Construction Of Buildings Progressing As Scheduled

Building construction on the A&M campus is proceeding at scheduled rates, but still is in the outside work stage on most building, according to C. D. Wells, college contract engineer.

Work on the inside of the new Creamery has started. The building, south of the animal pavilion, is to house processing facilities for A&M dairy's milk and laboratories for dairy manufacturing classes.

Masonry is going up on the outside of the Biochemistry and Dairy Building, under construction adjacent to the Creamery, Wells says.

The three story building, costing a million plus a few odd thousand dollars, will be used for classes and also house research and laboratory equipment.

Contract for the Creamery and Biochemistry and Dairy Building calls for completion in 300 working days, Wells says. This means the building itself will probably be finished about August or September, 1957.

But Wells pointed out that laboratory equipment would be installed after the construction is completed, and often is a time-consuming process. Some of the laboratory equipment is being tailor-made and the contractor has started building part of it, Wells said.

King, Adair Named to Head Cadet Courts

Cadet Col. Byron W. King, Air Force, has been named president of Cadet Court 'A' and Cadet Col. Thomas W. Adair III, Army, has been named president of Cadet Court 'B' according to Lt. Col. Taylor Wilkins, assistant commandant.

The Interfaith Chapel, under construction at the corner of Jones and Houston Streets, is about one-third completed.

The contract for the building, made possible by the Former Students Association, calls for 250 working days. The contractor has completed the 95th working day, leaving 155 working days, Wells says.

The roof over the auditorium is nearly finished, and about a ten-foot section has been laid on the wing.

Something new in roofing materials at A&M is being used on the Chapel, Wells says.

It is copper sheeting, being water-tight seal, Wells says. Once installed, it will last a long time, he says.

At other colleges of the A&M

System, several buildings have been completed and others in the process of being built or starting construction.

Students at Tarleton State College in Stephenville have started using a recently completed $360,000 library. The building is air-conditioned and uses the open shelf system whereby students select books from the racks. Tables are scattered among the racks for studying convenience.

The library has added a supply of foreign language records and has two sound proof rooms for language classes. The two-story building has a sound system and an intercommunication system that can allow students to "sit in" on classes held in the sound proof rooms from the reading room of the library.

Wells said yesterday he had received an invitation from Tarleton President E. J. Howell to attend the dedication for the library November 9.

At Arlington State College, the college cafeteria has moved into new quarters at the opening of this semester. The cafeteria was added to the student center and has air conditioning, two serving lines and new kitchen equipment. The cafeteria seats 600 persons.

Construction contract for a 150 coed dormitory was awarded last week. The building will have ducts installed in case the college decides to add the air conditioning system later.

A bath will be constructed for each two rooms. Cost of the coed dormitory is $404,000.

At Prairie View construction started this week on a home economics building. The building will cost $344,000.

30 Chinese Workers Killed In Hong Kong Communist Riots

3 Million Spent On Buildings In Past 5 Years

Over three million dollars worth of building has taken place in the city of College Station since Jan. 1, 1952, according to a report issued by City Manager Ran Boswell. The first year of this period was the busiest, according to the report. $574,050 was spent on 89 private residences; $572,500 on 57 duplexes; and $5,500 on one non-residential (business) for a total of $1,152,050.

Highest year for residences was 1955, when $636,840 was spent on 71 homes. Most spent on duplexes was in 1952 and the most on four-unit apartments was in the first nine months of this year when $72,000 was spent on six such buildings. This year has also been the busiest for non-residences, with $165,655 spent on three businesses and one school.

The total for the four and three-fourths period was $3,482,308 on 272 residences, 83 duplexes, seven four-unit apartments and 15 non-residences.

Police Report Tickets Issued During Week

College Station police had a busy week as they handed out almost 100 parking tickets. Fewer moving violations were reported with only seven tickets issued.

Four tickets were issued for speeding, two for stop sign violations and one for driving with no operator's license.

Forty-two parking tickets were given for over-parking, 45 for parking in restricted zones, five for parking on the wrong side of the street and one for a double-parked car.

College Station police also investigated one minor traffic accident involving a car and a motor scooter. The collision occurred at 7:55 a. m. Monday at the intersection of Farm Road 60 and College Main. Driver of the scooter suffered minor bruises. Damage was estimated at $13.

Bumper Ad

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Bumper advertising reached a peak of some sort here. Familiar old standbys are bumper strips pleading "Little Rock Needs a Drag Strip" and "North Little Rock Needs a New Hospital." Added to those, on a car in this city on the Arkansas River, was: "Little Rock Needs a Submarine Base."

Police And Mob Fighting Kills 14 More In Village

HONG KONG—(AP)—Thirty workers were killed in hand-to-hand battle between Communist Chinese and anti-Communist Chinese in Hong Kong's mainland factory village of Tsun Wan, the government announced today.

Frenzied fighting between Chinese mobs and police claimed at least 14 other lives. The two-day death toll in rioting was set at 44 in an announcement by acting Gov. E. B. David.

Officials said the worst of Hong Kong's rioting shifted last night to Tsun Wan, known also as "Little Shanghai." It is in the so-called New Territories under Hong-Kong control.

