Band To Share Half With Reagan Girls

The Fighting Texas Aggie Band will be honored with some feminine assistance at halftime as the John Reagan Red Coats, girls' drill team from Houston add their talents in the first six and one-half minutes of the show at the Villanova game Saturday on Kyle Field. Arrangements were made by the Athletic Department for the girls to perform since Villanova will not bring their band.

Police School Ends Sept. 28

The 16th annual Texas Municipal Police School ends Sept. 28, for 14 police officers who are attending. The school started Sept. 3. During the period police are receiving instruction in latest crime detection techniques, public relations, handling racial tension problems and constitutional and state law. Other Texas officers are instructors.

The Engineering Extension Service Police Training Department is sponsor of the school.

In addition to the regular study the police "students" are to tour the Huntsville Prison and the Department of Public Safety.

Attending the school are Barney Blount and Windell Smith of Corpus Christi; Johnny Cawyer and D. R. Meharg of Wichita Falls; B. C. Dominguez, N. O. Wuertenburg, E. G. Zuniga and George C. James of San Angelo; Larry Evans of College Station; A. J. Fowler of Levelland; J. W. Jolly of Littlefield; H. O. Lauste of Harlingen; J. M. Payton of Pharr and Donald Stanley of Bryan.

Future Farmers To Meet Monday

The A&M Consolidated High School chapter of the Future Farmers of America held their first meeting of the school year Monday night, according to Donald Barker, president.

Alton Arnold was elected sentinel to complete the slate of officers elected last spring. Barker also appointed committees for the year.

Officers of the chapter, which has 25 members, are Barker; Arnold; Edgar Feldman, vice president; Michael Walton, secretary; James Arnold, treasurer; and Keith Kidwell, reporter. James House is sponsor of the club.

tive performance by the Aggie Band, according to Lt. Col. E. V. Adams, band director. The band will execute continuous, double-delayed and single delayed counter-marches, but will not end the performance with the trademark of the band, the marching "T" due to only five days practice with the 119 freshmen in the band, he said.

Villanova will be saluted during the program by spelling out their name. Then, switching to spell out "AMC" the band will salute A&M.

The Aggie Band boasts 272 men on its roster, but as last year, it will have only a 240-piece marching band.

Leading the band as head drum major is Gary December from San Antonio. Drum major for the Maroon Band is Jerry Cloud from Weslaco while John M. Cornwall from Dallas will lead the White Band.

Band commanding officer is Cyrus H. Holley of Taft and commanding officers of the Maroon and White Band are Murray Denton of Lockhart and Charles W. Rasco of DeWitt, Ark.

Picture Enlarger On Way For Batt

Contract for leasing a more versatile engraving machine was authorized this week by the Student Publications Board.

The Scan-A-Sizer has two screens, one for newspapers and one for magazines, and will enlarge and reduce photographs. It will produce a plastic engraving as large as 18" x 22 1/2".

Largest engraving possible on the present Fairchild equipment is three columns wide and photographs which are the "wrong" size must be used as is or rephotographed.

Jim Bower, editor of The Battalion, said the new equipment will result in a marked improvement in the reproduction photography of The Battalion.

"Whenever we receive an 8" x 10" photograph too late for rephotographing we have to play the picture at least two columns wide. Other pictures are often too small and must be printed too small," Bower said.

In February, when the new equipment is expected to arrive, The Battalion and the four magazines will be able to use any size photograph and will be able to "edit" or "crop" to get the most out of each picture.

HEADACHE—Above is the best sign of the week displayed by "A" Chemical. Second place honors went to "A" Athletics and Squadron 24 while "B" Field Artillery won third place.

Rotary Club Offers Study Abroad To Local Students

Students from Bryan and College Station schools have opportunity to compete for a year of study abroad. The contest is for a fellowship offered by the Bryan-College Station Rotary Club, according to Dr. Joe Cox, president.

The Rotary fellowship is offered to students who meet certain requirements. To qualify, a student must be between 20 and 29 years old and either have a degree or be a high school senior. He must rate high scholastically and know the language of the country in which he decides to study.

