Consultants To Study A&M Salaries, Wages

Chancellor M. T. Harrington of the A&M College System was authorized to make a contract with a firm of Chicago consultants for a study of salary and wage schedules, job specifications and work loads of all non-professional employees of parts of the statewide system headquartered at College Station by the System Board of Directors, here, Friday.

The study would include 1,691 positions in the A&M College, Texas Engineering Experiment Station, Texas Engineering Extension Service, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Texas Forest Service.

Positions ranging from officers and heads of non-instructional departments through unskilled labor will be included in the study, to be made by the Public Administration Service of Chicago. Studies will be made of each job involved, including work load, specified responsibilities, salary or wages in relation to the job being done and a comparison of salaries and wages with those for similar work within other parts of the System and in other institutions and industry.

Results of the study will form the basis for future budget recommendations.

Vet-Med. Group Initiates Students

Seven veterinary medicine majors and two professors were initiated into Phi Zeta, honorary veterinary medicine fraternity, at a banquet held at the Bryan Woman's Club last Thursday.

The professors were Dr. Harold Redman and Dr. L. C. Grumbles, both of the School of Veterinary Medicine. Students initiated were Wayne Kyle and C. J. Shepler, seniors; Delmer Cassidy, James Forgason, William Kirksey, Wallace Kleb and Kenneth Pierce, all juniors.

Requirements for the fraternity include a 2.5 over-all grade point ratio. Twenty-five per cent of the senior class and 10 per cent of the junior class may be admitted at one initiation.

Library Group Sets Meeting For Saturday

Special Libraries Association, Texas Chapter, will meet Saturday at 9:30 in the Memorial Student Center.

Robert E. Betts, librarian for the Texas Engineers Library, A&M, will give a resume of his last year's European trip. During this trip he visited many technical associations and libraries in Great Britain and on the continent, obtaining exchange and information relationships which should benefit the engineers in Texas.

Dr. John C. Calhoun, dean of engineering at A&M, will speak on the use of reference materials by engineers. Such use, which can save dollars and hours for industry, has increased in the past few years.

John R. Tusson, project technologist for Pan Am Southern Corporation of New Orleans, has as his subject the New Orleans Information Center. This center of technical information and searching is now being developed.

A luncheon for the group will be held in the MSC. That afternoon a business meeting and a tour of the Texas Engineers Library will conclude the meeting.

Dr. Gould H. Cloud, Houston Research Library of Humble Oil and Refining Company, is president of the Texas Chapter. Other officers are John P. Eben, librarian of Texas Division of Dow Chemical Company, Freeport, vice-president and president-elect; Miss Helen J. McKenzie, librarian for Atlantic Refining Company, Dallas, secretary; and Miss Jane Burton, M.D. Anderson Hospital Library, Medical Center, Houston, treasurer.

AAUP Meeting On Monday Night

The college entrance requirements committee of the A&M chapter of the American Association of University Professors will act as a panel at the meeting of the AAUP Monday night in the Biological Sciences Building.

Committee members will present facts and trends of present policies of college entrance requirements and what changes can be made. Dr. Robert Kamm, dean of student personnel services and the basic division, will be a member of the panel. The basic division is presently under study by the committee.

J. P. Abbott, dean of the college, is expected to attend the monthly meeting of the AAUP and will probably comment on the discussion. He is a member of the recently appointed Advisory Committee to the State Board of Education.

Other members of the panel will be W. F. Adams, L. B. Keel, D. R. Lee, J. W. Overall, M. E. Tittle, and R. H. Fletcher, panel leader. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Draft Boards Give New Classification

State draft boards are receiving many telephone calls these days from men who want to know what "IV-A" means.

Because of a recent amendment in Selective Service regulations, more than 100,000 Texans are eligible for a change in classification. Nearly all of them are exempt from further military service unless Congress and the President change the law in the future.

"This means that, under present law, individuals receiving it have completed service and are exempt from further service." Individuals receiving the IV-A classification were formerly classified in Class I-C (Discharge) and Class I-C (Reserve). These two draft classifications are now abolished.