Council Aims To Improve Civilian Work

Improvement of the Civilian student program at A&M was voiced as the aim of this year's Civilian Student Council at their first business meeting held last night in the MSC.

After an invocation by Bob Bacher, Civilian Chaplain, Sam Zukero, president of the council, called upon B. A. Zinn, head of the Student Affairs Department, to outline responsibilities of the council.

Explaining his presence at the meetings, Zinn said that he would act strictly in an advisory capacity to help when college policy is to be interpreted and when his advice was asked.

A short discussion on the method of providing ample men for ushers at the home football games followed. It was decided a minimum of 22 persons should be contacted to work at the games and these persons would be picked, two from each civilian dormitory or area.

Zukero outlined responsibilities of standing committees which will be named at the next Council meeting and reminded members to be thinking of plans for this year's bonfire and other activities.

Band Boosters Sell Events Calendar

The A&M Consolidated Band Boosters club is sponsoring the sale of community birthday and special events calendars to raise funds for the purchase of additional band uniforms and equipment, according to Mrs. J. H. Quisenberry, president.

Listing on the calendar will cost 25 cents each and the calendars themselves will sell for 75 cents. Listings should be filed before Oct. 25th, Mrs. Quisenberry said. The calendars will be for 1957.

Weather Today

Partly cloudy for most of the day with possible light showers late in the day. Temperature at 10:30 a.m. was 81 degrees. Yesterday's high and low were 91 and 65 degrees.

Water Under the Bridge

Wednesday's Battalion printed a paragraph referring to a remark made by an Air Force instructor saying Civilian students were second rate Aggies.

A pessimist would predict this carelessly mentioned remark would seriously damage the relationship between Civilian students and the Corps.

But that is purely a pessimistic outlook. Those of us on this campus know it takes much more than any one statement to split a bond of spirit that has prevailed for more years than we have lived.

Certain Air Force officials have expressed concern over the incident and rightly so. For that remark cast a shadow over all of them.

It certainly didn't do much to further the cause of harmony but at the same time, it is very probable the officer involved surely must feel regretful.

He said it and aroused deep feelings on the part of those he was referring to and it is most probable that the aroused and offended pride voiced back to him has shown him how wrong he was.

Regardless of how we feel toward this man or what he said, his remark proves we still have more to do in cementing the good relationship between Corps and Civilians.

In the past few years we have come a long way toward the ideal Corps-Civilian relationship. Surely this incident won't destroy all present and future goals.

Aggie Band Will Use New Twist On 'T'

The Texas Aggie Band will highlight their show at the University of Houston game with a new twist on the Aggie marching "T", according to Lt. Col. E. V. Adams, director.

Instead of the usual method of forming the "T", it will be formed so that it will face the stands on one side of the field and after a countermarch face the other side.

The University of Houston will be saluted by the band as it spells out "Cougar" across the field.

In addition to the above maneuvers the band will execute a folding entrance and brighten the show by doing a double split in which two columns of six will fold back into formation with the minstrel turn, Adams said.

The band will perform in Rice Stadium in Houston before an estimated crowd of 60,000.

Pedestrian Injured By Car Thursday

Freshman Calvin W. Hines of San Antonio last night was treated in the College Hospital for injuries received in a pedestrian-auto accident near Lamar and Throckmorton Street intersection at 7:30 p. m.

His doctor said Hines, member of A infantry, received a bad foot sprain. He said the foot was bent back when the bumper of the car caught Hines' leg.

Campus Police say Jerry B. McLeod was driver of the car.

McLeod told officers he was returning from yell practice when the accident occurred.

Hines remained in the Hospital last night and was released this morning.

Hurley Poem Wins

Charles Lee Hurley of the English Department won first prize for his poem "The Plaza" in the recent Poetry Society of Texas Contest. Hurley's poem, which received the Critic's Award, will be published in the yearbook of the poetry group.

Popular Dance Band Here For TCU Game

Ralph Marterie, leader of the most popular dance band in America's colleges according to a Down Beat magazine poll, will play for the All College Dance on Oct. 20.

Besides playing for the dance, the band will give a concert in Guion Hall. Ralph Marterie's band has had more hit records than any other dance band in America today. In addition to this recognition, Marterie boasts the distinction of being selected as the Headline band for 1955 by Billboard magazine and as America's No. 1 Band by Cash Box magazine.

The ink was hardly dry on Marterie's Mercury Records contract when he burst loose with a version of "Pretend" that overnight made his name nationally known. Soon after that came "Caravan" followed by a disc called "Crazy, Man, Crazy"—all of which sold enough copies to zoom into the hallowed hit class. To top those hits off, he made another hit out of "Skokiaan."

Marterie's record career began in 1949 when he was leader of the featured orchestra of the ABC network. About that time, Mercury Records was looking for a band with a fresh slant to star on long-playing recordings. The vice-president of Mercury heard some sides that Marterie had cut with a studio crew, was so impressed that he immediately began waxing the Marterie sound.

The famous dance band will play all different types of music popular today and are expected to bring some featured entertainers with them.