"The applicants must also win friends easily, be interested in world affairs and possess leadership qualities," Dr. Cox said.

He said selections are made without regard to race, creed or color.

The selected applicant will compete with winners from 28 other clubs in Southwest Texas.

The fellowship is for $2,500. It was established in 1947 in memory of Rotary founder Paul Harris. Fellowships have been awarded to 827 men and women from 61 countries in Europe, Asia, South and North America, Africa and islands in the Pacific.

Applicants in Bryan and College Station may contact Dr. Cox or J. J. Woolket of College Station.

Dulles Asks 18 Nations To Share Suez Control

Presents Six Point Plan To London Conference

LONDON, (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles asked 18 nations yesterday to press Egypt for a share in control of Suez Canal traffic. He plainly indicated the canal might be boycotted if Egypt refused to cooperate.

Dulles added an emphatic warning that an eventual Suez solution must conform with justice and law as well as with peace.

Five of the countries at the conference balked at the Dulles outline of the project.

He characterized the canal dispute as a test case of the world's ability to deal with its problems.

"If there is no substitute for force in achieving just solutions the world will relapse into chaos," he said.

This is the six-point Western Big Three plan presented by Secretary of State Dulles to the London Suez conference yesterday.

1. The 18 conferring nations should band together until an acceptable settlement is reached with Egypt.

2. The 18 should stick to their proposals for international control of the canal as the basis of a final settlement.

3. The 18 should create an operating staff to coordinate with Egypt on the pattern of canal traffic. The staff, headed by a maritime expert and including pilots, would guide the ships of member nations through Suez, collect dues and share the income with Egypt. The expert, as administrative agent of the 18, could supervise detouring ships around South Africa if it is decided to bypass the canal.

4. A small governing board should be set up to develop long-term alternatives to the Suez Canal-including the use of big tankers which would sail around the cape and the construction of new oil pipelines to Mediterranean terminals, if necessary.

5. A modest working fund should be created.

6. Membership of the association would bind no country to wider obligations - such as, presumably, joining in measures against Egypt if Egypt refuses to cooperate.

While Dulles was speaking in London, the Soviet Union came out for a six-nation Suez negotiation conference composed of the United States, Britain, France, the Soviet Union, Egypt and India.

In Cairo, Egypt's President Nasser summoned his Cabinet to a special night meeting on the dispute. Before the Egyptians presumably was Dulles' London outline of the users' association plan. Nasser already has rejected it as illegal and a danger to world peace.

Texas Teacher Shortage Gets Video Program

The first of a series of programs designed to meet the challenge of teacher shortage in Texas, will get under way Sunday, Grady Parker, head, Department of Education and Psychology, at Texas A&M, said today.

KPRC-TV, Channel 2, Houston, will telecast the program from 12 noon to 12:30 p.m. The second of the series will begin Feb. 3.

J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education, has announced the appointment of a Southeast Texas area committee to work with the Texas Education Agency on the recruitment and teacher education by television project, designed to qualify bachelor degree holders, lacking professional requirements, for teaching through an accelerated teacher education program. Enrollment in the television education program will make the degree holder eligible for employment on an emergency teacher's permit.

"Students wives with bachelor degrees may be interested in completing this program and receive a permit to teach which will be good for three years after completion of the program, Dr. Parker says. "Potential teachers may be housewives, persons, desirous of changing careers and persons who earlier turned thumbs down on a professional career but would now like to enter a profession such as teaching, as well as student wives," he declared.

Any person interested, may contact Dr. Parker at 5 p.m., Friday, Sept. 21, in room 102 of the Academic building.

Magazines Being Sold At Discount

A&M chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, is selling subscriptions to Time, Life and Sports Illustrated magazines to raise funds to carry out chapter plans this year.

The group is conducting the sales on a room to room basis and plans to cover all dormitories.

President David McReynolds says his group has an attractive discount for students.

Life and Sports Illustrated rates are eight cents a copy on a yearly basis. Time subscription rate is six cents an issue.

