

Masterful Aggies Crush Hapless Tech 40-7 Before 26,000 in Cotton Bowl

Kittens in Hearne Tonight

Consolidated's Kittens open non-district grid activity at 7:30 tonight in Hearne. District standings for the Kittens stand at 1-2. Condy Pugh will start at full-back for CHS, weighing 135. Russell Welch is slated for quarterback duty. Welch weighs 104. Joe Olian, 95, is starting at left halfback and Cyril Burke, 112, is first choice for right half. Other starters are: Bobby Adams, 109, left end; Alex Quisenberry, 158, left tackle; Bob White, 109, left guard; Charles Roeber, 112, center; George Outlaw, 117, right guard; John Pedigo, 109, right tackle; and Jack Armistead, 117, right end.

Starting for the defense will be Howard Mayhugh, 120-pound tackle, Fred Wright, 136-pound tackle, and Ronnie Rea, 125-pound halfback.

Not unlike a hurricane smashing against the coast with all the fury of the sea itself, A&M swept through the Cotton Bowl Saturday night blowing the unprotected Red Raiders back into West Texas.

The score was 40-7 and it could have been worse. The awe-inspiring Aggies struck before the crowd of 26,000 got settled in their seats, capitalizing on Tech's first mistake with only 5:45 gone in the first period and the slaughter was on.

Ironically, Tech's Ronnie Herr turned in the longest run of the evening on the opening kickoff, returning Bobby Conrad's boot 45 yards to the A&M 46, one of the four times the Lubbock bunch managed to punch into Cadet territory.

As powerful as the Aggie scoring machine was Saturday, the adjectives must go to A&M's un-penetrable defense—with "superb" coming the closest. With guards Jim Langston and Jim Stanley making the middle next to impossible to navigate through, and Bobby Keith, John Tracey, Bebes Stallings and Bobby Marks turning down everything that came their way at end, the Aggies held Tech to but four first downs, only one of which came in the first 30 minutes. The Red Raiders could find only 62 yards on the ground, with another 89 coming via the air ways.

Jack Pardee led the Aggie rushers with 90 yards in 14 tries to push into the number three spot in SWC ground gainers. Pardee has moved for 198 yards in 37 carries for a 5.4 average. For the night A&M rushed 354 yards and gained 55 more through the air. Roddy Osborne sliced for 52 yards and Ken Hall, looking more like the runner he's supposed to be, picked up 50 more.

After an exchange of punts gave the Red Raiders the ball on their own 26, Herr fumbled on the first play and Stallings recovered for A&M on Tech's 13. Pardee plunged for one and Jimmy Wright's pass to Don Watson fell incomplete. John Crow burst through the middle untouched for 12 yards and the touchdown with 9:15 left in the first quarter. Loyd Taylor, out with a shoulder injury, came in to convert and made it 7-0.

Quarterback Don Williams returned Conrad's kick to the 29 and, after three plays had gained seven yards, punted 14 yards out of bounds at the midfield stripe. Conrad, running at quarterback, kept for three and Hall got seven and a first down. Hall broke past the startled Tech linebackers for 26 yards on first and 10 to the 14, where Conrad kept again to the four. Conrad made the Raiders look bad with a good fake and a bootleg into the end zone on first down with not a Tech man within 10 yards for the second score. The clock read 4:27 remaining. Ed Dudley made it 14-0 and Aggie fans were going wild.

The Red Raiders couldn't move after the kickoff and A&M had picked up two firsts to the Tech 43 when Jimmie Knox swiped Wright's pass. The break was short-lived, however, as Williams dropped the snap from center on a punt attempt and the Aggies took over on the 10. One play did it with Watson making an almost impossible catch of Wright's pass for the six-pointer. Taylor kicked good and the score read 21-0. 12:42 remained in the half, but that was all for a while.

The Red Raiders kicked off to open the second half, 11 plays later, the Aggies had scored again, moving 84 yards in 5:14. Pardee got 32 of those yards as did Crow with (See AGGIES, Page 4)

LIFE INSURANCE FOR PILOTS

And All Other Flying Personnel

Under a new Federal law, there is no more Government life insurance for persons entering the Armed Forces after January 1, 1957. Neither on a free nor a pay-for basis. . . . Many insurance companies will insure military GROUND forces at standard rates—so will we. There has been a rather universal rule, though, that fliers have to pay considerably more for their life insurance than do the strictly mundane creatures who keep their feet on terra firma. One of the reliable life insurance companies which I represent has found, based on several years of experience with all types of military personnel, however, that it can insure pilots and student pilots AT STANDARD RATES and still make a profit for its stockholders. The company does make this reservation—since military flying is recognized in insurance circles as being an extra hazard, and particularly so during the training period: If the insured pilot is killed in an aircraft accident before his age 26, then the amount payable to his beneficiary is only one-half the face amount of the policy. If killed after age 26, the policy pays off in full. . . . All flying personnel, other than pilots, are insured at standard premium rates, with full payment in event of death at any age, any cause (excepting suicide in the first two years). . . . With flight training now for ROTC students at A&M, we know that many of them will want life insurance that will cover them throughout their flying career. They can buy the very low premium Ordinary Life, or 20 Pay Life, or other plans through my office at standard premium rates, AND MAKE THEIR PREMIUM PAYMENTS OUT OF THEIR ROTC CONTRACT CHECKS EVERY THREE MONTHS. Premiums run as low as $3.00 per month, depending on how much insurance the student wishes to have—and can afford. . . . Call EUGENE RUSH at VI 6-5006 or VI 6-5556 for an appointment to talk the matter over, or come by his office above A & M Photo Shop at the North Gate, College. No obligation to buy.
