Tigers Meet Cleveland Tomorrow Night at 8

By MAURICE OLIAN
 With a possibility of having three freshmen in the starting line-up, the A&M Consolidated Tigers travel to Cleveland tomorrow night to blast the lid off the 1956 football season. Game time is 8 P.M.

CHS has had one bit of actual competition already this season, having scrimmaged Hearne's Eagles last Thursday night on the latter's home gridiron. The Tigers "held their own" against the Eagles offensively, but the hosts looked better on defense than did the College Station aggregation.

The fact that all of the Consolidated troops came out of that session with no injuries must have been especially pleasing to Head Coach Horace Schaffer and Backfield Coach Ed Logan after a couple of their regulars were injured in practice last week. In a pair of freak accidents, quarterback Edgar Feldman received a cracked bone in his foot while running backfield plays and tackle Jimmy Murphrey suffered a shoulder injury in a line drill.

Feldman will be out for three more weeks, and Murphrey will not see action for at least six more weeks and may be out for the entire season.

Coach Schaffer said that John Wayne Todd, 150, sophomore, and Dee Smith, 135, freshman, will see plenty of service in the backfield in the Cleveland fracas.

Co-captains for the Tigers for tomorrow night, as will be the case in every one of their games this year, are to be Andrews and Hall. They are the only two senior letterman on the squad.

Not meaning much towards the opening battle but perhaps very important for future CHS success is the "B" team being planned by Coach Schaffer. He said that chances for Consolidated's first such team being formed this year are extremely good, as a total of twenty prospective gridders met with him yesterday to discuss that matter.

Consolidated's managers as is true on most teams, usually do their work without many people knowing about it. For the Tigers this season, John Harrington will be head manager, with Jimmy Walton and George Spurger serving as assistants.

Head Yell Leader Ann Hite has announced that a picnic supper and yell practice will be held at Hensel Park tonight at 6 P.M. for all CHS students as well as anyone else interested in the fortunes of the local gridders. Ann, along with the other yell leaders—Lucy Rogers, Carolyn Wilson, and Jeanette Vance—will try to help the Tigers get in top shape mentally for tomorrow's clash.

ONE OF A&M'S "HOLY" STREETS—Scheduled for early repair, this scene is typical of the condition found when traveling down Nagle St. which runs beside the A&M Press Building down by the Shack Area. Now in axle-breaking condition the street is shown being traveled by a wise man—on foot.
