

Credit Where It's Due

History was made Saturday in Kyle Field. For the first time in 62 years, since the field was built, a Negro played there.

The crowd, the team and everyone connected with the game is to be complimented. There seemed to be no malice on the part of the A&M team and quite noticeably, there was no show of prejudice or intolerance from the stands.

Because of this, A&M will rise a little higher in the minds of many. One has only to think a little to recall the other many instances of narrow-mindedness occurring on other campuses across the country.

The Sugar Bowl has barred Negroes from playing there. And there are many cases of public schools and colleges cancelling games because the opposing team had Negro players.

A&M for many years has made headlines for the unsavory actions done here but Saturday's actions will go a long way toward showing the people of Texas the progress we are making.

Directors Accept Grants For System

The board of directors of A&M System, Saturday accepted $180,581.91 in grants-in-aid, fellowships, scholarships and gifts for the System.

Of the amount, $108,706.31 went to A&M College, with $96,725.71 of this sum earmarked for scholarships. Special gifts to the college amounted to $10,581.60 and two grants-in-aid totaling $1,400 were accepted. Scholarship funds came from 110 donors, including business firms, industrial organizations, clubs, foundations and individuals.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station received $44,290 in grants-in-aid for 28 research projects and gifts amounting to $2,360.61. In addition the it was loaned 2,500 barrels of rough rice for experiments at Beaumont and a registered bull for use at the Tyler station.

Prairie View A&M received $25,000 for renewal of the Mary Gibbs Jones Scholarships and one $125 scholarship to be used for an entering freshman.

Cool Pitch

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—The North Carolina Medical Society, nothing if not "cool", enlisted the aid of radio disc jockeys in a campaign to get teen-agers to "dig out" for some of that "crazy" polio vaccine. The society's suggested pitch: "Walk with Salk, so you can rock 'n' roll."

AN INVITATION—Golden haired Lila Jeanfreau of Texas City writes an invitation to attend the Golden Days Festival to be held in Galveston. A Miss Golden Days beauty contest and a Mr. Texas event will be held in conjunction with a water show.

Wier Criticizes Integration Plan

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Wier, D-Minn., said yesterday the counsel for a house investigation of Washington's school integration problems has given a "disgraceful performance" and should be suspended.

The target of Wier's criticism was William Gerber, counsel for a special House subcommittee now holding its second week of public hearings.

Wier outlined his complaint against Gerber in a telegram from Minneapolis to the House District of Columbia Committee, the subcommittee's parent body.

He said Gerber's "sole object seems to be to prove that integration has not worked and . . . to prevent it from working in the future."

Washington schools were integrated in the fall of 1954.

Wier, a member of the full committee but not of the subcommittee, said Gerber should be suspended pending a "review" of his role in the hearings.

Davis told newsmen the hearings would "of course" continue with Gerber as counsel. He said he felt Wier "has been grossly misinformed."

Beasley To Attend Security Seminar

Wallace D. Beasley, coordinator of police and plant protection training for the Engineering Extension Service, will attend the American Society for Industrial Security Seminar to be Oct. 2-3, in Washington, D. C.

Beasley will serve on the committee on professional criteria at the seminar.

Theme for the meet is "Security in the Electronics Age."

Center News

The first meeting of the MSC Directorate will be held today at 4 p. m. in the Birch Room.

Speechmasters Club will have their first meeting of the year tonight at 5:15. This will be one of two organizational meetings. Another meeting will be next Tuesday at the same time. Due to the success of Speechmasters last year there will be two clubs this year. All persons interested in joining are invited to attend and may pay $1 at the main desk for dinner.

Registration for dance classes will continue tonight after yell practice in the Assembly Room. Directorate assistants will meet in the Directorate office tonight after yell practice.

The first meeting of Junto is tonight after yell practice in room 3-B.
