Astronomy Club Members Form Satellite Observatory

By LELAND BOYD
 Battalion News Editor

The Astronomy Club last night took first steps in forming a post to observe artificial satellites to be launched by the United States during the 1957 Geophysical Year.

Official title of the post is the "Moon Watchers". The observers will be observing moons, but artificial moons whizzing around the globe every hour and a half.

The group has invited everybody interested to join the satellite tracing.

Dan Purrington, president of the Astronomy Club, says a person does not need to have any particular scientific knowledge. All a person needs to qualify is interest in taking part in the observing and be dependable when called on to scan the sky for the satellite.

Purpose of the post is to aid scientists in charge of the satellite project to chart an orbit for the "moon" after it is launched, Purrington says.

Then observers will track the satellite as it circles Earth from 200 miles to 800 miles in the stratosphere.

The group last night discussed four problems in getting the post set up for official recognition.

Purrington told the group they first needed a minimum 30 persons to act as observers. He says eight observers had signed up before last night's meeting. Several others signed up after the meeting.

Other needs include telescopes, a location for the post, a timing apparatus and tape recorder and a communication system.

Purrington appointed Bill Thurman, David Jones, and Jim Arnold to check availability of instruments. He said about 20 six to seven power telescopes with a 12 degree field are needed.

Bob Wimberly and Purrington will scout around for a proper location. They said an open area with proper lighting effects are needed. The location must also have a known latitude and longitude for the group's use but the group is ready to survey for the location if it needs to, Purrington said.

Don Arnold, president of the A&M Ham Radio Operators Club, also a member of the astronomers said he would try to get Ham operators for communicating findings of the observers to the "Moon Watch" headquarters at Smithsonian Astrophysics Observatory in Cambridge, Mass.

In charge of solving the timing problem are Michael Gill and Peter Schaar.

Col. A. L. Etheredge of Bryan Air Force Base told the group he would publicize the group's activities at the base and help in getting persons to take part in the post. He suggested the group contact the base communications authorities for sending information to headquarters.

The group decided to meet November 13 for committee organizing.

vest, thus bringing apples, nuts and corn into the Halloween picture.

Christians called the day All Hallow's Eve or the Eve of All Saints. Then the bonfires served the double purpose of warding off evil spirits and lighting the way of the souls from purgatory.

Persons who left their homes to return to their homes in the dark supposedly were at the mercy of the evil spirits. They solved this problem by hollowing out pumpkins and turnips and placing lighted candles inside to frighten away the witches and goblins.

This was the birth of the Jack O'Lantern.

The custom of "tricks or treats" also can be traced to the Druids, who on the eve of Samhain went about the countryside demanding contributions for their god.

It is rumored that those who did not contribute wound up in the bonfire.

5. Strike out all other columns on the ballot.

EISENHOWER IS A BETTER DEMOCRAT THAN STEVENSON!

THIS IS A LEGAL BALLOT!

You are a free Texan . . . You can vote any way you like. Regardless of what you may have heard, it is perfectly legal to split your ticket if you want to, just as it is legal to vote the Democratic ticket straight, or the Republican ticket straight. The purpose of the ballot is to determine what the people want. And if you want to vote for Eisenhower and Nixon — then cast the rest of your ballot for the Democratic nominees — that is your privilege. Don't let anyone tell you otherwise! BY LAW YOUR VOTE MUST BE COUNTED.
