

Squadron 20 Eleven Nips A-Composite In Murals

By JOE DAN BOYD
Intramural Writer
Squadron 20 ground out its first win of the upperclassman football season, toppling previously undefeated A-Composite by three penetrations yesterday. Both teams amassed considerable yardage in the evenly-matched skirmish, each scoring two touchdowns and one extra point.
Ronnie Moates, Bob Montgomery, and Marvin Kolinek did most of the damage for A-Composite.

Other outstanding Composite grid-ders were Fred Standard, Melvin Free, Jim Adams, Robert Jackson, Roland Beasley, Jack Yardley, Gordon Graham, and Lee Richards.
Jim Stephens, Bob Skinner, and Ed Dusebont looked good for the winners. Charles Winkler, Don Thompson, Jack Wallace, Harold Coppedge, and Norman Crocker also played good ball for Sqd. 20.
Bob Kidd and Larry Southworth were outstanding for Sqd. 17 in their 41-0 routing of B-Engineers.

A&M, Froggies Collide Tonight At Fort Worth

By BARRY HART
Coach Ken Loeffler takes his Aggie basketball team to Fort Worth with hopes of winning his first game out of White Coliseum tonight against the last-placed TCU Horned Frogs.
After a week layoff, A & M's improving Fish travel to Tyler to battle Tyler Junior College's Harrod Apaches and their high scoring Russell Boone.

"We've won a moral victory," smiled the colorful Loeffler, "We're out of the cellar for sure."
With three games left on the docket, the Aggies are riding the fourth rung of the Southwest Conference ladder with a 3-6 record.

Even three losses wouldn't drop the Cadets into the basement. TCU owns a meagre 1-9 league record and by winning both of their remaining games could pull into a sixth-place tie.
A&M downed the Frogs in the first conference meeting, 84-74, for their first win over the Fort Worth school in more than two years, after absorbing a 67-59 beating by the Frogs in the pre-conference tournament in Houston.
TCU's only bright spot is their one-man team, 6-7 center Dick O'Neal, who has garnered 51 points in the two games with A&M, leads the conference scorers with 245 points and on the season with 529.
After three straight SWC losses, the Aggies will counter O'Neal with Ken Hutto and George Mehaffey, both tied for the number eight spot in conference scoring with 143 points, and Bill Brophy, third among the Aggie scoring with 123. Hutto and Brophy are ninth and tenth in the scoring standings on the season with 273 and 267 points, respectively.

Loeffler will start Hutto and Ted Harrod, who turned in a fine performance against SMU Saturday night, at guard, Mehaffey at center and Brophy and Don Billeby at forward.

Wrestlers Host Ft. Hood

The undefeated Aggie wrestling team meets Fort Hood here tonight at 8 in DeWare Field House. No admission will be charged.
Wrestling for the Cadets will be John Watson, Charles Kappelman, Ken Jones, Jim Witcher, Bobby McDowell, Don Schoenfeld, Jerry Rosamond, John Hardy, Al Clachar and Don Burchard, team captain.
So far this year the A&M grapplers have defeated the University of Texas and the Houston YMCA.

After Two Workouts

Varsity Gridders Dominate Teams

Returning varsity gridders dominated the first three teams yesterday as Coach Paul Bryant and his assistants put their charges through the second day of Spring practice.

"THE MOST PLEASING thing about these first two practices has been the attitude of our varsity players, or next year's juniors and seniors," said Coach Bryant. "The majority of them seem to want to be a leader. That's something that I like to see, and something that is important to the success of any team."
No freshmen appeared on the No. 1 unit during yesterday's workout. Five Fish were listed among the second unit members.

"Our big problem right now is teaching the freshmen how to block and tackle," Bryant said. "They lack the toughness and quickness of the varsity players. In fact they're so far behind our varsity that I've thought of setting up separate drills for them."
THE "A" TEAM IN yesterday's workout was made up of ends Gene Stallings, Bobby Marks, Bobby Drake Keith, and Dean Meeks;

Ag Nine Stages Intra-Sqd. Tilt

Pitcher Dick Munday went all the way Tuesday as Coach Beau Bell put his Aggie baseball team through a six-inning intra-squad game.

"We're making a lot of switches," said Coach Bell, "and I'm still looking for the right combination."
With only 10 days before their opening game against the Sam Houston State Bearcats, the Aggies are scheduled to play an intra-squad game every day, if the weather permits.

On the "A" team Tuesday were Louis Nelson, catcher, John Hoyle, first base, Charlie Puls, second base, Joe Boring, third base, Dick Bleekner, shortstop, Joe Worden, John Stockton and Behn Hubbard in the outfield, and Munday on the mound.
