CS City Recreation Group Sets Budget

The 1956 budget of $5,719.18 was announced for the College Station Recreation Council at their meeting Monday night.

A committee was appointed to start a study plan of baseball activities for Lincoln School, and to check into the feasibility of enlarging the program.

Summer recreation programs will begin on June 11, a week later than usual, in order to adjust the program with the Vacation Bible School.

What's Cooking

Last show of the afternoon is the Cattle Show at 2:45 in the Beef Center. L. J. Christian from the Wise Ranch at Highland, Texas, will judge the cattle. There will be classes of Brahman heifers, Brahman bulls, Hereford bulls, Hereford heifer calves, Angus bull calves and Angus heifers.

At the final judging Saturday night, the top showmen in each class will be selected and from this group the grand champion and reserve champion showmen of all classes will be selected. Harry Graydon of the American Brahman Breeders Association will choose the grand and reserve champion.

The last activity for this year's Little Southwestern is the annual Ham Auction with ex-Aggie Keyes Carson as the auctioneer. Proceeds from the sale will go towards sponsoring the various judging teams which will travel to Kansas City and Denver next year.

Beside the reserve and grand champions of the show receiving awards, the top half of the boys in each class will receive certificates and the top man in each division will be awarded an ash tray mounted with a model of the type animal he showed.

Winner of the first place ham in the Ham Show will be presented a carving set, second place wins a picnic set, and the next seven places will win walking canes.

Kenneth Lewis is the general superintendent of the show and, along with Caddo Waldrip, will organize the day's activities.

Group Names Eight Winners Of Scholarships

The A&M Faculty Scholarship Committee yesterday announced recipients of eight undergraduate scholarships for the 1956-57 school year.

The awards are presented to persons based on outstanding scholarship and leadership with special consideration given a student who has financial handicaps to his educational career, according to the committee.

The $300 Alberta Banta award goes to Jacob Otto Koehl of Rosenberg, a liberal arts junior.

The $500 Krueger Award goes to Wallace L. Kleb, fifth year veterinary Medicine student from Houston.

Thomas Jewell Upchurch of Amarillo, sophomore history major, was named recipient of the $200 Lullie Hughye Lane Scholarship, sponsored by the United States Daughters of 1812.

Two $500 Monsanto Company scholarships for students majoring in chemistry, chemical engineering, geology, mechanical engineering, or petroleum engineering go to Donald W. Carver of Amarillo and John Rodney Doshier of Hobbs, N.M., both chemical engineering majors.

The American Viscose Corporation Scholarship for $500 goes to Cyrus H. Holley, junior chemical engineering major from Taft.

The Schlumberger Collegiate Award was awarded to Thomas W. Adair, junior physics student.

The Western Electric Company Scholarship goes to Alfred Kirt, Jr., sophomore electrical engineering student.

Architect Student Gets Scholarship

Paul Kennon of Shreveport, La., fifth year architect student, has been awarded the Eliel Saarinen Memorial Scholarship. The award is for $1,370 for the 1956-57 school year and is for graduate study at the Cranbrook Academy of Art, Bloomfield Hills, Mich.

He will enter Cranbrook as a resident graduate student in September of this year. The award was won in competition with students over the country who want to attend Cranbrook.

Ball Game Starts Weekend For Saddle And Sirloin Club

The big weekend for the Saddle and Sirloin Club and the Animal Husbandry Department starts with a softball contest between the department professors and students at the softball diamond Friday at 5 p.m.

A beef barbecue will be served at 6 p.m. and at 8:30 p.m. the Cattleman's Ball starts, with western music furnished by Bill Gilbert and his Sunset Playboys. During the intermission the 1956 Saddle and Sirloin Club sweetheart will be presented.

Steve Tucker is chairman of the program committee.

Awards for the 1956 school year will be presented at the barbecue.

The Brewer Award will be given to an outstanding senior in the Saddle and Sirloin Club. The club will present a watch to the outstanding club senior. Outstanding junior and sophomore will be awarded a desk set. These men are selected by a committee headed by Gene Tongate. The J. S. Farmer's Essay Contest Award will be presented to Richard Tachibana.

The Junior Livestock Team, composed of Bud Fichte, Jim Renick, J. C. Gregory, Pat Garner, Bill Barnes, and Bob Hancock, will receive tie clasps.

The Senior Livestock Team, composed of Gene Tongate, David Word, David Russell, Pete Wheeler, Lloyd Joyce, and Charlie Cypert, will be given watch fob medals.

The Senior Meats team, composed of Bob Caldwell, Ken Killion, and Bubs Loftis, will receive watch fob medals; and the Junior team, made up of Don Johnson, David Terry, Melvin Lebo, and Kermit Wharmund, will receive tie clasps. Melvin Lebo was also alternate on the senior meats team.

The Wool teams, composed of Cecil Skaggs, Jim Carpenter, Glynn Chandler, J. M. Auld, Travis Langford, Don Dierschke, Richard Thallman, and Neal Meares, will receive watch fob medals.

Outgoing officers receive desk sets engraved with their name and office, and the ex-president, Ken Killion, will receive the traditional engraved spurs.

Grady Grabbs is chairman of the Awards Committee.

D. W. Williams, vice-chancellor of agriculture for the A&M College System, and W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture at Texas Technological College will be presented at the Cattleman's Ball and barbecue as honorary Saddle and Sirloin Club members.
