

Freshmen

D. P. Anderson will talk on the Army ROTC at A&M.

Cadet Major Donald R. Huffman, First Regimental Chaplain will give the invocation.

At 9 a.m. new students will form into two groups—those selecting to be members of the Corps of Cadets while at A&M and those choosing to join the civilian ranks.

Those choosing to join the Corps will remain in Guion Hall for talks by Cadet Col. Jack H. Lunsford, Corps Commander; Lt. Col. Taylor Wilkins, assistant commandant and Col. Davis.

Those students who do not choose ROTC will meet in the Ball Room of the MSC where B. A. Zinn, head of the Student Affairs Department will preside.

These meetings will last until 11:45 a.m.

Monday afternoon will be spent in two groups, civilian and Corps, for talks by civilian counselors and unit commanders, respectively.

The Grove will be the site of another General Assembly at 7 p.m. where a talk will be given by Dean Robert B. Kamm, Dean of Basic Division and Student Personnel Services. The Executive Committee will be introduced to the group. Walter Jenkins, Choir Director, First Methodist Church in Houston will be in charge of entertainment.

Tuesday, Sept. 11

All students will meet in Guion Hall to learn about the Basic Division and how it works to help the new student.

At 10 a.m. unit meetings will be held for civilian and Corps students separately where discussions of academic requirements will be held.

In the afternoon unit meetings for the two groups will be held with the Cadets learning about uniform regulations and civilians hearing talks on Aggie traditions, elections and student government.

At 3:30 p.m. all veteran students will meet in the Ball Room of the MSC with B. A. Zinn, veterans' advisor.

Extra-curricula activities at A&M will be discussed at the General Assembly in The Grove at 7 p.m. W. L. Penberthy, head of the Student Activities Department will preside and a Yell Practice will be held under the direction of William H. Dorsey, head yell leader.

Wednesday, Sept. 12

Gathering for a General Assembly in Guion Hall at 8 a.m. students will attend separate assemblies to be held during the day for the purpose of receiving general information concerning his respective major field of study.

At 1 p.m. an assembly will be held in the Ball Room of the MSC for those students who attended summer sessions.

Local churches will arrange special entertainment and services for interested students beginning at 7 p.m.

There will be no Grove assembly Wednesday night.

Thursday, Sept. 13

During morning sessions Richard M. Wall, president of the MSC Council will speak on "Getting Off to a Good Start" and Dr. C. R. Lyons of the College Hospital will talk on "An Apple A Day."

Remainder of the day will be spent in group and individual meetings with basic division staff members.

Toward the end of the day unit commanders, for those students in the Corps, and Breazeale, for civilian students, will give hints on registering.

No assembly in The Grove tonight.

Friday, Sept. 14

Registration for New Students will begin at 8 a.m. in Sbis Hall. Students with previous college credit and those with irregular problems will register during the afternoon.

Students transferring more than 15 semester hours credit to A&M will register with upperclassmen Saturday morning.

Saturday, Sept. 15

Registration for all returning students will begin at 8 a.m. at Sbis Mess Hall.

Sunday, Sept. 16

Church Services will be held at all churches at the Gate and in the city of College Station. College officials recommend new students should be back on the campus in order to attend class Monday morning.

Monday, Sept. 17
