

Journalism Mascot

'Mr. Sudds' Gives Preview of Future

By The CAMPUS EDITOR

"Judging from the number of hours we now devote to our Radio and TV sets", said Prof. Otis Miller to his journalism 311 class, "the American of a few years hence will be all eyes, ears and bottom".

The next meeting Ronnie Great-house came to class with a drawing of the character Miller had briefly described. The class immediately voted to adopt "Mr. Sudds" as the patron saint of the radio news writing and editing class.

Of course the reader has already guessed that his initials stand for radio and television, and that his surname, Sudds, comes from his close association with beer and soap chips. The nickname, "Smok-ey", Mr. Sudds gets from his close association with cigaret tobaccos.

The bushy eyebrows and the unruly but well-developed head of hair Mr. Sudds owes to the free samples of shampoo, hair tonics, and eyebrow unguents he receives gratis from the cosmetic people. Sudds says the $64,000 question with him is what to do with all the free samples of beer, ciga-retes, soaps and cosmetic beauty aids he gets.

Sudds has already become a bosom friend of all the 24 students taking the radio news writing and editing course. He is planning to go on the annual field trip with the students, claiming he is a friend of long standing of Charley Parker, formerly of Radio station WTAW but now of Radio-TV Station WKY, Oklahoma City. Sudds claims the fact that Charley has invited the class to be the guests of WKY on this year's field trip is a direct result of his pull with him.

Whether this is true or not, the class has voted to allow Sudds to go along on this year's field trip. An argument advanced in favor of Sudds making the trip was that he might bring along a lot of his sample gifts.

J. Paul Sheedy* Was An Udder Failure Till Wildroot Cream-Oil Gave Him Confidence

The boys were having a bull session in Sheedy's room. "It's no yoke," beefed Sheedy. "Heifer-y girl I ask for a date turns me down flat." Then Sheedy's roommate spoke up: "There's good moos tonight J. Paul. Try some of my Wildroot Cream-Oil on those cowlicks." Sheedy did and now he's the cream of the campus. Wildroot keeps his hair handsome and healthy looking the way Nature intended... neat but not greasy. Contains the heart of Lanolin, the very best part of Nature's finest hair and scalp conditioner. Get Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's largest selling hair tonic. In bottles or unbreakable tubes. Gives you confidence...you look your best. There's no udder hair tonic like it.
