

Sam Zukero Elected President of CSC

Sam B. Zukero, senior civil engineering major from Simonton, was elected president of the 1956-57 Civilian Student Council last night.

Other officers elected at the initial meeting of the Council included Freddy Ryan, vice-president; Dick Crawford, secretary; Raymond Greene, treasurer and James (Cotton) Carnes as parliamentarian.

Civilian Chaplain is Bob Bacher, who was elected at the spring election last semester.

In other business at the meeting in the Press Club Library the Council voted to have their meeting scheduled for the second and fourth Thursday nights at 7:30 in the Senate Chamber of the MSC.

Bennie A. Zinn, Veterans' Advisor, will serve as sponsor for the civilian representatives this year.

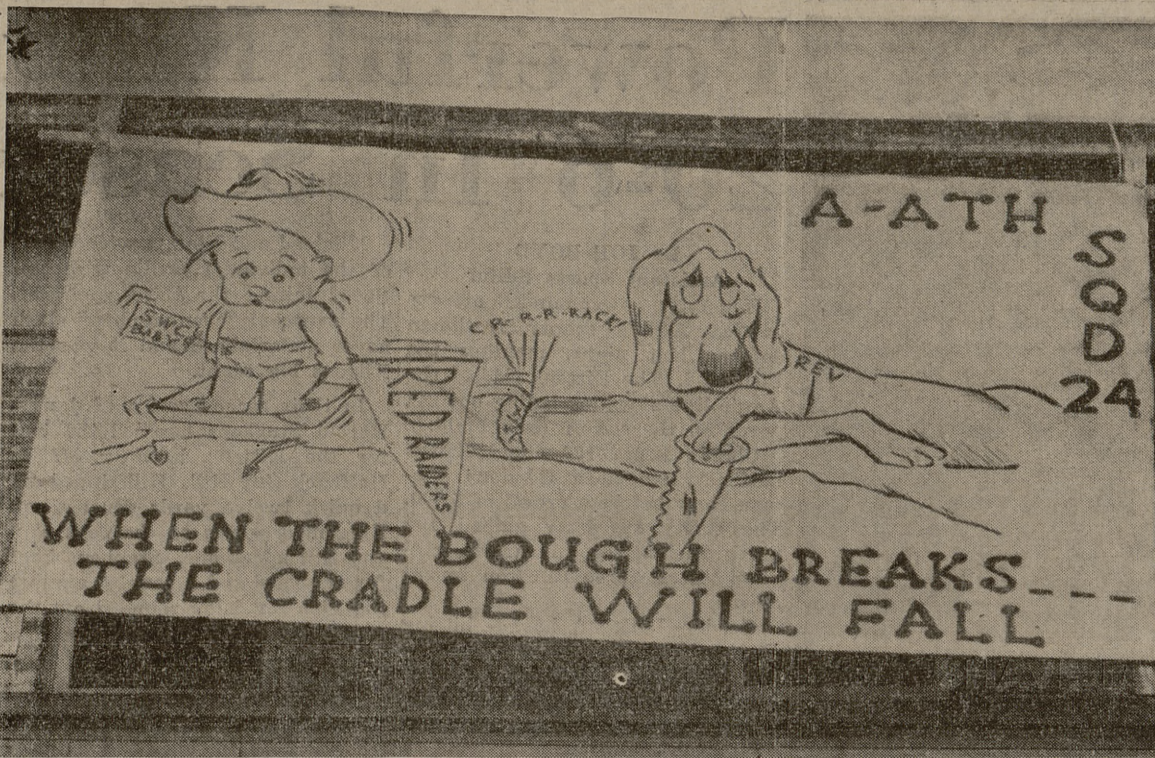

All positions to the Council are filled with the exception of a representative from the Day Students.

Yesterday's election resulted in a tie between Robert W. Hamilton, Jr. and Billy R. Bates. This vacancy will be decided in a run-off election to be held Wednesday in the Office of the Veteran's Advisor.

IE Club Chooses Newman President

The Industrial Education Club Tuesday elected officers to serve with president James G. Newman, elected last spring.

The officers are Byron King, vice-president; Alex Lord, secretary-treasurer; Harry Green, social chairman; Carl Livesay, program chairman; A. J. Kucera Jr., reporter; Pat Keer, parliamentarian; M. R. Morgan and Altn Oehler, membership chairmen; Charles Bradshaw and Ray Reid, financial chairmen.

Feed Study Pools Data

By LELAND BOYD
 Battalion News Editor

The Nutrition Conference closed this afternoon and about 250 men from the fields of animal feeding and feed manufacturing left with a "store-house" full of information compiled from colleges and experiment stations over the United States.

The program for today got under way at 7 a. m. with a press breakfast in the Memorial Student Center.

Newsmen from publications from all over Texas and several from other states were on hand to catch the latest in feeding practices, experiments and manufacture.

Topics covered today with quick once-over speeches included "More Efficient Meat Production from Feed Research" by Dr. J. C. Miller,

School of Agriculture Dean; "Competition for the Consumer Meat Dollar" by Jerry Sotola with Armour and Company public relation department; "Nutrition of the Brood Sow and the Baby Pig" by L. E. Hanson of the University of Minnesota Animal Husbandry Department.

Others were "Veterinary Aspects of the Feed Industry" by Norris Erdheim of Dawe's Laboratories in Chicago, Ill.; "Systemic Animal Insecticides" by G. L. Crenshaw of Midland, Michigan; and "The Effect of Milk Products on Broiler Eating Quality" by S. M. Weisberg of the National Dairy Research Laboratories in New York.

The afternoon session today included the study of antioxidants and vitamin E in animal nutrition, reducing poultry feed costs by the use of separate ration for males and females, phosphorus supplements for cattle and sheep, Cornell University's study of unidentified growth factors in chicks and poults.

The speeches were liberally illustrated with film slides and were given in highly technical lingo such as "O, 0 1 - 2, 4, 5 - Trichlorophenyl phosphorothioate has been demonstrated to have marked activity against the larval stages of the cattle grubs, Hypoderma species."

Two TV Antennas Hit In Lightning Storm

Lightning struck two television antennas on Kyle Street at 3:30 yesterday when the rainstorm hit College Station.

The TV antenna on the home of Mrs. W. B. Bradley, 201 Kyle St., was bent over the roof of her house. There was no damage to the roof and no estimate of replacement cost to the antenna has been made.

Mrs. C. L. Turner, 319 Kyle St., also had her TV antenna doubled over the roof of her home. Also attributed to the wind storm was the uprooting of a steel clothes line pole embedded in concrete.
