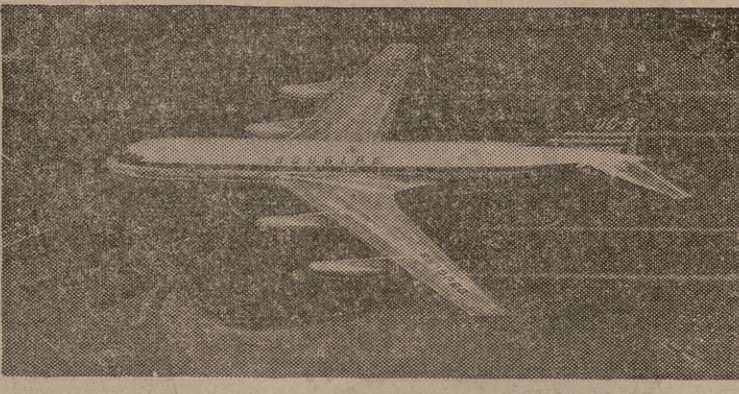

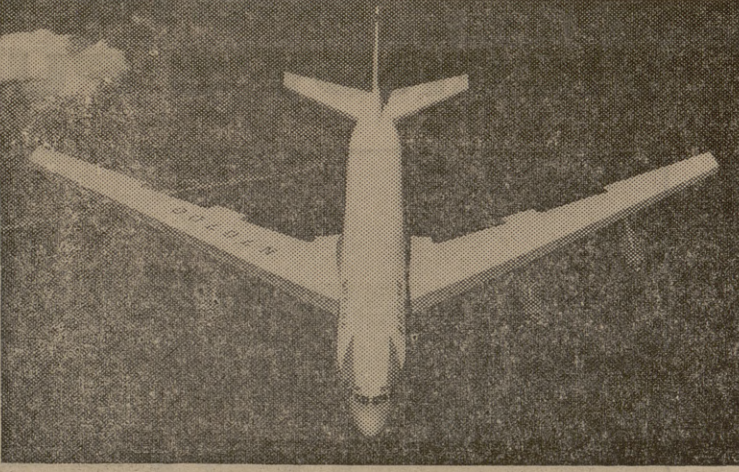

The Tiger "B" team, leading 17-9, at halftime, could score only one point while their opponents were hitting for 19 during the third quarter, and lost to the Cou-

U. S. Jets Dominate International Air Transport

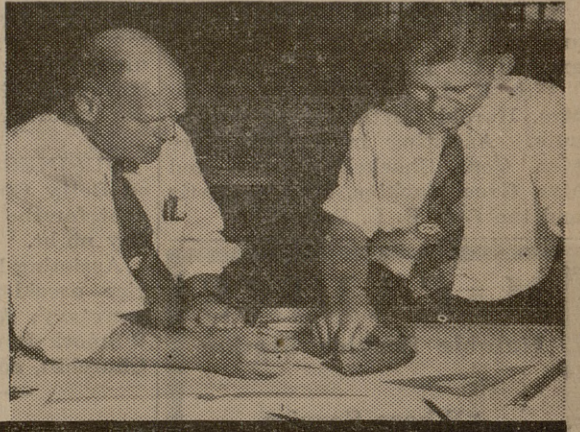

Pratt & Whitney Aircraft power for international jet fleet

World's foremost designer and builder of aircraft engines

DIVISION OF UNITED AIRCRAFT CORPORATION
EAST HARTFORD 8, CONNECTICUT

Many engineering graduates would like to be concerned with air power of the next generation. One way to fulfill that ambition is to pursue a career alongside engineers who have consistently produced the world's best aircraft engines.

Most major U. S. airlines, recognizing the future of jet flight in commercial transportation, have placed their orders for jet-powered transports. Of added significance, however, is that American-made equipment will be flown also by foreign airlines in the age of jet travel.

Flying Douglas DC-8 Clippers or Boeing 707 Stratoliners, these domestic and foreign airlines, circling the globe, will shrink it 40 per cent. For power, the entire fleet will rely on Pratt & Whitney Aircraft jet engines. Such achievement is evidence of unchallenged leadership.
