

White Sox Down Red Sox In Second Half Opener

The second half of the College Station Little League got underway Monday with the first-half champs, Marion Pugh White Sox, downing the VFW Red Sox 5-2 and the Black's Pharmacy Senators, who have been getting into the mood of things recently by being as "hot as a fire-cracker," bouncing the Student Co-op Orioles 7-3.

The White Sox came out of hibernation (they had their six-game winning streak thoroughly broken last week by dropping three straight battles) in the very first inning Monday afternoon, as the initial five batters pounded out singles good for four runs. Jimbo Bevans, Hal Delaplaine, Harold Cooner, Danny Feldman, and John Stark touched Red Sox starter Rocky Howard for a quintet of safeties to account for all the runs they needed. The White Sox added their final tally in the third inning due mainly to Stark's single and three walks.

Two runs on two hits were pushed home by the Red Sox in the third inning, but it was not nearly enough to catch the White Sox. A double by Thomas Taylor and a single by Eldon Hagler coupled with three costly errors did the damage.

Stark led the winners' attack with 2-for-3. Taylor also belted out 2-for-3 to pace the Red Sox.

Ozzie Burke went the distance to pick up his third win to go with two losses. He doled out five hits, walked only one, and fanned seven. After his rough start, Howard settled down to pitch fine ball. He gave up six hits, walked four, and struck out three.

In the second fray of the night, the Senators pounded out a steady, methodical victory. They scored two runs in the first, second and fourth innings, and added a single tally in their third time at bat.

Three bases on balls, Jody Rush's scratch single, and Johnny Williams' well-pasted sacrifice fly brought home a pair of runs in the opening inning. Williams' single, two walks and two errors punched two more runs across in the next frame. The Orioles finally brought out their heavy artillery in the top half of the third. They scored three times on singles by Larry Randolph, George Outlaw, and Charles Roeder, and a costly miscue.

The Senators padded their lead in the bottom half of the third with one run on one hit, Harry Lewis' one-base blow. Two more "insurance runs" were accounted for in the fourth inning due chiefly to singles by Sidney Coufal and Larry Lewis.

Jackie Ross took over mound duties for the Orioles in the second frame after Randolph's control deserted him. Ross hurled creditably, giving up four hits, walking three, and whiffing one.

For the Senators, Larry Godfrey started, but ran into "hot water" in the third-inning uprising and was yanked. Joe Olian turned in a fine relief job. He pitched 2 1/2 innings of no-hit ball, fanned four, and walked one.

In Friday's double-header, the Senators meet the Red Sox in the lid-lifter. The White Sox battle the Orioles in the night-cap.

Senators' Joe Olian Leads In Little League Batting

The batting leadership of the College Station Little League changed hands during the past week, as the present leader, the Senators' Joe Olian, had a "hot" week, while the ex-leader, the White Sox' Danny Feldman, had a "cold" one. Through Monday's games, Olian was thumping the ball for a .586 mark; Feldman was batting .481.

Only seven regulars are now hitting over the .300 mark—Olian, Feldman, Jackie Ross, of the Orioles .375, the Senators' Jody Rush .375, the White Sox' Jimbo Bevans .360, Larry Randolph, of the Orioles .353, and the Senators' Harry Lewis .350. Rounding out the top ten are the Senators' Larry Lewis .292, and the Orioles' Bill Berry and George Outlaw, both at a .290 clip.

Olian leads the loop in base hits with a total of 17, a healthy margin over Feldman, Randolph, and Ross. He also paces the league in stolen bases, eight, which is barely ahead of Feldman's seven.

Feldman and teammate Harold Cooner have each scored a total of 13 runs to lead in that department. In R.B.I., Outlaw and Randolph each have 11 to top the loop.

Randolph's six two-base hits, which he has had since early season, is far ahead of the rest of the batters. Still no triples have been clouted, but Berry and Feldman have two homers apiece. Feldman's 20 total bases is one more than Olian's 19.

In slugging percentage, Feldman's fine .741 paces the league. Then come Olian, .655; Randolph, .529; Berry, .516; and Ross, .469.

Avera Enters Tennis Tournery

Don Avera was the lone entry for the College Station Recreation Council in the Baytown Open Tennis Tournament during the past week-end, and he competed in a total of three divisions in the tourney.

In 15-and-under singles, Avera was seeded number four. He drew a first-round bye, won his second-round match over Port Arthur's Tommy Wilton 6-2, 6-3, and lost his next battle to Dave Roemer, of Houston, 2-6, 3-6.

Austin's Frank Bertram was his partner in the 15-and-under doubles, and they were seeded number two in their division. After an opening bye, they bested Baytown's Wallace-Carpenter 6-0, 6-0, but were then thwarted by Houston's Roemer-Rhodes 2-6, 4-6.

The 18-and-under doubles found

Avera pairing with Lufkin's Gogie Gibson. They out-lasted Baytown's Chadick-Stricker 13-11, 7-5, but they were eliminated by the second-ranked tandem of Ronnie Fisher-Jimmy Moses 1-6, 3-6.