Another feature is the "buy now and pay later" plan. Subscribers will be billed after they begin receiving issues, says McReynolds.

He says funds will be for sending the chapter's delegates to the state and national SDX conventions.

A booth for selling subscriptions is in the Battalion office. Interested persons may call at the booth for subscription information, McReynolds says.

Extension Service Adds B.M. Hackney

B. M. Hackney, former district supervisor of vocational industrial education for the Texas Education Agency, has joined the Engineering Extension Service, at A&M as a teacher-trainer for the EES.

In his new post, Hackney will provide instruction to vocational industrial teachers over the state. He is replacing M. D. Darrow, who has assumed new duties as an instructional material and visual aids specialist for the EES.

Hackney is a graduate of the class of '40 at Baylor University, Waco, having majored in business administration. He also completed graduate work at A&M.

He is a Mason, Shriner and a member of the Fort Worth Chapter of the American Society of Training Directors. Hackney is affiliated with the Iota Lambda Sigma, a national education fraternity, and the Texas Vocational Association and the American Vocational Association.

Tonight At 8

Aggies Hit Rodeo Trail

By DAVE McREYNOLDS
Battalion Managing Editor

The Texas Aggies are again on the rodeo trail raising the curtain on the fall semester and the first football weekend with the 35th Annual All-Aggie Rodeo tonight at 8.

Sponsored by the Saddle and Sirlion Club to finance judging team trips this year 45 contestants will be vying for All-Around Cowboy honors and its prize of an Aggie Blanket given by the Exchange Store.

Wayne Ward won this honor last year. Runner-up cowboy will be presented with a Western Hat given by Whitten Hat Shop in Bryan.

Trophy buckles will be awarded to winners in each of the following events—bull-riding; bare-back bronc riding; tie-down roping; ribbon-roping and bull-dogging. These awards are made possible by Shaffers Book Store; L. White Saddlery in Fort Worth; Aggie Land Grill and Cooley's Conoco Station.

Between-the-acts humor will be provided by Tom Montgomery and Royce Hudson who will clown the rodeo. These boys, both of which are members of the professional Rodeo Cowboys Ass'n. are no strangers to the Aggie Rodeo Arena. Without the services of the clown no rodeo would be complete.

Providing soft-talk and ad-libs will be Don Bisett, who will do announcing honors for the three performances scheduled for tonight, Friday and Saturday nights.

E. A. Sladek, of La Grange, Tex., will furnish stock which is to be used in the three performances. A former student at A&M and no stranger to the arena Sladek worked as a professional rodeo cowboy during the 1940's.

Arena Director for the rodeo will be James Dickey and Cullen Robinson and Billy Hanover will serve as pick-up men. Other officials were not known as the paper went to press.

Ticket prices for the three performances are $1 for adults and 60 cents (at the gate) for students; pre-sale student tickets are 50 cents each.

Tickets may be purchased at Loupot's, Cooley's Conoco Station, 12th Man Inn, Aggie Land Grill, Shaffers' Book Store and in Bryan at Grubbs' Feeds, Guarantee Store and Vincents' Service Station on College Avenue.

'Trial' Casting Completed By Aggies Players

Jack Gladwell has been selected by director Vic Weining to play the lead in Trial, Aggie Player production to be presented Nov. 5, 6 and 7 in the Memorial Student Center Ballroom.

Gladwell will lead a cast of 32 in the production to be presented in experimental theater on a series of six levels beginning on the Ballroom floor and extending back onto the stage.

Costuming will be done with expressionism, Weining said. Each costume will be representative of each individual character.

Women's parts in the three act drama will be handled by Iris Bullard, Robin James, Laura Lynch, Gene Logan, Jean Martin, Betsy Burchard, Amaryllus Roberts, Deloris Schoedel and Barbara Johnson.

Director Weining announced that the production has only been produced by one other college group in the United States. The play was written in French from Franz Kafka's novel of the same title. It was first presented on Broadway three years ago.

Shirley Cannon will assist Weining with the directing of the play. Shirley Prucell will handle the script.
