Harlem Cagers Due Here Feb. 11

Local basketball fans can look forward to some kind of new high scoring record on Feb. 11 when "Goose" Tatum and Marques Haynes bring their Harlem Magicians to White Coliseum.

Tickets are now on sale at the Office of Student Activities, second floor of Goodwin Hall. Admission to the show, sponsored by Student Activities, is $1.25 general admission and $2 and $2.50 for reserve.

The Magicians clash with the New York Olympians, led by 7-1 Bill Spivey, former all-American at Kentucky whose under-the-basket hook shots are sure to help run up a high score.

Tatum is known to cage fans over the world as the "Clown Prince" of the courts. His comedy antics, combined with cat-like agility around the forecourt, have been the despair of opponents and the delight of millions of spectators in 15 years of pro-basketball.

Tatum's ball-hungry sidekick, Haynes, is billed as the "world's greatest dribbler." Between them, these two veterans of the pro circuit hold scoring records in every country they've appeared in. Both are former Harlem Globetrotters' stars.

Although the Olympians boast Spivey, an all-pro center in any rating, the Magicians will suit-up two "high towers" of their own in 6-8 Lester Burks and 6-7½ Jerry Johnson.

Another standout in the Magicians' lineup is Boyd Buie, the only active one arm player in professional basketball. The 6-3 forward has nine years of pro experience, including six seasons with the Harlem Globetrotters.

Tatum, who boasts an 84-inch arm spread, is probably basketball's most famous individual player. Once a great first baseman in the Negro Baseball League, he turned to basketball seriously during WW II.

Hogs, Mustangs Hold Loop Lead In Basketball

Arkansas and Southern Methodist, current leaders at the half-way point of the typically-crazy Southwest Conference basketball race, are eyeing their crucial meeting Feb. 4 at Fayetteville.

The league's "surprise team", after winning only one out of eight games in December, is Arkansas. The Porkers lead the SWC title chase with a perfect 4-0 slate, but not far behind is SMU, with three wins and no losses.

Rice, a strong pre-season choice for the conference cage crown, has one consolation at least. It has the loop's top scorer in sensational Temple Tucker. Tucker has bucketed 126 points in SWC action and 400 over the season to lead in both.

Tigers, Sealy Tangle In District Go Friday

By MAURICE OLIAN
 CHS Sports Correspondent
 A&M Consolidated's Tigers try to keep a firm grip on the District 25-A basketball lead here tomorrow night when they play host to Sealy. CHS has now won eight of its last 11 games.

Game time for the "B" game is 7 p.m. in Tiger Gym. The "A" Game will follow immediately.

By virtue of their breathtaking win over Katy Tuesday night, 31-30, the Tigers grabbed undisputed possession of the district lead, and now boast a 4-0 mark against district teams. Before Tuesday night CHS and Katy were tied for the lead with 3-0 records.

Top scoring threat for the Sealy five is Ray Schreiner, an all-district performer last season, and leader among Sealy point makers so far this year.

Consolidated downed Sealy in its district opener earlier this season at Sealy, 54-41, but Tiger Coach Larry Hayes expects tonight's game to be much closer. Sealy lost by only one point to Katy in a game last week.

In Tuesday night's game here against Katy, the Tigers were behind until the start of the fourth period, as they managed to hit only four of 22 field goal tries in the first half. Norman Floeck's lay-up with 7:40 to go in the contest gave the Tigers a 25-24 lead.

Julius Gibbs of Katy sunk a free throw seconds later to tie the score at 25-25, but Bobby Potts hit two charity shots to put CHS out in front to stay, 27-25.

In the "B" game Consolidated clipped Katy 28-21 to sweep the doubleheader.

 tops with 12 out of 13 attempts. George Mehaffey is third in rebounding among SWC hoopsters with 65, trailing Rice's Temple Tucker and Joe Durrenberger, who have 69 and 68 respectively. The Cadets resume Southwest Conference activity Feb. 11 against Baylor at Waco.

 CHAPEL HILL, N. C.—The University of North Carolina yesterday made public the terms of Head Football Coach Jim Tatum's contract — $15,000 a year for five years, and renewable then if mutually satisfactory. University Chancellor R. R. House said the university does not ordinarily release salary information but "There is no secret about salaries" and upon request such information is provided. Tatum, a North Carolina graduate, has been football coach at the University of Maryland.

NEW YORK—Hank Greenberg and Joe Cronin, two of the best right-handed hitters of the modern age, yesterday were selected to baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N. Y., by the 10-year members of the Baseball Writers Assn. Greenberg is general manager of the Cleveland Indians and Cronin is general manager of the Boston Red Sox, both in the American League.

The two new members were the only players close to election. Red Ruffing, a key pitcher on many New York Yankee pennant winners, was third with 97 votes. Then came Ed Rousch, former Cincinnati hurler, with 91.

BROOKLYN—Roy Campanella, three-time winner of the National League Most Valuable Player award, yesterday became the highest salaried baseball player in Brooklyn history when he signed his 1956 contract for an estimated $42,500. The star catcher, rated the best in the National League if not in the majors, got his salary boost after a remarkable comeback last year following a dismal 1954 season due to a hand injury.

PALM SPRINGS, Calif.—Professional golf's leading players tee off today in the first round of the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational Tournament. Heading the list are the two who finished one-two last year in a play-off, that went 20 holes beyond the usual 72-hole route, Shelley Mayfield and Mike Souchak.

Ex-Aggie Grid Star Signs With Detroit

Conrad (Connie) Magouirk, ex-Aggie grid star now a U. S. Air Force First Lieutenant playing for Eglin Air Force Base, added to his 1955 grid fortunes this past week-end when he inked a professional football contract with the Detroit Lions.

Magouirk, who was sought by several pro clubs, finally agreed to try his luck with the Lions after conferring with other club officials at the Senior Bowl game in Mobile, Alabama, recently.

He will receive a tryout, probably in July, after his discharge from the service on May 18.
