The Rev. Robert C. Monk, Methodist Minister to students, and his wife are on a leave of absence from the A&M Methodist Church for the summer while Rev. Monk directs the San Antonio Work camp sponsored by the National Conference

M.E. Wives Take First Aid

Mechanical Engineering Wives Club began their 9 weeks course in First Aid Monday night with W. M. Dowell, of the Physical Education Department, instructing.

Members may still participate if attendance begins with the next meeting, according to Joann Wagner, president. At the end of the sessions members will be presented with a certificate of completion of the course.

The only requirements for the course are perfect attendance and the Red Cross First Aid book, edition 1945 and Supplement which may be purchased at local stores.

of Methodist Youth, The Southwest Texas Annual Conference and the Board of Social and Economics Relations of the Methodist Church.

The workcamp, which started yesterday and ends August 4, will fall into four major areas; manual labor, service to youth programs in the local church, study and the experience of cooperative group living.

Manual labor projects in past years have included clearing a play ground at Goodwill Industries and extensive remodeling of repair of one of the Latin-American churches of San Antonio. Projects this summer will be similar to these.

The basic text for the evening study services is THE MODERN SAMARITAN.

Workcamps, composed of youth from all over the United States, will spend July 5-7 on a vacation to the Rio Grande Valley and Monterrey, Mexico, and the week of July 22-27 conducting a conference-wide Christian Witness in the Southwest Texas Conference.
