the results of two weeks work going up in flame the night before the TU game. Bonfires are built on the drill field south of Duncan Hall as the Main Drill Field is used only for parades and reviews—and growing grass.
