

LEADING AGGIE SCORER is Bill Brophy, 6-3 senior from Haverstown, Pa. Bill is ninth among Southwest Conference joint makers over the season with 228 points.

In Bill Brophy King Ken's Court Sports A Yankee

By BARRY HART
"Go West young man, go West" the old saying goes, and evidently it made quite an impression on A&M's Bill Brophy. Bill, a senior, came 1800 miles from Pennsylvania to Texas to play his first schoolboy basketball and there's not an Aggie anywhere who's sorry this Yankee migrated.

"Brophy is terrific—just terrific," said Coach Ken Loeffler of his number one scorer. "He gets better in every game."

Leading the Aggies in scoring on the season with 228 points, good enough for ninth place in the Southwest Conference, Brophy didn't play high school basketball in his hometown of Haverstown, Pa. Bill was working and playing on club teams during the summer of 1952 when he met two boys from Philadelphia who were members of the Allen Academy Ramblers squad. They convinced him to come to Texas and try for the team. Bill came, made the squad and has been here ever since.

Lack of high school experience didn't hurt the 6-3 Brophy. He made the Rambler starting lineup and helped win the first state championship in Allen's history in 1953. The following season Bill led Allen's Junior College zone in scoring, was third in conference play and captured all-state honors both years.

Brophy made the switch to SWC cage play handily and was one of the bright spots in last year's season as he led A&M in scoring, with 336 points, in rebounds, with 186, and in points-per-game with 14.0.

Bill considers the 1954 contest with LSU and this season's game against TCU as his greatest personal thrills on the hardwood. Bill garnered 28 points, 22 in the second half, in A&M's 61-73 loss to the Tigers, and, although he scored only 13 against the Horned Toads as the Aggies took a 84-74 victory, he enjoyed that one the most because "They had beaten us three times last year and I sure wanted to get them once."

A married man, Bill is equally proficient on defense and is second in rebounds for A&M with 114. He plays the key middle spot in Loeffler's give-and-go type of offense and handles the ball more than any other player.

Ag Handball Club Meets Tomorrow

A&M's Handball Club will hold a meeting of reorganization at 7 p.m. Friday in the Little Gym.

All students, faculty members and employees are welcome to attend. The club is planning a series of matches with other SWC schools in this area.

Immediately after the meeting a double elimination singles tournament will begin for the purpose of seeding the players for selection of teams to compete against other schools. The tournament will continue through Saturday if necessary, according to Major Rufus K. Conoley, Handball Club sponsor.

FORT WORTH—Rice, with Joe Durrenberger and Gerry Thomas pacing the attack, pulled out of an early seesaw tussle and surged to an 89-72 victory over Texas Christian last night. The triumph preserved the Owls' hold on third place in the Southwest Conference basketball race. They have a 5-2 record.

PHILADELPHIA—Connie Mack, who helped pioneer baseball from the sandlots to the No. 1 sport in the nation, died yesterday at the age of 93. Known around the world as the grand old man of baseball and one of the most beloved men in the history of the game, Mack—born in East Brookfield, Mass., Dec. 23, 1862—died quietly with his wife, four daughters and one of three sons at his bedside. Mack was in baseball 62 years, 50 of them as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics of the American League, a term unequalled in the history of the game.

NEW YORK—U. S. Olympic officials, blaming failures at Cortina on lack of training and outmoded equipment, issued a warning to Russia that the worm will turn in the Summer Games at Melbourne.

"If Russia thinks it's going to repeat its Winter Games mastery at Melbourne I'm afraid they're in for a very disappointing fortnight," said Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union.

CORSICANA—The 1954 captain of the Texas Christian University football team, Johnny Crouch, is the new assistant football coach at Corsicana High School.

LONDON—Kid Gavilan, ex-welterweight champion, angrily offered to fight England's Peter Waterman "anywhere, anytime" as the British Boxing Board of Control ordered a full-scale investigation into Tuesday night's decision against Gavilan. Bitter protests about the decision, awarded Waterman, came yesterday.
