

So Far, So Good

The annual Corps evaluation has been completed and judging by the reaction of college officials, the findings are encouraging.

Designed and administered with complete objectivity, the survey showed definite signs of growing maturity in the Corps. Unit commanders were frank in telling of violations in their units and were just as quick in giving their action taken to correct the situation.

On the whole, their decisions showed serious thought was being given and their responsibility was not taken lightly. So, it looks as if the Corps is off to a good start this year. If the attitude thus far maintained is continued, this year should be the most successful yet.

But, if suddenly relieved to find we are doing a good job, we relax to the point of becoming lazy and neglectful, we not only lose what we have so far, but slip back where it will take even longer to reach the level we are on now.

For the past two years, definite steps have been made to further the progress toward a more successful Corps. Now we seem closer than ever in reaching that goal. In order to continue this progress, we must continue to educate and set better and better examples for those who are to follow.

One of the primary duties of a leader is that he leaves a man not only as good, but preferably better than he, to take his place.

Boy Kills Step-Father For Beating Mother

FORT WORTH, Oct. 3 (AP)—A 12-year-old junior high school student last night fatally shot his step-father in their crowded Fort Worth trailer home, he admitted to police.

Billy Raney told detectives how he lay on the living room couch and pumped three .38 caliber bullets into his step-father, Robert Clark Ennis, 46.

Billy's mother, Mrs. Helen Ennis, 40, said she was lying on a bed in the rear of the trailer at the time.

Billy told officers he arrived home late last night after going to town. "I got home about dark and Dad, my step-father, was already home from work. He was drunk. At least I could tell he had been taking a few drinks."

The boy said his step-father was walking around the small house cursing his mother.

"I was tired of him beating us up like he had been doing all these years. I was in the back room studying and he came in there mumbering and hit me when I asked what he was saying."

"Mother turned on the radio and that made him mad," Billy said. "He got up and started hitting Mom with a mop."

Billy said he got the pistol from the living room.

"I know he was going to start beating Mom again," he said, "so I got on the couch on my stomach and held the gun in both hands."

All three bullets struck Ennis in the left chest.

Brink's Robbery Trial Will Go To Jury Saturday

BOSTON, (AP)—The $1,219,000 Brink's robbery trial probably will go to the jury Saturday morning—or possibly Friday night.

This became likely yesterday when the defense rested in the middle of the ninth week of trial in Suffolk Superior Court. In six days the defense put in alibi testimony for all of the eight defendants but one—Henry Baker, 50.

The defense said it has a number of motions to submit, and arguments on these may take Thursday morning.
