

Hurry Back

We are sorry to hear of Karl Elmquist tendering his resignation as Chairman of the Student Publication Board to Dr. David H. Morgan. But, we would be the first to agree, that it is hard to study, even for a bachelor's degree, much less a doctorate's, and work toward the goals Elmquist has set out for himself.

We feel as if we have lost a friend, one that is both easy to get along with, a pleasure to work with. We take this opportunity to wish him goodspeed toward his PhD.

Freedom of the Press

We received a letter from the didactic Dallas Morning News yesterday in which they enclosed a clipping mentioning The Battalion's recent editorial on censorship of The Daily Texan. In the mentioned editorial the editor felt that placing a professor of journalism in the Texan office meant "the death of the Texan."

We still feel that way.

PLEASE PASS THE BISCUITS PAPPY—W. Lee O'Daniel pounds out political philosophy on how to "Turn Texas Back To The People" in downtown Bryan last night.

O'Daniel Style

Old-Time Politics

"Who's running against me," asked gubernatorial candidate, W. Lee O'Daniel, as he verbally eliminated other hopefuls from the race in a downtown Bryan political speech last night.

With humor and cold political facts the former Governor and United States Senator expressed his reasons for disregarding the other candidates. Price Daniel was blasted for his association with the Veterans Land Board and past repudiation of O'Daniel-sponsored tax bills years ago favoring old-age pensions. Ralph Yarborough was satirized as running "merely for the exercise." Others in the campaign were described as "warming up for the next election."

O'Daniel, who outmaneuvered 13 professional politicians without a runoff in his initial bid for the Governor's chair, spoke to an estimated 500 people at the Main and 26th St. intersection atop a bright red fire truck. O'Daniel said he and his troupe were riding the truck to Austin in order to "put out the fire" of graft, corruption, bribes and scandals.

The former Governor pledged himself to reinvestigate the Veterans Land Scandals of this state and attempt to uncover the men who were "putting the lid" on that subject. He hit upon a new angle of the VLB in presenting doubt that its activities have provided sufficient benefit for veterans to warrant its existence. O'Daniel favors a direct cash bonus for Texas war veterans.

Other features favored by the former United States Senator include a "tax equalization plan" which he intends to submit as a constitutional amendment in order to secure a 25% benefit on income taxes for those in lower income brackets and a definite continuation of segregation in the state.

O'Daniel listed his platform as the Ten Commandments and his motto as the Golden Rule. His pledge to "Turn Texas back to the people," was emblazoned on a traveling bus in huge red letters.

Little League Statistics

Through Monday's College Station Little League games, Marion Pugh White Sox' Danny Feldman paced loop hitters with a sizzling ing as a hot two-man battle for the ing as a hot two-man battle for the league batting leadership. Feldman held a slight margin over the Senator's Joe Olian, who had a .700 average.

The league also had three other hitters over the .400 mark— Larry Randolph Orioles' .429; Eldon Hagler of the Red Sox, .417; the Senators Jody Rush, .400. Rounding the league's top ten hitters were Jackie Ross and George Outlaw, both of the Orioles, the Senator's Larry Godfrey and the White Sox' Hal Delaplane, with all of them hitting for a .333 average.

Feldman and Olian each had a total of seven hits to share the loop lead in that department. Feldman also paced the league in runs scored with a total of eight, and he shared the top spot in runs batted in. He, Delaplane, and Outlaw all had sent five runs across the plate.

Randolph had clouted the most doubles, four, and Feldman had belted the most homers, two. Jimbo Carroll stole three bases in Monday's game to move into the top place in that department with a total of four.

In slugging percentage (Which is figured by dividing the total number of bases into the number of times at bat), the White Sox' Feldman had a fantastic mark of 1.444 to lead the league. Trailing him in slugging percentage were Randolph, .714; Olian, .700; Coufal and Bill Berry, both with an even .500.

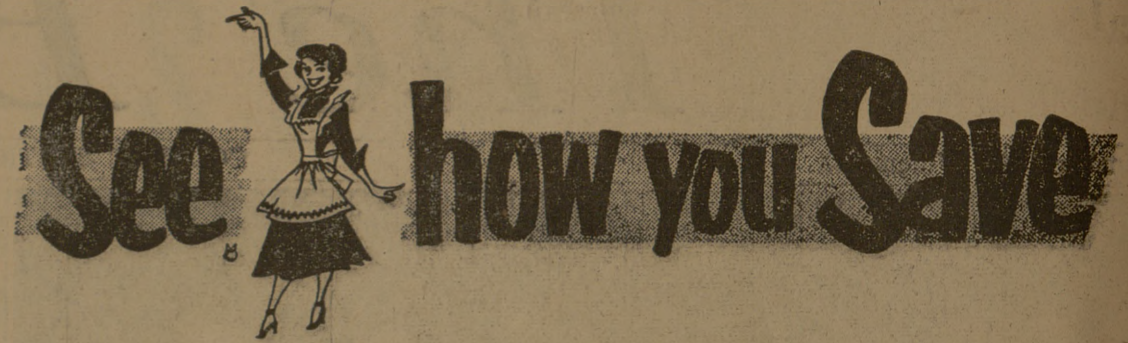

Olian led the pitchers with a sparkling 0.00 earned run average. Behind him, in order, were Hagler, 1.00; Godfrey, 1.86; Feldman, 2.00; Randolph, 2.00; Ricky Howard, of the Red Sox, 2.40; the White Sox' Ozzie Burke, 3.00.

Stark topped the pitchers percentage-wise with a perfect 2-0 record, but four other hurlers had 1-0 marks—Burke, Feldman, Godfrey, and Hagler. Stark led the loop in innings pitched with a total of twelve, and he and Howard showed the way in complete games, each having hurled two.
