

Graduation Again

Time to extend congratulations to the mid-term graduates who will shortly be leaving this institution. No need to tell them what to expect in life outside of college. We don't know, ourselves; and, besides, some men are going to tell them just a little about it tomorrow at the services in Guion Hall.

As the old saying goes, "It's been a long trail;" and as another says, "Nothing that is worth anything comes for nothing."

What will be of value to these men in the outside world will soon become apparent to them; it will have to, for most of them will then be out on their own.

So we'll leave them to their respective fortunes and wish them the best. And add one more note of appreciation for their example.

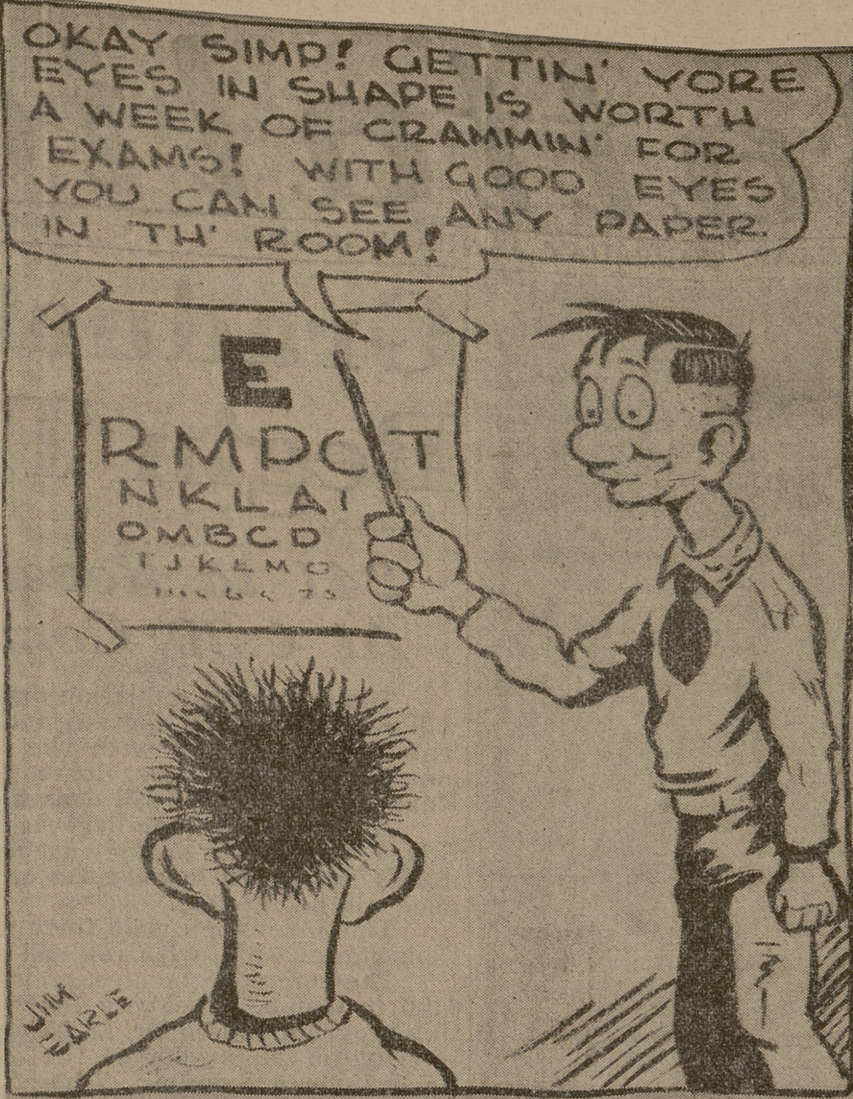

For the graduates have once again proved that finishing college can be accomplished. Sometimes, those of us still here have doubts; but we have 241 examples of proof to dispell our fears.

File That Form

Don't forget to fill out the accident report form if you (A&M students) have had any accidents requiring medical attention at a hospital or by a physician since Sept. 9, 1955.

This form is very important, in that by it the College Accident Prevention Committee hopes to build up a record of accidents and causes for this semester.

For the convenience of any student who does not get a form and who has an accident to report, a copy of the form can be found on this page. They also are available at the Office of Student Publications in Goodwin Hall.
